4 More File In Primary; Rush Begins

3 Local Men Enter For Council Seats; Deadline Set At 4

A steady stream of candidates rushed the County Election Board's office staff today with last-minute filings for May 7 primary ballot spots in seven cities and villages. The deadline falls at 4 p. m.

Four more East Liverpool candidates entered Tuesday afternoon and this morning, while others filed from several communities.

Primaries are scheduled in East Liverpool, Wellsville, East Palestine and Salem cities and Lisbon, Columbiana and Leetonia villages.

The new East Liverpool candidates include:

A. Stanley Kidder, 2112 Michigan Ave., a former councilman, for the Republican nomination for councilman-at-large.

Filing for Wellsville posts were:

Mayor William Daugherty, Democrat, seeking renomination; Mrs. Mary C. Rahter, Council president, also seeking renomination on the Democratic ticket, and Thomas F. Grafton, Republican, for city treasurer.

William E. Stockman, for mayor; George Snoke, clerk; Louise Gromley, treasurer; Kenneth E. Bell, Council, and Carl S. Keller, John J. Barrow and George E. Hermann, all for trustee of Board of Public Affairs.

Also entering from Columbiana were Tracy C. Powell, seeking Democratic nomination for the Board of Public Affairs.

Stephen Bozick, for the independent nomination for mayor of East Palestine, confirming an announcement Monday.

Kidder served as First Ward councilman in 1954-55 and as a member-at-large in 1958-59. He works in the finishing mills at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., where he has been employed 33 years.

Married, he is the father of a married daughter who resides in California. He is a member of Boyce Methodist Church, East Liverpool Masonic Lodge 681 and Odd Fellows Lodge 880. Past noble grand of the IOOF, he is serving his second term as financial secretary.

Price works in the construction department at Crucible, where he has been employed 12

Mild Weather At End With Cold Spell Seen

The temperature may soar near the 50-mark again today but it will start downward tonight and continue cold Thursday with snow flurries expected.

The city basked in the 50-degree temperature Tuesday afternoon for a high mark this winter. The Stratton Dam had the same high yesterday. The overnight low downtown was 26 at 6 a. m. and tonight's low range will also go below freezing with 22 to 28 expected. Scattered showers tonight will change to snow flurries.

Meanwhile, the Ohio River has only scattered ice remaining from the freeze-up of the recent subzero weather and attendants at Montgomery Island Dam at Ohioview and the Stratton Dam said the broken ice with cakes 5 to 7 inches thick is running out without trouble. The ice-locked Monongahela River began breaking up two days ago and ice is now running into the Ohio from the lower Allegheny. Gorges have caused trouble in the vicinity of Cincinnati but there were none locally.

Cars Meet Head-On On Icy Stretch Of West Point Road

County's 1963 Traffic Toll
2 Killed
This date in 1962—2 Killed!
SAFETY'S THE KEY IN '63

A 61-year-old Wellsville area coal business figure, formerly from Rogers, was fatally injured in a head - on crash on icy Route 30 between Lisbon and West Point Tuesday night in which three other men — all from Lisbon — were injured.

A city woman was hurt in a truck - auto collision on Dresden Ave. Ext. in another mishap last night.

Killed in the Route 30 accident was Sullie F. Miller of Wellsville R. D. 1, a coal lease speculator who recently moved from Rogers.

He was driver of a 1962 sedan which rammed head - on with a 1957 coach operated by Arthur Biscam, 34, of 321 Maple St., Lisbon, about 2.5 miles south of Lisbon at 9:50 p. m.

Biscam along with two passengers — Jerry McCord, 21, of 845 N. Market St. and Harold Kepner, 49, of 11 Alice Ave., Lisbon— were taken to Salem City Hospital.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Miller was headed east and Biscam west when the crash occurred. Officers, who continued investigation of the mishap today, said the roadway was icy in the area at the time. They said they did not have complete details of the crash late this morning.

Biscam suffered cuts of the scalp and a bruised arm, Kepner received cuts of the forehead, abrasions of the face and bruises

Fierce Storm Rips Channel In Carolina

NAGS HEAD, N.C. (AP)—A fierce winter storm which has endangered shipping and has eroded Atlantic Ocean beaches from Florida to North Carolina, cut the North Carolina Outer Banks in two again today.

The Cape Hatteras Coast Guard station reported that the storm had widened a channel through Hatteras Island on the Outer Banks, cut by storms of last spring and fall. Until the channel is filled, residents and vacationers will have to make long detours by ferry.

Although the storm lost strength during the night, upper air patterns at 6 a.m. indicated further intensification possible in the next 24 hours.

Army engineers and Outer Banks residents had dumped thousands of sandbags and 250 wrecked automobiles into the old channel cut. The 1,500-foot opening had been filled in to 100 feet before the new storm hit.

The Miami Weather Bureau said the storm center was estimated about 150 miles off the Georgia and South Carolina coasts.

Gale warnings were flying from Cape Canaveral, Fla., to Nags Head, where residents of the Outer Banks bolstered a battered shoreline with sandbags.

Rough seas and tides of one to four feet above normal were predicted during the day, with considerable beach erosion and minor flooding at high tide.

Ships in the area reported winds during the night were 35 to 40 miles an hour. Winds were considerably less along the coast.

Patrol Checks Crash

Ohio Highway patrolmen from Lisbon late this morning were investigating a traffic accident reported on Route 45 about a mile north of Wellsville. The post dispatcher said it is believed no one was injured.

West Virginia House Okays Redistricting

Bill Goes To Senate As Delegates Turn To Sales Tax Issue

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) —The House turned its attention to taxes and other matters today, now that the bitterly-contested legislative reapportionment bill has been passed and sent to a doubtful reception in the Senate.

Coming to the House floor today from its Finance Committee was the Senate - passed bill to make permanent the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the retail sales tax on sales above $1.

But the committee called for a June 30, 1964, cutoff on the increase, in line with Gov. Barron's original request for a one-year extension. The increase is now scheduled to die June 30 this year.

A bloc spearheaded by small-county delegates remained in control yesterday as the House passed the reapportionment bill 54-45. It would increase the number of senatorial districts from 16 to 23 and the number of state senators from 32 to 46. It also would raise total House membership from 100 to 106.

The bill retains the long - followed practice of giving every county at least one House seat to itself, no matter how small the population.

Del. J. E. Ned Watson, D-Marion, majority whip and chairman of the House Redistricting Committee, was a leader of an unsuccessful fight by urban delegates to group small - population counties into delegate districts, as provided in the State Constitution.

The leader of the other side in the floor fight, Del. Jack R. Nuzum, D-Randolph, said of the bill as passed:

"It is right, fair and in my opinion constitutional."

Thirty - nine Democrats and 15 Republicans voted for the bill, while 36 Democrats and 9 Republicans opposed it.

The plan would give three additional delegates to Kanawha County and one more each to Berkeley, Cabell, Hancock, Mercer, Ohio, and Wood counties. Losing one delegate each would be Fayette, Logan and McDowell counties.

Second Cumberland Councilman Resigns

NEW CUMBERLAND — Two vacancies existed in Town Council today, following the resignation Tuesday night of Councilman Elmer Swearingen of the Second Ward.

Councilman Benny Parr of the First Ward resigned earlier in moving to Weirton.

Council is expected to act on new appointments at a meeting tonight at 7:30.

Swearingen, whose term expires June 30, filed a written letter of resignation last night, citing failure to be notified of Council meetings for his action.

Cites Europe Need For Defense

Kennedy Gets Adenauer Support On NATO Force

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer pledged today that West Germany will cooperate in President Kennedy's plan for a multinational NATO nuclear force.

"Europe knows that it cannot defend itself without the support of the United States," West Germany's 87-year-old government chief told the Bundestag in a statement outlining the policy of his new coalition government.

Adenauer defended strongly the new French-West German treaty of cooperation as a step toward European unity. He vowed to keep working for Britain's entry into the European Common Market, vetoed last week by France.

Adenauer spoke against a background of growing domestic and foreign criticism of the French-German treaty as a possible disruptive force in Europe. The chancellor is striving to win Bundestag ratification of the treaty before his scheduled retirement next fall after 14 years in office.

Adenauer said that the only hope for Western freedom in the face of Soviet aggression lies in a strong NATO and in a united Europe.

He cited Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech Jan. 20 in East Berlin promising that the whole of Germany would be Communist one day.

Long-Expected Order

Canada Set For Vote On Arms Issue

Diefenbaker Loses Government Power On Defense Stand

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada headed today for an election campaign based on close-to-home economic issues as well as the U.S.-Canadian nuclear weapon dispute which toppled Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservative government.

Diefenbaker's government was the second in nearly 100 years of Canadian confederation to be beaten down by a no-confidence vote in the House of Commons.

The prime minister was to call today on Gov. Gen. Georges Vanier, the required prelude to dissolving Parliament and setting an election date.

The election probably will be set for April 8.

Although the nuclear weapon dispute brought down the government, chief opposition leader Lester B. Pearson said he believes the major issue in the coming campaign will be the need for economic and social policies to stimulate "our national growth to the point where we'll be able to give employment to all who are willing and able to work."

Pearson, leader of the Liberal party, apparently was trying to tone down the defense issue. He, too, has been attacked for advocating that Canada live up to commitments to accept nuclear weapons and then negotiate to get rid of them.

Diefenbaker's Conservatives are certain to emphasize charges that the United States interfered in Canadian affairs by calling publicly on the government to accept nuclear weapons. They also are expected to accuse Pearson of taking orders from Washington, a charge the Liberal leader hotly denied when the Conservatives raised it in the nuclear weapon debate.

To Reveal U.S. Estimates

McNamara Talk Slated Today On Cuban Situation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara will publicly discuss the Kennedy administration's estimates of Soviet strength in Cuba on a radio-television broadcast today, the White House announced.

The broadcast was scheduled for 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

McNamara will head a group of Pentagon officials who will hold a news conference on the subject.

The White House said a number of radio and television networks would carry it live, but broadcast plans were incomplete.

In recent days, some Republican Congress members have challenged the administration's estimates of the Soviet arsenal in the Caribbean, contending that Soviet strength there is greater than the Pentagon and State Department have reported.

The White House indicated that McNamara and his colleagues would give a detailed accounting of U.S. intelligence findings.

Originally, the administration planned to have McNamara conduct a background briefing on Cuba for newsmen.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the briefing was being converted into a public news conference because "so much interest has been manifested" in the session.

In another move understood to have White House blessing, John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, agreed today to present a detailed report on the Soviet arms status in Cuba to a Senate watchdog defense subcommittee.

Informed senators said McCone was expected to testify this afternoon at a closed session of the Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee.

West Trade With Castro Discouraged

Action Falls Short Of Sweeping Plan Considered In '62

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today barred shipment of U.S. government-financed cargoes on any ship which has been to Cuba since Jan. 1.

The new regulation falls considerably short of more sweeping proposals first planned by the administration last fall.

White House sources said the tougher proposals have not been adopted because of U.S. diplomatic success in getting the maritime countries to cut down on the Cuban trade.

These sources said too that stiffer regulations may be issued later if needed — and meanwhile the number of non-Communist bloc ships calling at Cuban ports has dropped from 92 last July to 14 in January.

Youth Denied Probation Bid

Wellsville Prisoner Given Camp Term

Probation was denied a Wellsville youth charged with theft of $198.29 from Goddard Bakers in Chester at a hearing Tuesday in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland.

Judge James G. McClure rejected the plea for probation filed on behalf of Gary Lee Call, 18, of Wellsville and sentenced him to 1-10 years in Moundsville Penitentiary.

However, the prison term was suspended and Call was ordered turned over to custody of the state commissioner of institutions to spend one year at a state forestry camp at Blackwater Falls in Davis, W. Va.

A co-defendant in the bakery theft — Charlie Hall, 20, of Chester — received two years probation. Each defendant had pleaded guilty to the Oct. 30 theft and were indicted by the January Grand Jury. Hall had also been sentenced to 1-10 years in prison and had asked probation.

Judge McClure also suspended a sentence of one-year in County Jail for two years probation for

Modernization And Routine Growth To Take Most Of Fund

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. will invest $400,000 this year for expansion and service improvements in the East Liverpool - Wellsville area, the company's new president, Frederick R. Eckley, announced Tuesday night at a press conference in Steubenville.

The same amount had been earmarked for 1962.

Donald U. Honicky, commercial manager here for Ohio Bell, said that $50,000 of the local construction figures would be spent on long distance switchboard equipment to improve direct distance dialing in the East Liverpool Exchange and for installation of more trunk lines to Ohio View.

Otherwise, the bulk of the money for East Liverpool and sur-

Council Approves Hikes For Salaried And Hourly Staff

Pay increases for all city employes, ranging from $1 to $30 a month for salaried and 5 cents hourly for hourly workers, were approved by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

The necessary legislation was passed under suspension of rules and the increases will go into effect April 1.

The proposal for the increases was heard last month after some employes had requested raises.

The funds for the wage hikes will come from the redemption of notes issued in 1958 for sewage disposal construction purposes with $3,200 in interest going to the general fund; investment in the Treasury Department of the aggregate of city funds not now

Proposed In Ohio House

School Districts May Get OK To Levy Income Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislative authority for school districts to levy income taxes—to take part of the cost load off real estate—may be on the way. The limit would be one per cent.

The proposal was introduced by Rep. Gail Porterfield, Mount Vernon Republican. Porterfield said that, to his knowledge, Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes is not aware the bill exists. But the measure parallels a proposal made recently by GOP House Speaker Roger Cloud.

School costs now take almost one-half of all state revenue, but even that amounts to only about 31 per cent of the cost of running the schools.

Rhodes, during last fall's campaign, suggested that the state might well increase its participation in school costs 50 per cent. That was not a firm pledge on his part, but a detour via the school district tax route could be the answer.

There's a peculiar aspect to Ohio's tax laws. If the state gets into a particular tax field, local governments are shut out of that field.

That is one reason the legislature never has even explored the state income tax field.

If the state ever levies an income tax, it will, in the opinion of many attorneys, kill off city income taxes. And that development could scuttle many a municipal ship.

Rhodes' Plan Attacked By Employe Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Employes Council 21 has attacked Gov. James A Rhodes' plan to strip some state employes of civil service coverage.

The council, which represents 15 local unions in state service, said it strongly favors all state employes be covered by civil service.

"State employes are human beings and should not be used as political footballs, regardless of the administration in power," a statement by the council Tuesday said in part.

Chain-Type Collision Involves 6 Vehicles

Six vehicles were involved in a "chain type" collision Tuesday night about 10:30 on Route 68 between Midland and East Liverpool, but no one was reported hurt.

The accident happened during the homeward rush of Crucible Steel Co. employes and mill traffic was slowed until the wreckage was cleared.

Midland police said the drivers included Anthony Ross Jr. and Marie Pelefrey of Industry, William C. Lendon, 944 Railroad St., East Liverpool, and William E. Headley of Russell Heights, Mitchell H. Vess, 101 Township Line Rd., and Thomas E. Hanlon, 1758 Clark Ave., all Wellsville.

Lord Samuel, Noted British Figure, Dies

LONDON (AP)—Lord Samuel, a powerful voice in British politics for half a century and the elder statesman of the resurgent Liberal party, is dead at 92. He had been ill since before Christmas.

White House sources said the tougher proposals have not been adopted because of U.S. diplomatic success in getting the maritime countries to cut down on the Cuban trade.

These sources said too that stiffer regulations may be issued later if needed — and meanwhile the number of non-Communist bloc ships calling at Cuban ports has dropped from 92 last July to 14 in January.

$400,000 Set In Ohio Bell's Area Projects

Modernization And Routine Growth To Take Most Of Fund

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. will invest $400,000 this year for expansion and service improvements in the East Liverpool - Wellsville area, the company's new president, Frederick R. Eckley, announced Tuesday night at a press conference in Steubenville.

The same amount had been earmarked for 1962.

Donald U. Honicky, commercial manager here for Ohio Bell, said that $50,000 of the local construction figures would be spent on long distance switchboard equipment to improve direct distance dialing in the East Liverpool Exchange and for installation of more trunk lines to Ohio View.

Otherwise, the bulk of the money for East Liverpool and sur-

Pay Increase At Wellsville Starts April 1

Council Approves Hikes For Salaried And Hourly Staff

Pay increases for all city employes, ranging from $1 to $30 a month for salaried and 5 cents hourly for hourly workers, were approved by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

The necessary legislation was passed under suspension of rules and the increases will go into effect April 1.

The proposal for the increases was heard last month after some employes had requested raises.

The funds for the wage hikes will come from the redemption of notes issued in 1958 for sewage disposal construction purposes with $3,200 in interest going to the general fund; investment in the Treasury Department of the aggregate of city funds not now

Rhodes' Plan Attacked By Employe Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Employes Council 21 has attacked Gov. James A Rhodes' plan to strip some state employes of civil service coverage.

The council, which represents 15 local unions in state service, said it strongly favors all state employes be covered by civil service.

"State employes are human beings and should not be used as political footballs, regardless of the administration in power," a statement by the council Tuesday said in part.

Chain-Type Collision Involves 6 Vehicles

Six vehicles were involved in a "chain type" collision Tuesday night about 10:30 on Route 68 between Midland and East Liverpool, but no one was reported hurt.

The accident happened during the homeward rush of Crucible Steel Co. employes and mill traffic was slowed until the wreckage was cleared.

Midland police said the drivers included Anthony Ross Jr. and Marie Pelefrey of Industry, William C. Lendon, 944 Railroad St., East Liverpool, and William E. Headley of Russell Heights, Mitchell H. Vess, 101 Township Line Rd., and Thomas E. Hanlon, 1758 Clark Ave., all Wellsville.

Lord Samuel, Noted British Figure, Dies

LONDON (AP)—Lord Samuel, a powerful voice in British politics for half a century and the elder statesman of the resurgent Liberal party, is dead at 92. He had been ill since before Christmas.

Youth Denied Probation Bid

Wellsville Prisoner Given Camp Term

Probation was denied a Wellsville youth charged with theft of $198.29 from Goddard Bakers in Chester at a hearing Tuesday in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland.

Judge James G. McClure rejected the plea for probation filed on behalf of Gary Lee Call, 18, of Wellsville and sentenced him to 1-10 years in Moundsville Penitentiary.

However, the prison term was suspended and Call was ordered turned over to custody of the state commissioner of institutions to spend one year at a state forestry camp at Blackwater Falls in Davis, W. Va.

A co-defendant in the bakery theft — Charlie Hall, 20, of Chester — received two years probation. Each defendant had pleaded guilty to the Oct. 30 theft and were indicted by the January Grand Jury. Hall had also been sentenced to 1-10 years in prison and had asked probation.

Judge McClure also suspended a sentence of one-year in County Jail for two years probation for

Proposed In Ohio House

School Districts May Get OK To Levy Income Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislative authority for school districts to levy income taxes—to take part of the cost load off real estate—may be on the way. The limit would be one per cent.

The proposal was introduced by Rep. Gail Porterfield, Mount Vernon Republican. Porterfield said that, to his knowledge, Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes is not aware the bill exists. But the measure parallels a proposal made recently by GOP House Speaker Roger Cloud.

School costs now take almost one-half of all state revenue, but even that amounts to only about 31 per cent of the cost of running the schools.

Rhodes, during last fall's campaign, suggested that the state might well increase its participation in school costs 50 per cent. That was not a firm pledge on his part, but a detour via the school district tax route could be the answer.

There's a peculiar aspect to Ohio's tax laws. If the state gets into a particular tax field, local governments are shut out of that field.

That is one reason the legislature never has even explored the state income tax field.

If the state ever levies an income tax, it will, in the opinion of many attorneys, kill off city income taxes. And that development could scuttle many a municipal ship.

South Beaver School Board Skips Merger

A proposal to seek a vote at the May 7 primaries on merger of the six individual districts comprising the Southern Beaver County Joint Schools apparently is dead.

The Joint Board of Education took no action at its meeting Monday night on the proposition, which would have merged the individual boards in Hookstown, Georgetown, Shippingport, Hanover Township, Greene Township and Frankfort Springs into a single board.

Under the proposal, the individual boards would have submitted resolutions asking the joint board to seek a ballot place for the proposal.

Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said the merger would have eventually reduced the membership on the board from 30 to 7.

Appointment of standing committees was tabled until the meeting March 4.

The board approved two field trips with the Latin Club and its sponsor, Mrs. Katherine Bender, being given permission to attend a Latin festival March 2 at Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh.

The staff of the Ram's Horn, school newspaper, and Paul Piper, sponsor, were authorized to attend a school newspaper clinic March 7 at the University of Pittsburgh.

The Citizens Association was given permission to use the high school auditorium for a Mardi Gras on Feb. 23 and to present a play the weekend of April 19.

The Parent-Teacher Association was given approval to hold a smorgasbord dinner Feb. 23 in the elementary cafeteria.

Harvey Todd, president, presided.

Traffic On Ohio Seen Normal By End Of The Week

CINCINNATI (AP)—Traffic on the Ohio River should be almost back to normal by the end of the week, say the U.S. Army Engineers.

"The river has cleared up considerably," a Corps of Engineers spokesman at Cincinnati said Tuesday night. "There are only two bad spots between here and Cairo, Ill., where a boat might have difficulty getting through—one just above the Markland Dam (at Warsaw, Ky.) and the other below Tell City, Ind."

The spokesman said the Ohio is fairly clear of ice below Wheeling, W.Va., but that some pretty heavily iced stretches remain above.

Even though the water is rising along much of the river, there is no danger of flood, the spokesman said.

He added that the mouth of the Ohio at Cairo was not blocked today but that a lot of heavy ice remained in the Mississippi between Cairo and St. Louis.

Dayton Store Cited For Communist Goods

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A "shopping guide" naming a Dayton store as a handler of Communist products has been issued here by a group protesting the sale of Communist-made goods in American stores.

The group calls itself "The Committee to Warn of the Arrival of Communist Merchandise on the Local Business Scene."

Ralph Roberts, local chairman of the group, said his committee would issue more "shopping guides" listing at least five other stores here for similar charges. He said his group is part of a nationwide organization.

South Beaver School Board Skips Merger

A proposal to seek a vote at the May 7 primaries on merger of the six individual districts comprising the Southern Beaver County Joint Schools apparently is dead.

The Joint Board of Education took no action at its meeting Monday night on the proposition, which would have merged the individual boards in Hookstown, Georgetown, Shippingport, Hanover Township, Greene Township and Frankfort Springs into a single board.

Under the proposal, the individual boards would have submitted resolutions asking the joint board to seek a ballot place for the proposal.

Victor Thomas, supervising principal, said the merger would have eventually reduced the membership on the board from 30 to 7.

Appointment of standing committees was tabled until the meeting March 4.

The board approved two field trips with the Latin Club and its sponsor, Mrs. Katherine Bender, being given permission to attend a Latin festival March 2 at Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh.

The staff of the Ram's Horn, school newspaper, and Paul Piper, sponsor, were authorized to attend a school newspaper clinic March 7 at the University of Pittsburgh.

The Citizens Association was given permission to use the high school auditorium for a Mardi Gras on Feb. 23 and to present a play the weekend of April 19.

The Parent-Teacher Association was given approval to hold a smorgasbord dinner Feb. 23 in the elementary cafeteria.

Harvey Todd, president, presided.

Traffic On Ohio Seen Normal By End Of The Week

CINCINNATI (AP)—Traffic on the Ohio River should be almost back to normal by the end of the week, say the U.S. Army Engineers.

"The river has cleared up considerably," a Corps of Engineers spokesman at Cincinnati said Tuesday night. "There are only two bad spots between here and Cairo, Ill., where a boat might have difficulty getting through—one just above the Markland Dam (at Warsaw, Ky.) and the other below Tell City, Ind."

The spokesman said the Ohio is fairly clear of ice below Wheeling, W.Va., but that some pretty heavily iced stretches remain above.

Even though the water is rising along much of the river, there is no danger of flood, the spokesman said.

He added that the mouth of the Ohio at Cairo was not blocked today but that a lot of heavy ice remained in the Mississippi between Cairo and St. Louis.

Dayton Store Cited For Communist Goods

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A "shopping guide" naming a Dayton store as a handler of Communist products has been issued here by a group protesting the sale of Communist-made goods in American stores.

The group calls itself "The Committee to Warn of the Arrival of Communist Merchandise on the Local Business Scene."

Ralph Roberts, local chairman of the group, said his committee would issue more "shopping guides" listing at least five other stores here for similar charges. He said his group is part of a nationwide organization.

According to researchers in the home-freezer field, a kitchen freezer has a life - expectancy of a dozen years!

How To Unstack A Policy

We like the Republican explanation for naming a preponderance of foreign-aid opponents to the House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee, to replace GOP representatives formerly favorable to foreign aid.

The purpose was not to stack the committee against foreign aid, the explanation goes, but to unstack it. Formerly, it had been stacked in favor of foreign aid. The new Republican members, according to the explanation, will be more nearly representative of thinking throughout the country.

Foriegn aid has been typical of something that happens in representative government—a policy put into effect and kept in effect on the say-so of a succession of public officials, lacking popular support.

Even before the recent disenchantments set in, reaching a climax with a rebuff from France on an economic issue the French never would have been able to argue if it had not been for U. S. aid, popular thought had been growing skeptical about the ultimate outcome of foreign aid.

At its most sanguine, popular thought leaned toward a tapering-off formula, to wean foreign countries lest they make a permanent policy of looking to Washington as imploringly as local government was taught to look by federal aid.

Yet, in the annual congressional showdown, so many highly placed citizens chimed in with Presidents Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy in favor of continuing foreign aid at a thumping rate that dissenting representatives and senators were drowned out.

France's querulous Charles de Gaulle will make this more difficult in 1963. Yugoslavia's Tito has added his bit, with a trip to Moscow. The situation in Spain is as disagreeable as ever, and there is nothing to be happy about in quicksand trouble spots in Asia and Africa where money disappears by hundreds of millions with no trace.

It's like that famous scheme of Henry A. Wallace to send milk to Hottentots. Everybody's heart bled for the Hottentots until someone wondered if Hottentotism could be upgraded the Milky Way. Something like that will happen eventually to foreign aid. It's happening now. Questions are being asked.

Republicans are going to help skepticism along, secure in the knowledge that public opinion is not now and never has been strongly in support of an unlimited, open-ended foreign aid program.

Good Music

Fourteen more Columbiana County students have brought recognition to the musical instruction in the various school systems by being chosen to play with the first Northern Ohio All-Star Band that will perform Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Kent State University.

Over the years musicians from the county have set outstanding records as they moved into college or other fields. The 14 selected for this latest honor are keeping up a tradition of good music.

Patience In The White House

One of the absurdities of labor law is the "cooling-off period" from the time a strike is enjoined until the injunction runs out.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act, this period lasts 80 days. In no instance have strikers been known to cool off during the 80 days. In no instance have they decided to accept management's last best offer and go back to work without first resuming the strike.

There is no reason thy should go back to work without trying to wring further concessions out of management. Experience has taught them what to expect. It is all in their favor.

Sooner or later, in one way or another, the federal government will intervene and give union negotiators enough additional leeway to establish a claim of victory for their side in the dispute.

THERE ARE many ways the federal government can make plain to management that dire consequences lie in wait for intransigent employers. But there is no way the federal government can make plain to union negotiators that something unpleasant might happen to them.

No federal politician ever has made rumbling noises in his throat about seizing a union to bring it to terms. No president ever has gone to the mat with a labor leader for throwing fuel on inflationary fires, or inducing paralysis in a vital segment of the nation's economy.

This will be the climactic year for the Kennedy administration in industrial relations. It already has gone through a showdown with its "friends" on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts—the International Longshoremen's Association.

It is going to be put through the wringer by the International Association of Machinists in the Boeing Co. deadlock; an 80-day injunction has been granted.

Steel workers will be asking for more, as usual.

ALL THESE unions, their executives and their associates are nominally supporting the Kennedy administration. Their money went into the Kennedy campaign in 1960 and will be needed again in 1964.

Their members were advised to vote for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, and in most cases they obviously did vote for that ticket.

They are the Kennedy administration's "friends." Whether it will be their friend a year from now if they tie up the country in industrial deadlocks is becoming a pressing question.

Strikes are wearing out patience among members of Congress, and it is conceivable they could wear out patience in the White House too.

Missile Issue In Cuba

Secretary of Defense McNamara thinks it is "probable" that unofficial observers are seeing all the missiles in Cuba they are talking about but that the missiles they are seeing constitute no threat to the United States.

Potential attack on the United States would require missiles of enough range to reach critical targets—New York, Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Philadelphia.

Missiles lacking this capability are defensive in character. They are theoretically useful only to defend Cuba against attack. The attack would not have to be launched from the United States.

The Bay of Pigs invasion project was not based in the United States. Cubans and their Russian defenders are aware of the proposed strategy of destroying the Castro regime in Cuba with an all Latin-American military force.

There is no reason Cuba should be without defense in the missile era. Even though its weapons and the men on hand to use them if they are needed are Russian, the United States has no desire to deny Cuba the right to a defense system.

Even Latin American countries fearful of being attacked by Cuba would not take it kindly if the United States barred Cuba from possession of defensive arms. This should be remembered by those taking this position on their own responsibility.

It marks the difference between them and the government on the missile issue. The government must say only what it knows to be true; it cannot speculate.

The missiles are in Cuba, Secretary McNamara concedes. But they are not the kind that would be used for attack. They are defensive weapons, and the United States is not barring Cuba from possession of defensive weapons.

Fidgetation

By Truman Twill

If you survived the January jitters, all you have to do is get past the February fantods and you're home free for the March mopes and the April apprehensions.

No one knows what February will bring in the way of weather, but February fantods and January jitters have little to do with weather.

If anything, the January jitters were milder this year because the weather was so bad it kept our minds off our troubles, which have a way of compounding themselves in the first four months of each new year.

Jitters, fantods, mopes and apprehensions —they are connected in some way with what goes on in our heads while we are waiting for the rustlings of Spring.

Once Christmas and New Year are past, we write off everything that had been left dangling from the old year and start with a fresh slate. Then what happens?

We are all set to draw pretty pictures on it with colored chalk and there's nothing to look at but snow scenes. When you've seen one snow scene you've seen 'em all. You couldn't care less.

That's what brings on the jitters.

The jitters bring on the fantods.

Fantods are fidgets.

Fidgets are a state of restlessness characterized by nervous motions — tugging at a girdle, a necktie, puffing on cigarettes, fussing with the hair.

The condition of having fidgets is known as fidgetation.

This is what prevails throughout February—fidgetation.

Everybody will be waiting all month for something to happen that hasn't a chance of happening. In imagination they will see forsythia creeping into saffron bloom and crocuses pushing their plucky heads through mud and snow.

They will smell lilacs and feel the texture of turf warmed by sunshine.

They will hear the pink-ponk of tennis balls and the clink of horseshoes.

They will envision themselves tanned and sun-warmed, luxuriating on sandy beaches.

They can hardly wait for all these things to happen.

When it doesn't happen, the fidgets begin. Fidgets are fantods. And when it still hasn't happened in March fantods lead into mopes. And when April comes and Spring is still holding back, apprehensions grow out of mopes. What if Spring never comes?

Chins up, fellow beneficiaries of the most invigorating climate to be found anywhere. We survived the jitters. The fantods can't be worse.

Peaceful Co-Existence?

Reds Push Plans For British Guiana

By Victor Riesel

Soviet agents, Soviet money, Soviet propagandists and Communist strategists from the United States and Cuba are moving steadily into the Communist International's next Latin target — the almost forgotten British Guiana.

Victor Riesel

There is evidence that one of these Communist strategists is an American lawyer who has for years specialized in handling pro-Communist U.S. labor unions. He, much as the other Communist tacticians, is moving in and out of Georgetown, capital of British Guiana, because the pro-Castro, pro-Sino - Soviet prime minister is shaky and needs bolstering.

This prime minister is Cheddi Jagan, a Hindu of East Indian (Asian) extraction. It is important to note this now that Communist China has invaded India.

Jagan's past election victories have been based on support of the hundreds of thousands of East Indians (Asians) in British Guiana. But many have become disenchanted with him since the Communist attack on their former homeland or the home country of their older folks.

JAGAN IS a self-avowed Marxist who champions Fidel Castro, N. S. Khrushchev, and Mao Tse-tung — an interesting combination in this era of world Communist polycentrism and rivalry.

Now the East Indians in British Guiana have been angered by Jagan's failure to blast the Chinese Communists for their assault on India.

The opposition parties in the country, which is about the size of Britian, bait Jagan with big photos of his wife Janet and Chinese Communist leaders. These were taken last summer when she visited Peiping and participated in mass anti-American rallies.

Mrs. Jagan is secretary-general of the pro-Communist People's Progressive party (PPP) and is considered a mouthpiece for her husband as well as an important Communist in her own right. She also edits "Thunder," the PPP's publication.

COMPARED WITH the concentration of Soviet agents in British Guiana — the back door to Venezuela — anti-Communist nations have done little, indeed.

The British labor movement, called The Trades Union Congress (TUC) did put one man in the country to help the anti-Communist labor organization, known by the odd name of Man Power Citizen's Association of British Guiana.

He is Walter Hood, head of the Commonwealth division of the TUC. He was there for five months but had to leave last Dec. 13. There are a few American anti-Communist specialists now in Georgetown — but all too few.

So we may lose our momentary advantage. If this is so there will be a second Castro in the Caribbean area. And we may well lose if we don't move swiftly.

Prime Minister Jagan is sending scores of his young people to schools in Cuba, Prague and Moscow. There is knowledge of at least 200 of these students.

They've been away anywhere from six months to a year. Soon they will be returning to help Jagan maintain his regime and win the next election.

IF JAGAN does win, the British will have to grant his country external as well as the full internal freedom which it has had for years now.

Then Jagan will open his country to Soviet bloc economic exploitation. And there is much to exploit — bauxite (for aluminum) iron mines, jungle area gas and oil fields, vast timber lands, manganese, chrome, vanadium and some gold. The Sino-Soviet bloc would have a field day.

Prime Minister Jagan even now is trying to arrange just such an economic orgy for the Iron Curtain bloc. It can be revealed here that on Jan. 29, Jagan's minister of home affairs, Claude Christian, flew into East Berlin. He was met at Schoenefeld Airport by George Stibi, who is no less than the deputy foreign Minister of the so-called East German "Republic."

Christian's mission is secret. But it must be of considerable importance to rate such a welcome. It is all part of Jagan's private dealings with the Soviets.

ONLY THE FACT that the British still control British Guiana's external affairs has kept Jagan from moving Communist bloc technicians in by the thousands. The British have vetoed his invitation to Russian and Cuban trade missions. They refused to grant visas to the Moscow and Havana groups.

Jagan already has negotiated with Polish and Czech trade missions to set up 25 light industries in British Guiana. He announced this on Oct. 28th.

Thus while the United States was blockading Cuba, the British Guianian prime minister invited Prague and Warsaw into his country.

Thus, whatever confusion there may have been during the rise of Fidel Castro, there cannot be any doubt where Jagan and his wife would take British Guiana.

Obviously the time has come to counter the Soviet concentration there with one of our own —openly and unashamedly. Our friends need bolstering.

Rep. Richard H. Fulton, D-Tenn., recalls that when he jokingly threatened to write a letter of complaint to his congressman, an airline stewardess told him, "Go ahead, it won't do you any good."

That happened last December as Fulton was flying home from Washington as a congressman-elect. He asked the American Airlines stewardess if dinner would be served. No, she said, and that started their verbal exchange.

The other day Fulton told a Chamber of Commerce meeting in Nashville about the incident. Who should be in the audience but an American Airlines official, who later wrote Fulton a note.

"You will be happy to know that dinner will be served on our Flight 433 beginning Feb. 6," it said.

GOP Shakes Lethargy

By Rowland Evans Jr.

Party Organizes New Policy Approach

True believers in the two-party system can take heart at what sounds suspiciously like a murmur of life in the Republican party in Congress.

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania put his finger on the Republican disease when he went to New York recently to help Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller raise money for the Republican party.

"The Democrats have been positive and tricked us into being negative," Gov. Scranton said. "As a result, we appear less imaginative, they more dynamic."

TRUER WORDS never were spoken. For two years now the Republican minority in Congress has wallowed, trying to find a firm footing and establish a political base and getting knocked off balance by the clever, sometimes brilliant maneuvering of the administration.

As Gov. Scranton said: "Part of the problem facing the Republican party today is that our opponents have frequently been much better than we are spreading an infectious kind of exuberance."

Exuberance hasn't been a Republican strong point for quite some time. It's a characteristic of a good many individual Republicans. But taken as a whole, the Republican party in Congress has the exuberance of a clam salesman.

All this isn't going to change overnight, but since Jan. 9, when the new Congress came back to town, the Republicans have made encouraging noises.

The most recent of these was the new civil rights bill that most Republicans on the House Judiciary Committee endorsed a few days ago.

The bill won't ever come out of the committee and won't ever pass the House. At least one of its proposals—to reduce Southern representation in Congress to the extent that Negroes are denied the right to vote—would start a revolution in the House and break the filibuster record in the Senate.

THE SIGNIFICANT thing about the bill is not, however, that it will never pass. The Republicans are not the majority party and don't have the responsibility to pass bills.

The significant thing is that the Republicans have now adopted a sweeping civil rights strategy where before there was none.

They can talk about their bill. They can use it to needle the Democrats, whose civil rights plank apparently fell off the 1960 platform the day after the election.

The Republicans may not make a single vote doing this, but a party without a well-defined civil rights policy or strategy is not a party at all.

Another murmur of life in the House Republicans is their clear intention to challenge the administration's test-ban policy.

The Republicans are against ending nuclear tests without far broader concessions on the matter of inspection and verification.

The Republicans may be right and they may be wrong about what constitutes "adequate" inspection. But they must have a policy if they want to stay a party.

Other strategies are going to be developed in the House minority. One hopes that they will not be entirely negative, but even a negative strategy is better than none at all.

Without the White House, without a "titular" leader and without the kind of top-level advisory group that the Democrats contrived during the eight years of Dwight Eisenhower, the Republicans have no place in which to develop a strategy other than in Congress.

THE ACTIVISTS among the House Republicans are, naturally, the younger members who elected Rep. Gerry Ford of Michigan to be chairman of the Republican conference.

Ford is neither a conservative nor a liberal. The men who elected Rep. Ford are the men who painstakingly drafted the new Republican civil rights program and who arranged for experts like Edward Teller to discuss the test-ban question in front of the Republican conference.

All this is for the good. A powerful, ambitious administration with strong majorities in both Houses needs an organized opposition.

It begins to look as though, after all, there may be one. . . not just a collection of "no" votes against every program the administration sends to Congress but an organized minority with a policy and strategy all its own.

Hitler's Ghost

By Rawle Knox

MUNICH

Hitler took over power in Berlin, 30 years ago, and the Germans still are fighting his ghost. Here, in Munich, the ruling Christian Social Union party is in the midst of a lively debate as to whether it shall be represented in the federal Bundestag by Max Frauendorfer, a former lieutenant of Heimrich Himmler, head of the SS (the Nazi Elite Guard).

The Bavarian justice ministry is investigating whether or not three senior government legal officers in Wuerzburg should be suspended because of their former activities in Nazi courts.

NO ONE is more conscious of their inherited guilt — and the vulnerability it imposes — than the West German Socialists. "Democracy," said Mayor Willy Brandt of Berlin recently on the eve of the 30th anniversary of Hitler's takeover, "is not a condition of night watchmanship."

The Federation of German Trade Unions thundered out another warning that big businessmen in Germany — including many, like Krupp, still flourishing today — backed Hitler.

Newspapers up and down West Germany have been ponderously asking themselves the question: "Could it happen again now?" (They cannot be accused of attempting to forget). Almost all say no. A few say: Not like that.

In the present uncertainly over the Common Market, in the doubt as to whether the export boom can last, men with memories think of the winter of 1932-33 when many Berlin families lived in shacks because they could not afford to rent even a single room in the city proper.

IF A SLUMP were to come, might not what the Frankfurter Rundschau calls the German "idol of stability" be invoked to find a feuhrer?

"A crisis," says the paper, "a strong man, a charlatan who wants to get to the top, hangers-on who want to serve him. . ." These are the circumstances that remain the nightmare of a good German.

Older Germans see stability slipping away because they cannot answer the questions youth asks about the Nazi period.

Were all their elders, teachers and priests irresponsible, unspeakably cowardly or downright evil?

No comprehensive answer is possible and authority is undermined.

The fear of the past — not so long past — makes West Germans, as the political intellectuals willingly admit, incapable of rational discussion on what should be quite ordinary problems.

The arrest of the publisher, editor and several staff members of the news magazine Der Spiegel, whose treason trial is to open shortly, was at once tested with the litmus paper of dictatorship.

Strict disciplinarians, whether in the Army or in primary schools, know they can always have the charge of Nazism thrown against them. It's an unhealthy climate, and the Germans know it best: but the disease is in the German mind.

On the American Forces network in Germany recently, the announcer hailed Jan. 30, 1933, as the day on which the Lone Ranger first made his appearance on radio, "and," he added, "President Hindenburg called Hitler to power."

THE GERMANS are unable to be so lighthearted. They may perhaps be able to gain some comfort from the fact that although West Germany has been named as a center of neo-fascism by the International Organization of Resistance Fighters (a half-million - strong association with headquarters in Brussels) so have East Germany, Egypt, Australia, South Africa, the U.N. Argentina, Portugal, Belgium, Austria, Sweden and Britain.

Munich, at any rate, took the dreadful anniversary quietly. In the redecorated Burgerbrauhaus, from which Hitler and his colleagues set out on their abortive Putsch in 1923 there is a pleasant mural in one of the many beer rooms. It shows a wooded village and a caption relates its ancient history, not its modern history: The village is Dachau.

How To Unstack A Policy

We like the Republican explanation for naming a preponderance of foreign-aid opponents to the House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee, to replace GOP representatives formerly favorable to foreign aid.

The purpose was not to stack the committee against foreign aid, the explanation goes, but to unstack it. Formerly, it had been stacked in favor of foreign aid. The new Republican members, according to the explanation, will be more nearly representative of thinking throughout the country.

Foriegn aid has been typical of something that happens in representative government—a policy put into effect and kept in effect on the say-so of a succession of public officials, lacking popular support.

Even before the recent disenchantments set in, reaching a climax with a rebuff from France on an economic issue the French never would have been able to argue if it had not been for U. S. aid, popular thought had been growing skeptical about the ultimate outcome of foreign aid.

At its most sanguine, popular thought leaned toward a tapering-off formula, to wean foreign countries lest they make a permanent policy of looking to Washington as imploringly as local government was taught to look by federal aid.

Yet, in the annual congressional showdown, so many highly placed citizens chimed in with Presidents Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy in favor of continuing foreign aid at a thumping rate that dissenting representatives and senators were drowned out.

France's querulous Charles de Gaulle will make this more difficult in 1963. Yugoslavia's Tito has added his bit, with a trip to Moscow. The situation in Spain is as disagreeable as ever, and there is nothing to be happy about in quicksand trouble spots in Asia and Africa where money disappears by hundreds of millions with no trace.

It's like that famous scheme of Henry A. Wallace to send milk to Hottentots. Everybody's heart bled for the Hottentots until someone wondered if Hottentotism could be upgraded the Milky Way. Something like that will happen eventually to foreign aid. It's happening now. Questions are being asked.

Republicans are going to help skepticism along, secure in the knowledge that public opinion is not now and never has been strongly in support of an unlimited, open-ended foreign aid program.

Good Music

Fourteen more Columbiana County students have brought recognition to the musical instruction in the various school systems by being chosen to play with the first Northern Ohio All-Star Band that will perform Friday, Saturday and Sunday at Kent State University.

Over the years musicians from the county have set outstanding records as they moved into college or other fields. The 14 selected for this latest honor are keeping up a tradition of good music.

Patience In The White House

One of the absurdities of labor law is the "cooling-off period" from the time a strike is enjoined until the injunction runs out.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act, this period lasts 80 days. In no instance have strikers been known to cool off during the 80 days. In no instance have they decided to accept management's last best offer and go back to work without first resuming the strike.

There is no reason thy should go back to work without trying to wring further concessions out of management. Experience has taught them what to expect. It is all in their favor.

Sooner or later, in one way or another, the federal government will intervene and give union negotiators enough additional leeway to establish a claim of victory for their side in the dispute.

THERE ARE many ways the federal government can make plain to management that dire consequences lie in wait for intransigent employers. But there is no way the federal government can make plain to union negotiators that something unpleasant might happen to them.

No federal politician ever has made rumbling noises in his throat about seizing a union to bring it to terms. No president ever has gone to the mat with a labor leader for throwing fuel on inflationary fires, or inducing paralysis in a vital segment of the nation's economy.

This will be the climactic year for the Kennedy administration in industrial relations. It already has gone through a showdown with its "friends" on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts—the International Longshoremen's Association.

It is going to be put through the wringer by the International Association of Machinists in the Boeing Co. deadlock; an 80-day injunction has been granted.

Railroaders are squaring away for a showdown on the pay-for-no-work issue.

Steel workers will be asking for more, as usual.

ALL THESE unions, their executives and their associates are nominally supporting the Kennedy administration. Their money went into the Kennedy campaign in 1960 and will be needed again in 1964.

Their members were advised to vote for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket, and in most cases they obviously did vote for that ticket.

They are the Kennedy administration's "friends." Whether it will be their friend a year from now if they tie up the country in industrial deadlocks is becoming a pressing question.

Strikes are wearing out patience among members of Congress, and it is conceivable they could wear out patience in the White House too.

Missile Issue In Cuba

Secretary of Defense McNamara thinks it is "probable" that unofficial observers are seeing all the missiles in Cuba they are talking about but that the missiles they are seeing constitute no threat to the United States.

Potential attack on the United States would require missiles of enough range to reach critical targets—New York, Chicago, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Philadelphia.

Missiles lacking this capability are defensive in character. They are theoretically useful only to defend Cuba against attack. The attack would not have to be launched from the United States.

The Bay of Pigs invasion project was not based in the United States. Cubans and their Russian defenders are aware of the proposed strategy of destroying the Castro regime in Cuba with an all Latin-American military force.

There is no reason Cuba should be without defense in the missile era. Even though its weapons and the men on hand to use them if they are needed are Russian, the United States has no desire to deny Cuba the right to a defense system.

Even Latin American countries fearful of being attacked by Cuba would not take it kindly if the United States barred Cuba from possession of defensive arms. This should be remembered by those taking this position on their own responsibility.

It marks the difference between them and the government on the missile issue. The government must say only what it knows to be true; it cannot speculate.

The missiles are in Cuba, Secretary McNamara concedes. But they are not the kind that would be used for attack. They are defensive weapons, and the United States is not barring Cuba from possession of defensive weapons.

Fidgetation

By Truman Twill

If you survived the January jitters, all you have to do is get past the February fantods and you're home free for the March mopes and the April apprehensions.

No one knows what February will bring in the way of weather, but February fantods and January jitters have little to do with weather.

If anything, the January jitters were milder this year because the weather was so bad it kept our minds off our troubles, which have a way of compounding themselves in the first four months of each new year.

Jitters, fantods, mopes and apprehensions—they are connected in some way with what goes on in our heads while we are waiting for the rustlings of Spring.

Once Christmas and New Year are past, we write off everything that had been left dangling from the old year and start with a fresh slate. Then what happens?

We are all set to draw pretty pictures on it with colored chalk and there's nothing to look at but snow scenes. When you've seen one snow scene you've seen 'em all. You couldn't care less.

That's what brings on the jitters.

The jitters bring on the fantods.

Fantods are fidgets.

Fidgets are a state of restlessness characterized by nervous motions — tugging at a girdle, a necktie, puffing on cigarettes, fussing with the hair.

The condition of having fidgets is known as fidgetation.

This is what prevails throughout February—fidgetation.

Everybody will be waiting all month for something to happen that hasn't a chance of happening. In imagination they will see forsythia creeping into saffron bloom and crocuses pushing their plucky heads through mud and snow.

They will smell lilacs and feel the texture of turf warmed by sunshine.

They will hear the pink-ponk of tennis balls and the clink of horseshoes.

They will envision themselves tanned and sun-warmed, luxuriating on sandy beaches.

They can hardly wait for all these things to happen.

When it doesn't happen, the fidgets begin. Fidgets are fantods. And when it still hasn't happened in March fantods lead into mopes. And when April comes and Spring is still holding back, apprehensions grow out of mopes. What if Spring never comes?

Chins up, fellow beneficiaries of the most invigorating climate to be found anywhere. We survived the jitters. The fantods can't be worse.

Peaceful Co-Existence?

Reds Push Plans For British Guiana

By Victor Riesel

Soviet agents, Soviet money, Soviet propagandists and Communist strategists from the United States and Cuba are moving steadily into the Communist International's next Latin target — the almost forgotten British Guiana.

Victor Riesel

There is evidence that one of these Communist strategists is an American lawyer who has for years specialized in handling pro-Communist U.S. labor unions. He, much as the other Communist tacticians, is moving in and out of Georgetown, capital of British Guiana, because the pro-Castro, pro-Sino - Soviet prime minister is shaky and needs bolstering.

This prime minister is Cheddi Jagan, a Hindu of East Indian (Asian) extraction. It is important to note this now that Communist China has invaded India.

Jagan's past election victories have been based on support of the hundreds of thousands of East Indians (Asians) in British Guiana. But many have become disenchanted with him since the Communist attack on their former homeland or the home country of their older folks.

JAGAN IS a self-avowed Marxist who champions Fidel Castro, N. S. Khrushchev, and Mao Tse-tung — an interesting combination in this era of world Communist polycentrism and rivalry.

Now the East Indians in British Guiana have been angered by Jagan's failure to blast the Chinese Communists for their assault on India.

The opposition parties in the country, which is about the size of Britian, bait Jagan with big photos of his wife Janet and Chinese Communist leaders. These were taken last summer when she visited Peiping and participated in mass anti-American rallies.

Mrs. Jagan is secretary-general of the pro-Communist People's Progressive party (PPP) and is considered a mouthpiece for her husband as well as an important Communist in her own right. She also edits "Thunder," the PPP's publication.

COMPARED WITH the concentration of Soviet agents in British Guiana — the back door to Venezuela — anti-Communist nations have done little, indeed.

The British labor movement, called The Trades Union Congress (TUC) did put one man in the country to help the anti-Communist labor organization, known by the odd name of Man Power Citizen's Association of British Guiana.

He is Walter Hood, head of the Commonwealth division of the TUC. He was there for five months but had to leave last Dec. 13. There are a few American anti-Communist specialists now in Georgetown — but all too few.

So we may lose our momentary advantage. If this is so there will be a second Castro in the Caribbean area. And we may well lose if we don't move swiftly.

Prime Minister Jagan is sending scores of his young people to schools in Cuba, Prague and Moscow. There is knowledge of at least 200 of these students.

They've been away anywhere from six months to a year. Soon they will be returning to help Jagan maintain his regime and win the next election.

IF JAGAN does win, the British will have to grant his country external as well as the full internal freedom which it has had for years now.

Then Jagan will open his country to Soviet bloc economic exploitation. And there is much to exploit — bauxite (for aluminum) iron mines, jungle area gas and oil fields, vast timber lands, manganese, chrome, vanadium and some gold. The Sino-Soviet bloc would have a field day.

Prime Minister Jagan even now is trying to arrange just such an economic orgy for the Iron Curtain bloc. It can be revealed here that on Jan. 29, Jagan's minister of home affairs, Claude Christian, flew into East Berlin. He was met at Schoenefeld Airport by George Stibi, who is no less than the deputy foreign Minister of the so-called East German "Republic."

Christian's mission is secret. But it must be of considerable importance to rate such a welcome. It is all part of Jagan's private dealings with the Soviets.

ONLY THE FACT that the British still control British Guiana's external affairs has kept Jagan from moving Communist bloc technicians in by the thousands. The British have vetoed his invitation to Russian and Cuban trade missions. They refused to grant visas to the Moscow and Havana groups.

Jagan already has negotiated with Polish and Czech trade missions to set up 25 light industries in British Guiana. He announced this on Oct. 28th.

Thus while the United States was blockading Cuba, the British Guianian prime minister invited Prague and Warsaw into his country.

Thus, whatever confusion there may have been during the rise of Fidel Castro, there cannot be any doubt where Jagan and his wife would take British Guiana.

Obviously the time has come to counter the Soviet concentration there with one of our own —openly and unashamedly. Our friends need bolstering.

Youth Group Gets Awards

Some 38 awards were presented to members of the Christian Youth Crusaders of the Wellsville Free Methodist Church Sunday night by John Porter, director at the Honor Council program.

Six Crusaders received a total of 10 badges.

Mrs. Dolores Brown introduced the CYC'ers who gave chorus selections, various age group promises and charge and the CYC pledge. Announcements and benediction were given by the Rev. W. M. Brown, pastor. Samples of handcraft made by the department of intermediate youth, were viewed at the close of the service.

The director is assisted in the weekly sessions on Wednesday from 6:15 p. m. to 7:30 by the following workers: Miss Patty Johnson, Mrs. Joyce Imburgia, Miss Josephine Miller, Mrs. Dolores Brown, Miss Marian Nixon, Mrs. Carolyn Wolfe, Rev. Brown and Mrs. Bernadine Pisarsky.

Prior to the Honor Council program, the Free Methodist Youth presented a half - hour musical program in observance of "Youth Week" under the direction of Miss Marian Nixon and Mrs. Dolores Brown.

Court Income Falls By $479

Overall revenue in Municipal Court hit $2.903 in January, down $479 from December's $3,382, Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon showed today in his monthly report.

The city's share of last month's income was $2,790, off $176 from the $2,966 it received from the court receipts in the preceding month.

The city's share was comprised of $654 in costs in civil cases, $2,131 in fines, costs and forfeitures in criminal cases and $4 from State Highway Patrol cases.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $4 to the state from patrol cases, $18 to the county treasury and $90 to the Law Library Association.

The overall amount handled by the court last month was $8,826, a gain of $2,724 from the $6,102 shown in December. The amount handled last month included $6,322 in the civil branch and $2,504 in the criminal branch.

Game Group Sets Planting

Ordering of 100 pounds of Pennsylvania game mix for spring planting at the Chester-Newell Farmers and Sportsmen's Club farm at Gas Valley Rd. was authorized at a meeting Monday night at the Chester City Hall.

The mix will be planted for raising food strips for wildlife.

Carl Graham, president, said the winer feeding program at the farm has functioned successfully.

The club approved a resolution supporting a proposed dog control ordinance due for final reading at Chester Council meeting tonight.

It was reported members have cut holes in the frozen lake at the farm to permit fish to get air and sunlight. Eleven attended. Next meeting is March 4.

A pound of fish steaks or fillets usually makes three servings; for four servings you may want to buy 1¼ to 1½ pounds.

Protestant-Catholic Tension Seen Easing

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new era in Christian relationships in America is foreseen in a report to the National Lutheran Council, meeting here today.

The annual report said tension between Protestants and Roman Catholics has noticeably relaxed as a result of the Second Vatican Council.

In the United States, "current dialogues between the groups over a variety of subjects and issues continue to increase in number and scope," the report said.

"The climate of such contacts, which had been thawing steadily over recent years, warmed up suddenly in 1962, opening up the way for further advances," he said.

The report was compiled by the Rev. Dr. Paul C. Empie, executive director of the Lutheran council, cooperative agency representing two major Lutheran denominations with more than 5½ million members.

Conclusions of Protestant observers at the Vatican Council, which held its first session late last year, indicate that "the climate and directions which characterized these initial deliberations in Rome forecast the arrival of a new era in Christian relationships," the report said.

It said immediate constructive results are likely to be limited, but that further contacts are developing, with Lutheran pastors increasingly invited into Catholic settings in this country to share views.

The report was issued at the start Tuesday of the three-day 45th annual meeting of the Lutheran cooperative agency.

State Slated To End Case In Stees Trial

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The state may wind up its case today in the first-degree murder trial of a former professor at Ohio University.

The trial produced some surprising testimony Tuesday when Dr. Horace Davidson, a pathologist from Columbus, said the victim died of asphyxiation—not of blows to the head with a crowbar as originally believed.

The defendant, 30-year-old Gene Isaac Stees, is accused in the slaying of his pregnant wife, Helen, Oct. 20. He is charged with fatally beating his estranged wife with a crowbar, sealing her body in a steel drum and dumping it into nearby Dow Lake, where it was recovered Oct. 26.

Dr. Davidson, who performed an autopsy on Mrs. Stees last fall, testified that the asphyxiation took place before the victim was encased in the drum.

He said Mrs. Stees had three marks on her head from blows but none fractured her skull. He said the victim's lungs were partially collapsed, indicating she suffocated.

Mrs. Stees, also 30, was found with a piece of plastic wrapped around her neck and pulled around the top of her head, the pathologist testified. He said the plastic, plus possible hemorrhaging and shock from the blows to the head, quickened her breathing and probably reduced the oxygen in her lungs until she died.

Joseph Yanity, defense counsel for the former instructor of education, asked Dr. Davidson if Mrs. Stees might have drowned. Davidson said no.

100 Fireman Fight Blaze In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—More than 100 firemen battled a four-alarm blaze at the Stella Maris store at West 25th Street and Church Avenue on the near West Side early today.

The fire was under control two hours after it began, apparently in the basement of the three-story building. There were no injuries reported, other than some persons suffering smoke inhalation.

At the height of the blaze, flames shot out of the roof and could be seen from some distance by early - morning motorists. Smoke covered a wide area of the West Side.

About 25 apartment dwellers were evacuated early in the fire.

Stella Maris is a social service organization for rehabilitation of alcoholics. It also receives contributions of used clothing and furniture.

Man, 52, Found Dead After Auto Accident

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Raymond McCarren, 52, of Sharon, Pa., was found dead in his car Tuesday night after it had struck a bridge railing on Ohio 170 about two miles south of Poland.

The Highway Patrol said McCarren might have suffered a heart attack.

Post To Mark Anniversary

County and district American Legion commanders will attend the 35th anniversary party of Midland American Legion Post 481, Harry Hulton, chairman, reported at the post meeting Monday night.

The guests will be Fred Perricelli of Ambridge, Beaver County commander, and James Gabriel of New Castle, 26th District commander. The party will be held March 14 at the post home.

William Coble, auxiliary chairman, reported the auxiliary will hold a public card party Feb. 20 at the post home. The auxiliary held a ward party Friday at Deshon Hospital near Butler. The next auxiliary meeting will be Monday night, Coble announced.

Stanley Segar of Midland was accepted as a new member.

The next county meeting will be held Feb. 15 at Post 225 in Aliquippa and the post will meet Feb. 18. William Riddle, commander, presided.

Prior to the post meeting, the executive committee adopted a report from an investigating committee that two members proposed for life memberships were not eligible.

Rhodes Selects New Head Of Ohio Liquor Unit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Board of Liquor Control has a new chairman and a new member under appointments announced by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Latest appointment is that of John Benson, 52-year-old practicing attorney of Columbus, named by Rhodes to be the Democratic member of the board. Law calls for bi-partisan membership.

Earlier the governor had announced appointment of Kenneth Thomas, 42, of Grove City as a member to serve as chairman. Thomas, a Republican, replaces John Cianflona, 69, of Columbus, a Republican who has become a member of the staff of Atty. Gen. William Saxbe.

Miss Esther R. Hardy of Fremont, a Republican, and Bernard P. Sacharow of South Euclid, a Democrat, are the other board members. Their terms expire in 1965. The term of Creed J. Lester of Mount Vernon, Democrat who has been chairman, is expired.

2 Ohioans To Push For Defense Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two members of Gov. James A. Rhodes' Ohio cabinet were expected in the capital today to confer with Buckeye congressmen and contact Defense and Commerce Department officials in a push for defense contracts for Ohioans.

Before leaving Columbus Tuesday, Industrial Development Director George W. Wilson and Commerce Director Warren Chase indicated they would stay in Washington until Thursday. Wilson indicated he may set up an Ohio office here for a continuing effort to win federal contracts.

City Merchants Begin Plans For Traditional May Outing

Apparently prompted by the warmest temperatures in many days, the East Liverpool Merchants Association launched plans Tuesday for its traditional annual outing in May.

Meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office, the businessmen's group authorized Leslie Blumenthal to proceed with plans for the outing, which generally is highlighted by a trip to Pittsburgh by chartered bus to see a baseball game, with dinner following.

The outing always is held on a Wednesday afternoon, a half-holiday for city stores. The exact date will be set later.

Edwin Maloney, reporting for the downtown improvement committee, discussed progress on the project sponsored by the merchants to install new street lighting in the business district.

Council authorized installation of new fixtures after owners of business property signed a petition agreeing to pay the difference in cost between the present system and the new lights.

Maloney also reported the committee is studying ideas to increase off - street parking space in the downtown area. He said efforts will be made to encourage owners of business places to improve their properties.

A report also was presented by Harold Allison, chairman of a committee which has been studying various types of trash containers that might be used in the business district — replacing the present receptacles.

Allison's committee was instructed to proceed with purchase of the type of container it deems best. No number was specified immediately. The present business district trash containers were provided as a project of the merchants and the Chamber.

John Parsons of the Junior Chamber of Commerce gave a final report on his group's role in the annual Christmas activities program.

Merchants gave a vote of thanks to the Jaycees for their participation in the program, particularly commending the committee in charge.

The Dollar Day sale, set tomorrow, was discussed, along with future promotions. Ralph Finley, president, conducted business.

Next meeting is Tuesday, March 5.

Man Dies After Shooting Self To Avoid Arrest

VERSAILLES, Ky. (AP) — A Middletown, Ohio, man died early today of a bullet wound he inflicted himself when law enforcement authorities tried to arrest him for his wife's slaying, police reported.

Police Chief Robert Brown said William Taylor Hatton, 50, was being sought in conection with the death of his wife, Bertha, 50, of Middletown, found beaten to death Tuesday.

Police said Hatton shot himself in the jawbone and the bullet emerged from the top of his head. He died several hours later in a Lexington hospital. He never regained consciousness, police said.

Brown said he and two other officers went to the John Hatton home in Woodford County where they found William Hatton.

When officers tried to take him into custody, the chief said, the suspect ran into a room in the house and shot himself in the head with a .22-caliber pistol.

Hatton, who had been living at Middletown, returned to Woodford County Tuesday.

Dr. Garret Boone, Butler County coroner, said Mrs. Hatton was found dead on a bed at the couple's home at nearby Oneida. She apparently had been hit with a hammer, he said.

Democratic Figure Sues Cincinnati Paper

CINCINNATI (AP)—The chairman of the Hamilton County Democratic Policy Committee has filed a $150,000 damage suit against the Cincinnati Enquirer because of a letter to the editor it published.

Eugene Robinson said in his suit filed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court that the Enquirer published a letter Nov. 18 signed by a "Eugene Robinson" of his address. The suit says the letter made fun of the Democratic Party.

town residential area on April 10, he will launch his 27th year as a city mail carrier.

"Bud" began his mail career April 10, 1937, became a regular substitute carrier May 1, 1937, and was appointed a regular carrier March 1, 1946.

McDevitt covers four to five miles a day and makes some 400 stops on Route 1, which includes Broadway, E. 6th St., the Little Building, Market St. in the Diamond, W. 7th St., Dresden Ave., Woodlawn Ave., E. 8th St., St. John St. and Green Ln.

For 11 years "Bud" was the carrier on Mounted Route 19 in the Maplewood section and received a post office award for nine years of safe driving.

He resides on the Grimms Bridge Rd. with his wife, the former Dorothy McCombs, and three children, Linda Lee 15, James Michael 13, and Mary Elizabeth 9. He is a member of the East Liverpool - Calcutta Ruritan Club.

City Merchants Begin Plans For Traditional May Outing

Apparently prompted by the warmest temperatures in many days, the East Liverpool Merchants Association launched plans Tuesday for its traditional annual outing in May.

Meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office, the businessmen's group authorized Leslie Blumenthal to proceed with plans for the outing, which generally is highlighted by a trip to Pittsburgh by chartered bus to see a baseball game, with dinner following.

The outing always is held on a Wednesday afternoon, a half-holiday for city stores. The exact date will be set later.

Edwin Maloney, reporting for the downtown improvement committee, discussed progress on the project sponsored by the merchants to install new street lighting in the business district.

Council authorized installation of new fixtures after owners of business property signed a petition agreeing to pay the difference in cost between the present system and the new lights.

Maloney also reported the committee is studying ideas to increase off - street parking space in the downtown area. He said efforts will be made to encourage owners of business places to improve their properties.

A report also was presented by Harold Allison, chairman of a committee which has been studying various types of trash containers that might be used in the business district — replacing the present receptacles.

Allison's committee was instructed to proceed with purchase of the type of container it deems best. No number was specified immediately. The present business district trash containers were provided as a project of the merchants and the Chamber.

John Parsons of the Junior Chamber of Commerce gave a final report on his group's role in the annual Christmas activities program.

Merchants gave a vote of thanks to the Jaycees for their participation in the program, particularly commending the committee in charge.

The Dollar Day sale, set tomorrow, was discussed, along with future promotions. Ralph Finley, president, conducted business.

Next meeting is Tuesday, March 5.

Man Dies After Shooting Self To Avoid Arrest

VERSAILLES, Ky. (AP) — A Middletown, Ohio, man died early today of a bullet wound he inflicted himself when law enforcement authorities tried to arrest him for his wife's slaying, police reported.

Police Chief Robert Brown said William Taylor Hatton, 50, was being sought in conection with the death of his wife, Bertha, 50, of Middletown, found beaten to death Tuesday.

Police said Hatton shot himself in the jawbone and the bullet emerged from the top of his head. He died several hours later in a Lexington hospital. He never regained consciousness, police said.

Brown said he and two other officers went to the John Hatton home in Woodford County where they found William Hatton.

When officers tried to take him into custody, the chief said, the suspect ran into a room in the house and shot himself in the head with a .22-caliber pistol.

Hatton, who had been living at Middletown, returned to Woodford County Tuesday.

Dr. Garret Boone, Butler County coroner, said Mrs. Hatton was found dead on a bed at the couple's home at nearby Oneida. She apparently had been hit with a hammer, he said.

Democratic Figure Sues Cincinnati Paper

CINCINNATI (AP)—The chairman of the Hamilton County Democratic Policy Committee has filed a $150,000 damage suit against the Cincinnati Enquirer because of a letter to the editor it published.

Eugene Robinson said in his suit filed Tuesday in Common Pleas Court that the Enquirer published a letter Nov. 18 signed by a "Eugene Robinson" of his address. The suit says the letter made fun of the Democratic Party.

For Wellsville Vote

Fire Truck Levy To Be Submitted

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night adopted a resolution to place a levy on the ballot at the May primary for a new pumper truck for the fire department.

Council also established Daylight Saving Time for summer and agreed to have a survey made of the city's entire street lighting system as the first step in an improvement program.

The levy for the new truck will be for 2 mills for two years. The resolution was to be filed today, the deadline, by Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, Council clerk.

FIRE CHIEF ROBERT Lewis explained a new truck will cost approximately $40,000. He said Auditor Kenneth Bell said the city could set the levy at 2 mills for two years, 4 mills for one year or 1 mill for four years.

A mill in Wellsville under the new property valuation will raise approximately $10,000.

Lewis then recommended the city consider the two - year plan. He said this would save cost of interest over a longer period. He said the present truck, which is 13 years old, was paid for with 2½ mills for one year.

If the truck is paid for in two years, residents will not have to pay again for several more years, he commented. Lewis said the public will be informed as to the need of the new equipment and will be told exactly what it will cost.

COUNCIL AGREED to establish DST from April 28 to Oct. 27. The action came after a letter from the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce asked if the city intended to operate under the time change. The Chamber desired the information for a survey.

Councilmen agreed to establish DST and then voted on the matter. The actual legislation will be presented later.

Mayor William Daugherty urged Council to have the Ohio Power Co. make a survey of the street lighting with the idea of creating additional lighting.

The city's lighting system is paid by a 1.8-mill levy. A state examiner is checking the city's books and has found a surplus in the fund. He has suggested the city use the money for additional lighting.

THE MAYOR said if the survey is made properly, the result should be a well-balanced lighting system, far surpassing the present system.

Included in his request was a study of Arcadia Addition.

Councilman William Stroble, street and light chairman, said he has asked Ohio Power officials to arrange a meeting to begin the survey. Stroble polled Council and all agreed that the survey should be made.

Stroble also recommended that two new lights be installed as soon as possible on the brow of the 18th St. hill. He said the cost will be $83.71 for installation, as a new line has to be run over 700 feet, and $2.65 a month each for the two lights. Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said the funds are available.

Council then voted to proceed with the project with Councilman Robert Taggart dissenting. He said existing lights could be moved to create a better light pattern.

STROBLE SAID Earl W. Nelson, Division 11 deputy highway director at New Philadelphia, will meet with council Feb. 19. Stroble and Nelson will arrive in town early to confer with Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare on a test coating of a section of Clark Ave. Stroble commented on a news story that stated the survey of the relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville has been shelved temporarily.

Stroble also commented that East Liverpool Council had settled with the Ohio Valley Gas Co. for a rate increase of 5.6 per cent. He said the final offer made Wellsville was 8.6 per cent. He questioned Harold Sneddon, local manager of the utility, who was in the audience, as to why East Liverpool ended up with a lower rate than that offered Wellsville.

Sneddon commented that East Liverpool's rate was lowered because the city-hired rate expert and other officials sat down and talked "across the table." He said the utility is willing to do this with Wellsville, but that he does not believe the rate will be lowered very much more, if any.

HE SAID the figures are base on the cost of service, pointing out there are 6,800 customers in East Liverpool compared with 2,200 in Wellsville.

Stroble also urged councilmen to begin surveying the streets in their respective wards to prepare for the annual repair and resurfacing program. He said the street and light committee is in agreement that no more single sealcoating be applied as it does not hold up satisfactorily.

Stroble also commended Baldasare on the removal of snow from the streets during the recent bad weather.

Miller reported on a meeting he had with the state examiner now checking city books. He said several recommendations will be forthcoming from Auditor Edgar Davidson, such as establishing separate accounts for various monies and not including it in the general fund.

Mayor Daugherty presented reports for five months showing fines and fees of his office. They included August, $982.30; September, $529.20; October, $1,670.30; November, $938.60, and December, $846.75.

MILLER asked for the reports. The mayor said he had been delinquent in presenting them because he did not have the proper forms.

Councilman Allen Baldwin, refuse chairman, said his committee has been studying various problems and will meet again in the near future. He said the committee is investigating the possibility of having a man stationed at the city dump to control the dumping.

Taggart, water chairman, said the water committee will meet next week to discuss installation of a new line on Buckeye Ave. The pressure is very low. Baldasare said it is because of an old city main.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, complained of tractor-trailer units being parked on Main St. near 7th St. She said motorists pulling onto Main cannot see oncoming traffic. Baldasare said he will check with the owner to see if another parking place can be secured.

SNEDDON reported to Council a large area of Maple Ave. was ripped up over the weekend in an effort to locate a gas leak. He said the street will be repaired as soon as possible.

Miller offered the opening prayer. Mrs. Kay Drago, council member, was absent.

City Couple In Delaware Following Wedding Trip

Airman 2C and Mrs. Raymond E. Baker have returned from an Eastern honeymoon and are residing in Dover, Del., following their marriage the evening of Jan. 19 at 6 o'clock in the Gardendale Church of the Nazarene.

The bride was Miss Beverly Jean Gamble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Ross of Woodbine Ave., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Baker of 7th Ave., LaCroft.

The Rev. Robert Helfrich, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and candelabra. Leland Davis played a half hour of organ music. David Varian sang "O Promise Me," "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of rose point lace. The Basque bodice was designed with a scalloped scoop neckline, outlined in seed pearls, and long, pointed sleeves.

The bouffant skirt was formed of five jeweled tiers in the front with a solid lace back. The flounce hemline was edged in scalloped lace. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a princess crown of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers.

Mrs. Clyde Cunningham was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Gamble, sister of the bride, and Miss Diana Gamble, her cousin. They wore dresses of chromspun taffeta, the matron of honor in petal pink and the bridemaids in emerald green. They were fashioned with bateau necklines, elbow-length sleeves and soft pleated skirts, acented with bows at the waist.

They wore matching theater veils and carried Colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Crystal Plumley, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pink nylon dress with matching flowered hat. She carried a basket of spring flowers. Danny Flowers, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a melon-color wool sheath and the bridegroom's mother wore royal blue. White accessories and carnation corsages complemented their attire.

A reception for 150 followed in the recreation hall of the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene. The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple.

For Wellsville Vote

Fire Truck Levy To Be Submitted

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night adopted a resolution to place a levy on the ballot at the May primary for a new pumper truck for the fire department.

Council also established Daylight Saving Time for summer and agreed to have a survey made of the city's entire street lighting system as the first step in an improvement program.

The levy for the new truck will be for 2 mills for two years. The resolution was to be filed today, the deadline, by Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, Council clerk.

FIRE CHIEF ROBERT Lewis explained a new truck will cost approximately $40,000. He said Auditor Kenneth Bell said the city could set the levy at 2 mills for two years, 4 mills for one year or 1 mill for four years.

A mill in Wellsville under the new property valuation will raise approximately $10,000.

Lewis then recommended the city consider the two - year plan. He said this would save cost of interest over a longer period. He said the present truck, which is 13 years old, was paid for with 2½ mills for one year.

If the truck is paid for in two years, residents will not have to pay again for several more years, he commented. Lewis said the public will be informed as to the need of the new equipment and will be told exactly what it will cost.

COUNCIL AGREED to establish DST from April 28 to Oct. 27. The action came after a letter from the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce asked if the city intended to operate under the time change. The Chamber desired the information for a survey.

Councilmen agreed to establish DST and then voted on the matter. The actual legislation will be presented later.

Mayor William Daugherty urged Council to have the Ohio Power Co. make a survey of the street lighting with the idea of creating additional lighting.

The city's lighting system is paid by a 1.8-mill levy. A state examiner is checking the city's books and has found a surplus in the fund. He has suggested the city use the money for additional lighting.

THE MAYOR said if the survey is made properly, the result should be a well-balanced lighting system, far surpassing the present system.

Included in his request was a study of Arcadia Addition.

Councilman William Stroble, street and light chairman, said he has asked Ohio Power officials to arrange a meeting to begin the survey. Stroble polled Council and all agreed that the survey should be made.

Stroble also recommended that two new lights be installed as soon as possible on the brow of the 18th St. hill. He said the cost will be $83.71 for installation, as a new line has to be run over 700 feet, and $2.65 a month each for the two lights. Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said the funds are available.

Council then voted to proceed with the project with Councilman Robert Taggart dissenting. He said existing lights could be moved to create a better light pattern.

STROBLE SAID Earl W. Nelson, Division 11 deputy highway director at New Philadelphia, will meet with council Feb. 19. Stroble and Nelson will arrive in town early to confer with Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare on a test coating of a section of Clark Ave. Stroble commented on a news story that stated the survey of the relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville has been shelved temporarily.

Stroble also commented that East Liverpool Council had settled with the Ohio Valley Gas Co. for a rate increase of 5.6 per cent. He said the final offer made Wellsville was 8.6 per cent. He questioned Harold Sneddon, local manager of the utility, who was in the audience, as to why East Liverpool ended up with a lower rate than that offered Wellsville.

Sneddon commented that East Liverpool's rate was lowered because the city-hired rate expert and other officials sat down and talked "across the table." He said the utility is willing to do this with Wellsville, but that he does not believe the rate will be lowered very much more, if any.

HE SAID the figures are base on the cost of service, pointing out there are 6,800 customers in East Liverpool compared with 2,200 in Wellsville.

Stroble also urged councilmen to begin surveying the streets in their respective wards to prepare for the annual repair and resurfacing program. He said the street and light committee is in agreement that no more single sealcoating be applied as it does not hold up satisfactorily.

Stroble also commended Baldasare on the removal of snow from the streets during the recent bad weather.

Miller reported on a meeting he had with the state examiner now checking city books. He said several recommendations will be forthcoming from Auditor Edgar Davidson, such as establishing separate accounts for various monies and not including it in the general fund.

Mayor Daugherty presented reports for five months showing fines and fees of his office. They included August, $982.30; September, $529.20; October, $1,670.30; November, $938.60, and December, $846.75.

MILLER asked for the reports. The mayor said he had been delinquent in presenting them because he did not have the proper forms.

Councilman Allen Baldwin, refuse chairman, said his committee has been studying various problems and will meet again in the near future. He said the committee is investigating the possibility of having a man stationed at the city dump to control the dumping.

Taggart, water chairman, said the water committee will meet next week to discuss installation of a new line on Buckeye Ave. The pressure is very low. Baldasare said it is because of an old city main.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, complained of tractor-trailer units being parked on Main St. near 7th St. She said motorists pulling onto Main cannot see oncoming traffic. Baldasare said he will check with the owner to see if another parking place can be secured.

SNEDDON reported to Council a large area of Maple Ave. was ripped up over the weekend in an effort to locate a gas leak. He said the street will be repaired as soon as possible.

Miller offered the opening prayer. Mrs. Kay Drago, council member, was absent.

LISBON — Meal planning with frozen foods will be the discussion for the training session for leaders of the Township Home Demonstration groups to be held Feb. 12 at 1 p. m. in St. George Parish Hall.

Mrs. Pauline Hall, nutritionist at Ohio State University, will be the leader.

Those who attend will receive the information and then lead the sessions in their local home economics clubs during meetings the following month.

Vice Admiral Dies

CAZENOVIA, N.Y. (AP) — Vice Admiral William S. Farber, 79, a deputy chief of naval operations during World War II, died Tuesday. Farber, who assumed command of naval logistics in 1943, was born in Frankfort, Ind.

City Couple In Delaware Following Wedding Trip

Airman 2C and Mrs. Raymond E. Baker have returned from an Eastern honeymoon and are residing in Dover, Del., following their marriage the evening of Jan. 19 at 6 o'clock in the Gardendale Church of the Nazarene.

The bride was Miss Beverly Jean Gamble, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Ross of Woodbine Ave., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Baker of 7th Ave., LaCroft.

The Rev. Robert Helfrich, pastor, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and candelabra. Leland Davis played a half hour of organ music. David Varian sang "O Promise Me," "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of rose point lace. The Basque bodice was designed with a scalloped scoop neckline, outlined in seed pearls, and long, pointed sleeves.

The bouffant skirt was formed of five jeweled tiers in the front with a solid lace back. The flounce hemline was edged in scalloped lace. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a princess crown of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids and satin streamers.

Mrs. Clyde Cunningham was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Gamble, sister of the bride, and Miss Diana Gamble, her cousin. They wore dresses of chromspun taffeta, the matron of honor in petal pink and the bridemaids in emerald green. They were fashioned with bateau necklines, elbow-length sleeves and soft pleated skirts, acented with bows at the waist.

They wore matching theater veils and carried Colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Crystal Plumley, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pink nylon dress with matching flowered hat. She carried a basket of spring flowers. Danny Flowers, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a melon-color wool sheath and the bridegroom's mother wore royal blue. White accessories and carnation corsages complemented their attire.

A reception for 150 followed in the recreation hall of the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene. The buffet table was centered with a three-tier cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Mrs. William Cain led devotions.

Hostesses were Mrs. Carl Armstrong and Miss Goldie Carlisle.

The Altar and Rosary Society of St. George's Catholic Church met Monday evening at the Parish Hall with 26 present.

Mrs. James McLaughlin, president, presided for business with reports of the committee chairman. A report of the meeting of the Columbiana County Deanery of National Council of Catholic Women was given by Mrs. John Vokovich.

Announcement was made of the national NCCW convention to be held May 16 at Geneva, Ohio.

The society will sell refreshments at a farm sale Saturday and sponsor a public card party at the Parish Hall Feb. 16.

"Cars vs. Scholarships," a program concerning traffic safety, for young people, was given by Mrs. McLaughlin.

Mrs. William Vebelum, Miss Angie Gabriel, Mrs. Pastore and Mrs. Kenneth Foster were hostesses.

Next meeting is March 4. There will be no lunch committee because of the Lenten season.

Seventeen were present when the Coterie met Monday evening with Mrs. Perlee Bye of W. Chestnut St.

"To Light a Candle" was the book reviewed by Mrs. Frank Adomitis for the program.

A donation was approved for a 4-H project.

A letter from Mrs. Kathryn Maxwell of Princeton, N. J., former member, was read by Miss Lois Armstrong.

Folk and square dancing was demonstrated by a group of Camp Fire Girls sponsored by the auxiliary with Mrs. Ray Hempstead, Mrs. Richard Bowling, Mrs. Donald Loch, Mrs. Fayson Miller and Mrs. Richard Kennedy leaders.

Next meeting is March 4.

Seaman Rct. O. L. Brown Jr., son of Mrs. Lavina Brown of W. Washington St., is taking boot training at San Diego. He entered the Navy in December.

Pughtown Woman Unhurt In Skid Crash

A Pughtown woman escaped unhurt when her auto skidded on ice and damaged a guardrail along State Route 2 Tuesday afternoon at 12:15, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

Deputies said Volga Cameron, 53, of Box 26, Pughtown, was driving north when she lost control of her 1955 Plymouth at the bottom of a grade near Tomlinson Run State Park.

The vehicle skidded on ice and broke off a guardrail, deputies said. Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

years. Married, he is making his first bid for elective office.

Price is president of the United Progressive Council and a member of Walter O'Neil American Legion Post 533 and Magnet City Elks Lodge, both of Midland. He served two years in the Army Medical Corps, including duty in Germany.

Ferlaino, a jiggerman at the Hall China Co., also is making his first bid in politics. He is a member of the IBOP.

Married and the father of two grown children, he is a native of East Liverpool. Ferlaino is a member of American Legion Post 374 and the Sons of Italy Lodge at Wellsville.

William E. Davis, 713 Edwards Ave., who filed earlier for the Democratic nomination for Fourth Ward councilman, has been employed 18 years at the Crucible plant.

A native of East Liverpool, Davis is a graduate of East Liverpool High School, where he was a football star from 1936-38 under Coach Joe Morbito and also played in various baseball leagues. He attended John Carroll University in Cleveland.

Davis is vice president of the Democrat Club and a member of St. Aloysius Catholic Church. He is married and father of a daughter.

James W. Young, 35, of 714 Laura Ave., who filed Monday for the Democratic nomination for Second Ward councilman, is an employe of the Potters Supply Co. and president of IBOP Local 163. He formerly was employed at the American Paper Products Co.

Married and the father of four children, he has resided in the Second Ward 24 years.

A member of St. Aloysius Catholic Church and the Democrat Boosters Club, Young is a delegate to the Trades and Labor Council from his IBOP local.

Payne, the new Democratic candidate for treasurer here, is making his first bid for public office. He is a retired pipe-fitter at the Crucible plant.

Married and the father of eight sons and daughters, he is a World War I veteran. He is a member of the VFW, Disabled American Veterans and St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

Bush, who resides at 435 Riverside Ave., will be seeking his second full term as Wellsville solicitor. He was appointed in March 1958 and then was elected to a full term. He is a former member of the Board of Education and presently serves as Chamber of Commerce secretary and secretary of the Kiwanis Club.

He is a member of East Liverpool Lodge 379 of the Odd Fellows and is a member and Sunday School superintendent of the First Methodist Church. He is married and has six children.

Mrs. Rahter, owner of the Rahter Wallpaper Store, 711 Main St., will be seeking her fourth term as Council president. She served one term, then dropped out to become a mayorality candidate but lost the nomination. She then returned to become Council president and is serving her second consecutive term now.

She is a former member of the Board of Education. She is a member of the First Methodist Church, the Wellsville Lady Elks, Wellsville Women's Arts Club and the Order of Eastern Star.

Incumbent Mayor Daugherty announced earlier he would seek a second term. He will be opposed on the Democrat ticket by Councilman Allen Baldwin.

Meanwhile, three office holders at Wellsville have announced they will not seek new terms. They are Treasurer Charles W. Stewart, a Republican, and Councilmen Donald Miller and Robert Taggart, Democrats.

Stewart has been in politics in Wellsville over 20 years, having served as councilman, clerk of Council, and is in his third term as treasurer.

Miller declined because of other obligations and his work. Taggart has served on Council consecutively since 1946 except for one term.

Grafton, who resides at 1720 Buckeye Ave., is making his first try for the treasurer's post. He was a mayorality candidate on the GOP ticket in 1961 primary.

Owner of the Grafton Motor Sales, he is a member of the Southern Ruritan Club, the Wellsville Kiwanis Club and is a trustee at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church. He also is a member of the East Liverpool Salvation Army Advisory Board and is chairman of the Wellsville chapter.

Grafton is married and has a daughter.

earning interest on deposit and claiming the investment interest for the general fund, and claiming revenue available to the city from the new property tax reappraisal in the county.

The safety-service director's salary was raised $30 a month. That of the police and fire chiefs was raised $20, while their assistants or captains receive $15. Regular police and firemen receive $12 monthly and all other salaried employes $10. The new pay schedule is as follows:

Full-time laborers, extra and part-time laborers, sewage disposal relief man, filtration plant relief man, special police and firemen and water meter reader and repairman, $1.67 an hour; truck drivers, $1.72; truck driver - mechanic, first class, $1.97, and second class, $1.82.

Safety-service director, $445 a month; sewage disposal and floodwall operator, filtration plant operator and cemetery superintendent, $340 each; the sewage, water and cemetery clerk, $375; sanitation clerk, $185; police chief, $385; police captain, $370; police and firemen, $357; fire chief, $385; assistant fire chief, $370; City Hall janitor, $100; parking meter collector and repairman, $210; relief director, $300, volunteer firemen, $2.75 an hour on duty.

The legislation also designated the salary of the safety - service director will be paid as follows—$77.50 from the street fund, $100 from general fund, $105 from the water fund, $105 from sewage disposal fund, $52.50 from refuse fund, and $5 from parking meter fund.

The sewage disposal and floodwall operator will be paid $175 from sewage fund and $165 from the floodwall fund. The sanitation clerk will be paid $138 from the refuse fund, and $47 from the sewage disposal fund. The clerk for water, sewage and cemetery will be paid $292 from water, $46.50 from sewage disposal and $36.50 from cemetery.

The salary increase of $12 monthly for one of the regular police officers will be taken from the parking meter fund.

Mayor William Daugherty explained last month the modest raises have been provided without affecting existing services or depleting existing funds.

Councilman William Stroble commented he was happy Council could grant the increase and said the finance committee did a lot of work on the project.

Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said "we have been asked why we were discussing a wage tax earlier and now grant pay raises. I still feel deep in my heart we need an income tax," he said, pointing out the money could be used to purchase needed equipment.

Chief At Aliquippa Suspended By Council

ALIQUIPPA — Police Chief Nino Colonna, suspended Monday night for 30 days on various charges, had no comment on the action of the Borough Council.

Council handed down the suspension on charges of violating state laws, neglect of duties, inefficiency and conduct unbecoming an officer.

The action came on an opinion by Solicitor Arthur Herskovitz and stemmed from the alleged prosecution of a number of moonshine and gambling cases under a borough ordinance instead of under state law.

Crew Clears Ice On Street

A city street department crew went to work today on clearing a thick accumulation of ice along curbs on W. 5th St. from Market St. west to Jackson St.

Crews first broke up the ice with picks and shoveled it onto a truck. Later in the morning, the city's grader and new front - end loader were assigned to the task of breaking up the ice.

The ice was formed after the 8-inch snowfall of nearly two weeks ago. The accumulation along the curbs was 12 inches thick in spots, built up by snow shoved off adjoining sidewalks.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin said the crew expects to clear the curb area as far west as Jackson St. today if time permits.

Meanwhile, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said the administration has received several reports that bad holes are developing again in the blacktop pavement in outer St. Clair Ave. Many holes were patched with blacktop in the same area in recent weeks.

Owen said the new chuckholes will be patched as soon as possible. Meanwhile, they may be filled temporarily with slag or similar material, he said.

Street department crews were called out last night and again early today to scatter ashes on slippery pavements. A thaw yesterday allowed moisture to form on the streets. It turned to ice as temperatures fell.

Boy Scout Week Center Will Be Open For 3 Days

A "Boy Scout Center" will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the former Fortiner Drugstore rooms on Washington St. in observance of national Boy Scout Week Robert Gray, Cherokee District official, announced today.

A display of flags from area scout units, handicraft items, campcraft, posters and other exhibits will be erected to mark the 53rd anniversary of the scout movement.

The display room, open to the public, will also serve as a recruiting station for any interested youths.

Scouts will be on hand to provide information concerning Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer groups.

The storeroom will be open tomorrow afternoon, Friday and Saturday.

Hookstown Class Makes Donation

A contribution of $150 for the Seminary Scholarship Fund was authorized by the Philathean Class of the Hookstown Presbyterian Church Tuesday night at a meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marry.

Plans were also made for a kitchen utensil party March 19. Mrs. Everet Make, president, conducted business and was in charge of games. Miss Jane Nickle led devotions.

Ten attended. Lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Phyllis Swearingen. The group will meet March 5.

About 20 attended. Mrs. William Laughlin assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

rounding communities — $350,000 —will be spent for routine growth and modernization projects.

Among these are extension of underground and aerial cables, installation of telephones and more switching equipment at the various exchange buildings.

Honicky said that part of the routine growth money will also be spent on services for business and industry such as automatic dialers and answering sets, call directors, PBX consoles and wide area telephone and data services. communications, of course, will "This attention to business not conflict with our efforts to keep pace with the needs of the residential customer," he said.

Last year saw a gain of 405 phones in the East Liverpool - Wellsville area, bringing the total to 19,500. According to Ohio Bell predictions, another 300 phones will be added this year.

One of the phone company's continuing projects here will be the conversion of all phone numbers to all-number calling numbers. To date, approximately one of every four customers has an all-digit number, and Ohio Bell plans to complete the switch to ANC in all of its territory by the end of 1966.

All-number calling is needed to handle the growing demand for more telephones. There are more than 85 million phones in the U.S. and Canada today, with twice that many anticipated by 1975.

The local increase in telephones is also reflected in the rise in calling volume. People in East Liverpool and Wellsville last year placed an average of 90,900 local calls on a normal business day. Five years ago they placed 84,600 such calls.

Long distance traffic is on the increase, too, with people here placing more than 3,200 calls per day to out-of-town points. This is 900 more calls a day than in 1957.

years. Married, he is making his first bid for elective office.

Price is president of the United Progressive Council and a member of Walter O'Neil American Legion Post 533 and Magnet City Elks Lodge, both of Midland. He served two years in the Army Medical Corps, including duty in Germany.

Ferlaino, a jiggerman at the Hall China Co., also is making his first bid in politics. He is a member of the IBOP.

Married and the father of two grown children, he is a native of East Liverpool. Ferlaino is a member of American Legion Post 374 and the Sons of Italy Lodge at Wellsville.

William E. Davis, 713 Edwards Ave., who filed earlier for the Democratic nomination for Fourth Ward councilman, has been employed 18 years at the Crucible plant.

A native of East Liverpool, Davis is a graduate of East Liverpool High School, where he was a football star from 1936-38 under Coach Joe Morbito and also played in various baseball leagues. He attended John Carroll University in Cleveland.

Davis is vice president of the Democrat Club and a member of St. Aloysius Catholic Church. He is married and father of a daughter.

James W. Young, 35, of 714 Laura Ave., who filed Monday for the Democratic nomination for Second Ward councilman, is an employe of the Potters Supply Co. and president of IBOP Local 163. He formerly was employed at the American Paper Products Co.

Married and the father of four children, he has resided in the Second Ward 24 years.

A member of St. Aloysius Catholic Church and the Democrat Boosters Club, Young is a delegate to the Trades and Labor Council from his IBOP local.

Payne, the new Democratic candidate for treasurer here, is making his first bid for public office. He is a retired pipe-fitter at the Crucible plant.

Married and the father of eight sons and daughters, he is a World War I veteran. He is a member of the VFW, Disabled American Veterans and St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

Bush, who resides at 435 Riverside Ave., will be seeking his second full term as Wellsville solicitor. He was appointed in March 1958 and then was elected to a full term. He is a former member of the Board of Education and presently serves as Chamber of Commerce secretary and secretary of the Kiwanis Club.

He is a member of East Liverpool Lodge 379 of the Odd Fellows and is a member and Sunday School superintendent of the First Methodist Church. He is married and has six children.

Mrs. Rahter, owner of the Rahter Wallpaper Store, 711 Main St., will be seeking her fourth term as Council president. She served one term, then dropped out to become a mayorality candidate but lost the nomination. She then returned to become Council president and is serving her second consecutive term now.

She is a former member of the Board of Education. She is a member of the First Methodist Church, the Wellsville Lady Elks, Wellsville Women's Arts Club and the Order of Eastern Star.

Incumbent Mayor Daugherty announced earlier he would seek a second term. He will be opposed on the Democrat ticket by Councilman Allen Baldwin.

Meanwhile, three office holders at Wellsville have announced they will not seek new terms. They are Treasurer Charles W. Stewart, a Republican, and Councilmen Donald Miller and Robert Taggart, Democrats.

Stewart has been in politics in Wellsville over 20 years, having served as councilman, clerk of Council, and is in his third term as treasurer.

Miller declined because of other obligations and his work. Taggart has served on Council consecutively since 1946 except for one term.

Grafton, who resides at 1720 Buckeye Ave., is making his first try for the treasurer's post. He was a mayorality candidate on the GOP ticket in 1961 primary.

Owner of the Grafton Motor Sales, he is a member of the Southern Ruritan Club, the Wellsville Kiwanis Club and is a trustee at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church. He also is a member of the East Liverpool Salvation Army Advisory Board and is chairman of the Wellsville chapter.

Grafton is married and has a daughter.

earning interest on deposit and claiming the investment interest for the general fund, and claiming revenue available to the city from the new property tax reappraisal in the county.

The safety-service director's salary was raised $30 a month. That of the police and fire chiefs was raised $20, while their assistants or captains receive $15. Regular police and firemen receive $12 monthly and all other salaried employes $10. The new pay schedule is as follows:

Full-time laborers, extra and part-time laborers, sewage disposal relief man, filtration plant relief man, special police and firemen and water meter reader and repairman, $1.67 an hour; truck drivers, $1.72; truck driver - mechanic, first class, $1.97, and second class, $1.82.

Safety-service director, $445 a month; sewage disposal and floodwall operator, filtration plant operator and cemetery superintendent, $340 each; the sewage, water and cemetery clerk, $375; sanitation clerk, $185; police chief, $385; police captain, $370; police and firemen, $357; fire chief, $385; assistant fire chief, $370; City Hall janitor, $100; parking meter collector and repairman, $210; relief director, $300, volunteer firemen, $2.75 an hour on duty.

The legislation also designated the salary of the safety - service director will be paid as follows—$77.50 from the street fund, $100 from general fund, $105 from the water fund, $105 from sewage disposal fund, $52.50 from refuse fund, and $5 from parking meter fund.

The sewage disposal and floodwall operator will be paid $175 from sewage fund and $165 from the floodwall fund. The sanitation clerk will be paid $138 from the refuse fund, and $47 from the sewage disposal fund. The clerk for water, sewage and cemetery will be paid $292 from water, $46.50 from sewage disposal and $36.50 from cemetery.

The salary increase of $12 monthly for one of the regular police officers will be taken from the parking meter fund.

Mayor William Daugherty explained last month the modest raises have been provided without affecting existing services or depleting existing funds.

Councilman William Stroble commented he was happy Council could grant the increase and said the finance committee did a lot of work on the project.

Councilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, said "we have been asked why we were discussing a wage tax earlier and now grant pay raises. I still feel deep in my heart we need an income tax," he said, pointing out the money could be used to purchase needed equipment.

Chief At Aliquippa Suspended By Council

ALIQUIPPA — Police Chief Nino Colonna, suspended Monday night for 30 days on various charges, had no comment on the action of the Borough Council.

Council handed down the suspension on charges of violating state laws, neglect of duties, inefficiency and conduct unbecoming an officer.

The action came on an opinion by Solicitor Arthur Herskovitz and stemmed from the alleged prosecution of a number of moonshine and gambling cases under a borough ordinance instead of under state law.

Crew Clears Ice On Street

A city street department crew went to work today on clearing a thick accumulation of ice along curbs on W. 5th St. from Market St. west to Jackson St.

Crews first broke up the ice with picks and shoveled it onto a truck. Later in the morning, the city's grader and new front - end loader were assigned to the task of breaking up the ice.

The ice was formed after the 8-inch snowfall of nearly two weeks ago. The accumulation along the curbs was 12 inches thick in spots, built up by snow shoved off adjoining sidewalks.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin said the crew expects to clear the curb area as far west as Jackson St. today if time permits.

Meanwhile, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen said the administration has received several reports that bad holes are developing again in the blacktop pavement in outer St. Clair Ave. Many holes were patched with blacktop in the same area in recent weeks.

Owen said the new chuckholes will be patched as soon as possible. Meanwhile, they may be filled temporarily with slag or similar material, he said.

Street department crews were called out last night and again early today to scatter ashes on slippery pavements. A thaw yesterday allowed moisture to form on the streets. It turned to ice as temperatures fell.

Boy Scout Week Center Will Be Open For 3 Days

A "Boy Scout Center" will be open Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the former Fortiner Drugstore rooms on Washington St. in observance of national Boy Scout Week Robert Gray, Cherokee District official, announced today.

A display of flags from area scout units, handicraft items, campcraft, posters and other exhibits will be erected to mark the 53rd anniversary of the scout movement.

The display room, open to the public, will also serve as a recruiting station for any interested youths.

Scouts will be on hand to provide information concerning Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer groups.

The storeroom will be open tomorrow afternoon, Friday and Saturday.

Hookstown Class Makes Donation

A contribution of $150 for the Seminary Scholarship Fund was authorized by the Philathean Class of the Hookstown Presbyterian Church Tuesday night at a meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marry.

Plans were also made for a kitchen utensil party March 19. Mrs. Everet Make, president, conducted business and was in charge of games. Miss Jane Nickle led devotions.

Ten attended. Lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Phyllis Swearingen. The group will meet March 5.

About 20 attended. Mrs. William Laughlin assisted the hostess in serving lunch.

rounding communities — $350,000 —will be spent for routine growth and modernization projects.

Among these are extension of underground and aerial cables, installation of telephones and more switching equipment at the various exchange buildings.

Honicky said that part of the routine growth money will also be spent on services for business and industry such as automatic dialers and answering sets, call directors, PBX consoles and wide area telephone and data services. communications, of course, will

"This attention to business not conflict with our efforts to keep pace with the needs of the residential customer," he said.

Last year saw a gain of 405 phones in the East Liverpool - Wellsville area, bringing the total to 19,500. According to Ohio Bell predictions, another 300 phones will be added this year.

One of the phone company's continuing projects here will be the conversion of all phone numbers to all-number calling numbers. To date, approximately one of every four customers has an all-digit number, and Ohio Bell plans to complete the switch to ANC in all of its territory by the end of 1966.

All-number calling is needed to handle the growing demand for more telephones. There are more than 85 million phones in the U.S. and Canada today, with twice that many anticipated by 1975.

The local increase in telephones is also reflected in the rise in calling volume. People in East Liverpool and Wellsville last year placed an average of 90,900 local calls on a normal business day. Five years ago they placed 84,600 such calls.

Long distance traffic is on the increase, too, with people here placing more than 3,200 calls per day to out-of-town points. This is 900 more calls a day than in 1957.

Club Hears Eckert

City Master Plan Would Be Guide

"East Liverpool is finally on the way to doing something about preparation of a master plan," Don Eckert told the Rotary Club Tuesday in reference to Council's approval Monday night to have its finance committee study a request for $10,000 to pay for a master plan contract.

Chairman of the Municipal Planning Commission that recommended the appropriation, Eckert told the club in a penetrating look into commission activities that "preparation of a master plan now looks very favorable."

HE EXPLAINED that the $10,000 appropriation question now awaits study by the Council finance committee and, if supported, goes on to the ordinance committee for preparation of legislation authorizing the funds for the commission.

Citing the purpose of a comprehensive plan, Eckert said "it is nothing more than a guide to the efficient operation of a business—the city of East Liverpool."

He also reviewed the potentials of planning for East Liverpool, work of the commission, and asked for support of residents towards formulating a master plan in speaking at the club's noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

Eckert spoke frequently of the one factor that he said has stood in the way of realization of a master plan for the city —funds.

USING A commonly - mentioned figure of $30,000 as cost of the comprehensive plan, Eckert explained that by complying with certain rules, the federal government would agree to pay two-thirds of the amount, or $20,000.

"That leaves $10,000 for the city to pay, and possibly $2,000 to $4,000 of this could be saved by having some city officials — including the solicitor and engineer —do some of the work," Eckert said. "This gives us a fairly low cost of obtaining the plan," he added.

Eckert said the federal government shares in the cost willingly under "Plan 701" because an inefficiently operated city "could become a slum area."

Moving to the comprehensive plan itself, Eckert told the club that the commission considers recommendations from residents and arrives at what it wants the plan to include, passing along the information to consultants.

"WE TELL him what we want and he tries to carry out our wishes. If the plan isn't fit, we can reject it," he said. Once the commission has given favorable approval to the master plan, it is presented to Council for the final consideration.

Citing the need for the master plan, Eckert declared that "the city is getting by on a plan formulated 50 years ago." Officials are no longer operating the city, they are just trying to keep up," he added.

"Too many look at a master plan as a restriction, rather than protection. It doesn't restrict a new company from coming to East Liverpool, rather it restricts the area where it will locate, a safeguard to property investments," Eckert said.

ECKERT SAID a master plan would also eliminate "the overlapping of a hodgepodge of activity by working committees" and join them together in a united front for more efficiency.

He said the commission has been in effect six years, meeting frequently for several years and listening to proposals, then becoming inactive for lack of funds. Some of its early work is outmoded and needs revision, he added.

Concluding, Eckert said he feels the present seven-member commission "should be junked and set up again with men who have the time to attend meetings consistently." Four members of the Commission are appointed. The terms of two on the commission expire in July.

3 New Members Join Radio Unit

Brooks Mayfield, Ron Wathey and Alvin Lucas were enrolled as new members when the Pennova Citizen's Band Club met Monday night at Jim's Auction Hall in Glenmoor.

Ron Keys, president, presided and a committee was named to hear any complaints from area residents of television interference from citizen's band radio.

Members to be contacted by persons with complaints are Keys in Glenmoor, Al Goodwin of LaCroft, Jim Nentwick of Vine St., Dave LaNeve of Campground Rd., Floyd Saltsman of Y. & O. Rd., and Jim Yost of Chester.

Members aided in the search for an aircraft reportedly down in the Shippingport area Friday night, and returned to the scene Saturday. Twenty-seven attended the meeting.

Next meeting is Feb. 18 at 7:30 p. m.

Liquor Purchase OK'd From Firm In Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Saying "the publicity should make it a good seller," an Ohio Department of Liquor Control official has authorized purchase of $90,000 worth of Waterfill & Frazier Co. whisky.

William S. MacKenzie, deputy director in charge of purchases, candidly said he has ordered the product because of the publicity it got during the recent grand jury investigation of alleged influence peddling in the state liquor monopoly.

The company's president, Joseph A. Makler, was the key figure in the probe, complaining he had to pay to have his brand listed and that it later was dropped from the department listing.

Rep. Taft Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have assigned Reps. Robert A. Taft Jr. of Ohio and Paul Findley of Illinois to the House Committee on Education and Labor.

Council Given Traffic Data At Wellsville

Wellsville had two traffic fatalities during 1962 — both pedestrians — according to the annual report presented Wellsville City Council Tuesday night by Police Chief John B. Hephner.

The city also had two traffic fatalities in 1961, but was free of deaths in 1960 and 1959.

Nine pedestrian accidents were reported during the year. A total of 162 accidents, an increase over the 150 reported in 1961, were investigated by the department last year.

Of these, 118 were two - car accidents, 11 involved three cars and 25 involved fixed projects. There were 16 injuries as a result of the mishaps.

Fifty-three persons were arrested. Five were drunk drivers, six were in violation of motor vehicle laws and 42 were in moving violations of road and driving laws.

The department answered and documented 3,126 calls and made a total of 379 arrests. Of these, 134 were violations of city ordinances (misdemeanors), three were violations of state laws (felonies) and 242 were traffic violations.

Of the traffic violations, aside from those in accidents, 76 were violations of road and driving laws, 25 were violations of motor vehicle laws, 23 were for driving while under the influence and 118 were parking infractions.

Not included in the regular report were 35 juvenile cases handled by local and juvenile authorities through the direction of Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon. Chief Hephner personally handled five, Mayor William Daugherty also handled five, a juvenile officer investigated seven and Judge Tobin handled 18.

During the year the department investigated 22 cases of breaking and entering, 11 cases of grand larceny, 17 cases of petty larceny and four auto thefts.

A total of 4,206 parking meter tickets were issued. A total of $2,030 was collected in parking meter fines.

Elected As Bishop

Dividend Declared

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—A dividend of 40 cents per share was declared Tuesday by the board of directors of Marathon Oil Co. The dividend is payable March 11 to shareholders of record Feb. 15.

Auto Plunges To Shoreline

A city couple escaped with minor injuries when their car spun out of control on ice, struck another and then plunged over an embankment, coming to a halt at the edge of the Ohio River Tuesday night at 10:10 on Route 7 three-tenths a mile south of Empire.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the car was driven by John F. Cunningham, 313 Market St.

Officers said Cunningham, headed north, started to pass another northbound car driven by June P. Bankhouser, 43, of Toronto. Cunningham struck an icy spot on the pavement and skidded. His car then hit the Bankhauser car and continued on, plunging over the embankment. It halted at the edge of the river.

Cunningham and his wife, Mrs. Mary Lou Cunningham, were thrown from the car just out from shore. He said they landed in about two feet of water.

They were en route home from the Wellsville - Steubenville basketball game at Steubenville.

Cunningham was cited for improper passing, according to the patrol.

Observance Planned At Beauticians Dinner

Thirty attended a dinner of the local unit of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association Tuesday night at Meade's Restaurant at Wellsville, preparing for the opening of National Beauty Salon Week Sunday.

Plans were made for the public hair fashion show Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 7:30 p. m. at Westgate School auditorium. Tickets will be available from hairdressers. Hairdressers participating in the show were reminded to attend rehearsal with their models next Tuesday night at 7 at Westgate.

Hairdressers who expect to perform free services for residents of rest homes and child wards of public agencies were asked to phone Mrs. Evelyn Messenger of Wellsville.

HE EXPLAINED that the $10,000 appropriation question now awaits study by the Council finance committee and, if supported, goes on to the ordinance committee for preparation of legislation authorizing the funds for the commission.

Citing the purpose of a comprehensive plan, Eckert said "it is nothing more than a guide to the efficient operation of a business—the city of East Liverpool."

He also reviewed the potentials of planning for East Liverpool, work of the commission, and asked for support of residents towards formulating a master plan in speaking at the club's noon luncheon meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

Eckert spoke frequently of the one factor that he said has stood in the way of realization of a master plan for the city —funds.

USING A commonly - mentioned figure of $30,000 as cost of the comprehensive plan, Eckert explained that by complying with certain rules, the federal government would agree to pay two-thirds of the amount, or $20,000.

"That leaves $10,000 for the city to pay, and possibly $2,000 to $4,000 of this could be saved by having some city officials — including the solicitor and engineer —do some of the work," Eckert said. "This gives us a fairly low cost of obtaining the plan," he added.

Eckert said the federal government shares in the cost willingly under "Plan 701" because an inefficiently operated city "could become a slum area."

Moving to the comprehensive plan itself, Eckert told the club that the commission considers recommendations from residents and arrives at what it wants the plan to include, passing along the information to consultants.

"WE TELL him what we want and he tries to carry out our wishes. If the plan isn't fit, we can reject it," he said. Once the commission has given favorable approval to the master plan, it is presented to Council for the final consideration.

Citing the need for the master plan, Eckert declared that "the city is getting by on a plan formulated 50 years ago." Officials are no longer operating the city, they are just trying to keep up," he added.

"Too many look at a master plan as a restriction, rather than protection. It doesn't restrict a new company from coming to East Liverpool, rather it restricts the area where it will locate, a safeguard to property investments," Eckert said.

ECKERT SAID a master plan would also eliminate "the overlapping of a hodgepodge of activity by working committees" and join them together in a united front for more efficiency.

He said the commission has been in effect six years, meeting frequently for several years and listening to proposals, then becoming inactive for lack of funds. Some of its early work is outmoded and needs revision, he added.

Concluding, Eckert said he feels the present seven-member commission "should be junked and set up again with men who have the time to attend meetings consistently." Four members of the Commission are appointed. The terms of two on the commission expire in July.

3 New Members Join Radio Unit

Brooks Mayfield, Ron Wathey and Alvin Lucas were enrolled as new members when the Pennova Citizen's Band Club met Monday night at Jim's Auction Hall in Glenmoor.

Ron Keys, president, presided and a committee was named to hear any complaints from area residents of television interference from citizen's band radio.

Members to be contacted by persons with complaints are Keys in Glenmoor, Al Goodwin of LaCroft, Jim Nentwick of Vine St., Dave LaNeve of Campground Rd., Floyd Saltsman of Y. & O. Rd., and Jim Yost of Chester.

Members aided in the search for an aircraft reportedly down in the Shippingport area Friday night, and returned to the scene Saturday. Twenty-seven attended the meeting.

Next meeting is Feb. 18 at 7:30 p. m.

Liquor Purchase OK'd From Firm In Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Saying "the publicity should make it a good seller," an Ohio Department of Liquor Control official has authorized purchase of $90,000 worth of Waterfill & Frazier Co. whisky.

William S. MacKenzie, deputy director in charge of purchases, candidly said he has ordered the product because of the publicity it got during the recent grand jury investigation of alleged influence peddling in the state liquor monopoly.

The company's president, Joseph A. Makler, was the key figure in the probe, complaining he had to pay to have his brand listed and that it later was dropped from the department listing.

Rep. Taft Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have assigned Reps. Robert A. Taft Jr. of Ohio and Paul Findley of Illinois to the House Committee on Education and Labor.

Council Given Traffic Data At Wellsville

Wellsville had two traffic fatalities during 1962 — both pedestrians — according to the annual report presented Wellsville City Council Tuesday night by Police Chief John B. Hephner.

The city also had two traffic fatalities in 1961, but was free of deaths in 1960 and 1959.

Nine pedestrian accidents were reported during the year. A total of 162 accidents, an increase over the 150 reported in 1961, were investigated by the department last year.

Of these, 118 were two - car accidents, 11 involved three cars and 25 involved fixed projects. There were 16 injuries as a result of the mishaps.

Fifty-three persons were arrested. Five were drunk drivers, six were in violation of motor vehicle laws and 42 were in moving violations of road and driving laws.

The department answered and documented 3,126 calls and made a total of 379 arrests. Of these, 134 were violations of city ordinances (misdemeanors), three were violations of state laws (felonies) and 242 were traffic violations.

Of the traffic violations, aside from those in accidents, 76 were violations of road and driving laws, 25 were violations of motor vehicle laws, 23 were for driving while under the influence and 118 were parking infractions.

Not included in the regular report were 35 juvenile cases handled by local and juvenile authorities through the direction of Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon. Chief Hephner personally handled five, Mayor William Daugherty also handled five, a juvenile officer investigated seven and Judge Tobin handled 18.

During the year the department investigated 22 cases of breaking and entering, 11 cases of grand larceny, 17 cases of petty larceny and four auto thefts.

A total of 4,206 parking meter tickets were issued. A total of $2,030 was collected in parking meter fines.

Auto Plunges To Shoreline

A city couple escaped with minor injuries when their car spun out of control on ice, struck another and then plunged over an embankment, coming to a halt at the edge of the Ohio River Tuesday night at 10:10 on Route 7 three-tenths a mile south of Empire.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol said the car was driven by John F. Cunningham, 313 Market St.

Officers said Cunningham, headed north, started to pass another northbound car driven by June P. Bankhouser, 43, of Toronto. Cunningham struck an icy spot on the pavement and skidded. His car then hit the Bankhauser car and continued on, plunging over the embankment. It halted at the edge of the river.

Cunningham and his wife, Mrs. Mary Lou Cunningham, were thrown from the car just out from shore. He said they landed in about two feet of water.

They were en route home from the Wellsville - Steubenville basketball game at Steubenville.

Cunningham was cited for improper passing, according to the patrol.

Observance Planned At Beauticians Dinner

Thirty attended a dinner of the local unit of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association Tuesday night at Meade's Restaurant at Wellsville, preparing for the opening of National Beauty Salon Week Sunday.

Plans were made for the public hair fashion show Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 7.30 p. m. at Westgate School auditorium. Tickets will be available from hairdressers. Hairdressers participating in the show were reminded to attend rehearsal with their models next Tuesday night at 7 at Westgate.

Hairdressers who expect to perform free services for residents of rest homes and child wards of public agencies were asked to phone Mrs. Evelyn Messenger of Wellsville.

Now Listen, Father, You Can't Fool Sister

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The Rev. Patrick Bacon awoke a little late one morning, and knew he couldn't get to a convent in time for the Mass he conducts there daily.

He relates that he called the convent, tried to disguise his voice, and asked for the time of the Mass.

of the body, and McCord suffered bruises of the foot and hip.

Kepner is in "fair" condition today. The others were released.

The death marked Columbiana County's second traffic fatality this year, compared to two this same time in 1962.

Mr. Miller was pronounced dead a· the Salem hospital.

Survivors include a son, Jack Miller of New Waterford R. D. 1. He was born May 31, 1901, in West Virginia. The VanDyke Funeral Home at East Palestine is in charge of arrangements, which are incomplete.

Mary Lou Wolfe, 45, of R. D. 2 was in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered when her small foreign auto struck the rear wheels of a passing trailer truck on Dresden Ave. Ext. just north of the city limits about 10:25 p. m.

The patrol said her 1959 Volkswagen apparently went off the edge of the road while headed north, then pulled back on the roadway and veered left of center, hitting the rear dual wheels of the rig driven south by Kenneth Eckleberry, 45, of Sycamore.

Moderate damage was caused in a collision of an auto and mail truck on the Y. & O. Rd. a third of a mile west of Glenmoor yesterday afternoon at 1:25.

Officers said a 1957 sedan driven by Harry H. Woolmaker, 22, of 5th Ave., Glenmoor, was passing a mail truck operated by Robert B. Godwin, 33, of 925 Denver St., who made a turn south.

Youth

Hearings were continued to Feb. 15 for Lester McAdams Jr., 26, of Hanlin Station, charged with breaking and entering, and Lyle V. Fritz of Cincinnati, accused of auto theft at Waterford Park in November.

Misdemeanor counts were continued to April 5 for five waitresses charged with liquor law violations at two county taverns, in the aftermath of State Police raids July 12.

If apples are bruised, they may not be good buys because the bruised parts will have to be discarded. Small - size apples in good condition are usually economical.

Co-Sponsors 4 Bills

The board bills represent a part of the State Association of County Officials' legislative program.

They would authorize county courts to build secondary and access roads, as well as other roads not included in the state highway program because of a lack of funds.

Joining Miss Tsapis in sponsorship were B. Noel Poling, Jackson County Republican, and A. David Abrams, Raleigh County Democrat.

Now Listen, Father, You Can't Fool Sister

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The Rev. Patrick Bacon awoke a little late one morning, and knew he couldn't get to a convent in time for the Mass he conducts there daily.

He relates that he called the convent, tried to disguise his voice, and asked for the time of the Mass.

Traffic

of the body, and McCord suffered bruises of the foot and hip.

Kepner is in "fair" condition today. The others were released.

The death marked Columbiana County's second traffic fatality this year, compared to two this same time in 1962.

Mr. Miller was pronounced dead a the Salem hospital.

Survivors include a son, Jack Miller of New Waterford R. D. 1. He was born May 31, 1901, in West Virginia. The VanDyke Funeral Home at East Palestine is in charge of arrangements, which are incomplete.

Mary Lou Wolfe, 45, of R. D. 2 was in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered when her small foreign auto struck the rear wheels of a passing trailer truck on Dresden Ave. Ext. just north of the city limits about 10:25 p. m.

The patrol said her 1959 Volkswagen apparently went off the edge of the road while headed north, then pulled back on the roadway and veered left of center, hitting the rear dual wheels of the rig driven south by Kenneth Eckleberry, 45, of Sycamore.

Moderate damage was caused in a collision of an auto and mail truck on the Y. & O. Rd. a third of a mile west of Glenmoor yesterday afternoon at 1:25.

Officers said a 1957 sedan driven by Harry H. Woolmaker, 22, of 5th Ave., Glenmoor, was passing a mail truck operated by Robert B. Godwin, 33, of 925 Denver St., who made a turn south.

Youth

Hearings were continued to Feb. 15 for Lester McAdams Jr., 26, of Hanlin Station, charged with breaking and entering, and Lyle V. Fritz of Cincinnati, accused of auto theft at Waterford Park in November.

Misdemeanor counts were continued to April 5 for five waitresses charged with liquor law violations at two county taverns, in the aftermath of State Police raids July 12.

If apples are bruised, they may not be good buys because the bruised parts will have to be discarded. Small - size apples in good condition are usually economical.

Co-Sponsors 4 Bills

The board bills represent a part of the State Association of County Officials' legislative program.

They would authorize county courts to build secondary and access roads, as well as other roads not included in the state highway program because of a lack of funds.

Joining Miss Tsapis in sponsorship were B. Noel Poling, Jackson County Republican, and A. David Abrams, Raleigh County Democrat.

Kiwanis Told Of Centennial

A talk on West Virginia and centennial plans was given by Robert Rine of Weirton at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

Rine, a member of the Weirton Steel Co. public relations staff and the Hancock County Centennial Committee, substituted for Harold Proudfoot, originally slated to speak, but whose sister died Monday.

Rine screened slides of a nine-car railroad train with exhibits of West Virginia industry, arts, crafts and historical displays which is to visit Hancock County during the summer.

A centennial parade is scheduled at Weirton July 4 he said. Rine was introduced by Raymond Stevens, program chairman.

Lee Adams, president, announced a Kiwanis Ladies Night dinner meeting will be held April 16 at Wheeling.

Realtors To Continue Scholarship Awards

The East Liverpool Board of Realtors voted to continue three scholarship awards at a meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

The board, comprised of realtors from East Liverpool and Wellsville, present $150 scholarships to East Liverpool, Wellsville, and Beaver Local High Schools each year.

Pete N. Amato of Wellsville was appointed secretary - treasurer to fill the unexpired term of the late Jack Davies.

Salem Man Fined

LISBON — Charles A. Blake, 21, of Salem was fined $25 and costs Tuesday evening by Mayor Dean Stockman after he pleaded guilty to reckless operation. He was cited by police after his car struck a parked truck on N. Beaver St. early yesterday morning.

Job Mishaps Injure 4 Men

Four area men injured in separate work mishaps were treated Tuesday at City Hospital along with two other district residents.

Alfred Maxwell, 61, of Dixonville, employe of the Louthan Manufacturing Co., suffered severe contusions of the left hand and cuts of a finger when his hand was caught between two pieces of machinery.

Peter Milos, 28, of Beaver, bulldozer operator for the Brown Brothers Construction Co., suffered a possible fracture of the right ankle when he stepped off the machine.

Ralph Wells of 519 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, suffered a pulled muscle in the left side while lifting a box of cups at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

James A. Gordon, 44, of Maine Blvd. was treated for bruises of the left hand received in a fall against a grating at the Harker Pottery Co.

Kiwanis Told Of Centennial

A talk on West Virginia and centennial plans was given by Robert Rine of Weirton at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

Rine, a member of the Weirton Steel Co. public relations staff and the Hancock County Centennial Committee, substituted for Harold Proudfoot, originally slated to speak, but whose sister died Monday.

Rine screened slides of a nine-car railroad train with exhibits of West Virginia industry, arts, crafts and historical displays which is to visit Hancock County during the summer.

A centennial parade is scheduled at Weirton July 4 he said. Rine was introduced by Raymond Stevens, program chairman.

Lee Adams, president, announced a Kiwanis Ladies Night dinner meeting will be held April 16 at Wheeling.

Realtors To Continue Scholarship Awards

The East Liverpool Board of Realtors voted to continue three scholarship awards at a meeting Tuesday night at the Travelers Hotel.

The board, comprised of realtors from East Liverpool and Wellsville, present $150 scholarships to East Liverpool, Wellsville, and Beaver Local High Schools each year.

Pete N. Amato of Wellsville was appointed secretary - treasurer to fill the unexpired term of the late Jack Davies.

Salem Man Fined

LISBON — Charles A. Blake, 21, of Salem was fined $25 and costs Tuesday evening by Mayor Dean Stockman after he pleaded guilty to reckless operation. He was cited by police after his car struck a parked truck on N. Beaver St. early yesterday morning.

Councilmen Agree

Chester To Lift Parking Limit

The lifting of a two-hour parking limit on Phoenix and Neptune Aves. in Chester was agreed upon Tuesday night by Chester Council, which also discussed the possible use of the Central School site for a play area.

Councilmen aired complaints from residents of the Phoenix and Neptune areas between 8th and 9th Sts. concerning the parking restriction which has been in effect for several years.

THE LIMIT was ordered by city officials in an effort to eliminate parking congestion caused by employes of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. pottery.

However, area residents claim they cannot park in front of their own homes without being ticketed.

Councilman Donald Chaney said Edwin Morse, general manager of the pottery, told him ample parking space has been provided at the pottery for the employes and it is not necessary for workers to use the streets.

After a lengthy discussion, councilmen agreed to end the parking limit and permit residents to park in front of their homes without restriction.

Chaney is to notify City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner to draw up an ordinance incorporating the change.

CHANEY opened the discussion on the possible use of the Central School as a playground area, asking if the city could legally purchase the property if the school building is torn down.

Under the new Hancock County school building arrangement, students who have been attending the Central School will go to a new elementary school under construction near 6th St. or the present high school building.

City Clerk Roy Cashdollar said if the building is dismantled, the Board of Education may permit use of the grounds for a play area. Chaney suggested Mayor Harry Abrams name a committee to confer with the school board about the plan.

Mayor Abrams appointed Councilmen Charles Kology, Carl Graham and Chaney as a committee to meet with the board.

COUNCIL GAVE final approval to a city ordinance prohibiting dogs from running at large. The vote was 4-1, with Chaney opposed.

In other action, Council authorized the purchase of six pairs of boots for the fire department at a cost of $12 each. The request was made by Chaney, chairman of the fire committee, who said Jerrold Wilson, fire captain, asked for the boots.

Councilman Wayne Hutton, chairman of the water and sewer committee, reported a $3,003 balance in the water works department.

Hutton said Kenneth Williams, pumper and meter reader, had obtained a state license as a water plant operator, and his salary has been automatically boosted from $4,200 to $4,400.

CHANEY commended the water department for assistance in cleaning snow from the streets, and said both the street and water departments had done a "fine job." Kology also commended street cleaning job.

Richard Cowles of Pennsylvania Ave. was granted permission to break curbing at his home for a driveway.

Discussion was held concerning complaints about an unoccupied house on 5th St. between Louisiana and Indiana Aves. where sewer pipes are reported broken and may be a fire hazard. Clerk Cashdollar said he will notify Atty. Don Donell of Weirton, administrator of the property.

BPW To Hold Newell Heart Fund Canvass

Plans were outlined to lead the Heart Fund campaign in Newell on "Heart Sunday," Feb. 24, when the Panhandle Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday night.

Mrs. Billie Martin, president and chairman of the fund-raising project, presided at the meeting with Mrs. Phyllis Jividen of Carolina Ave., Chester.

Assigned to solicit homeowners along streets in Newell are:

Mrs. Martin, Lincoln Ave.; Mrs. Louise May, Jefferson St., 2nd to 6th St.; Mrs. Mary Stoneburner, Washington St., 1st to 6th St.; Mrs. Penny Arnott, lower Washington St. and lower Grant St.; Mrs. Phyllis Jividen, Grant St., 3rd to 6th St., and Mrs. Ruby Leak, 1st to 3rd St. on Grant and 2nd and 3rd Sts. between Jefferson and Harrison Sts.

Cookies, coffee and punch will be served workers following completion of the drive.

During business, various reports were heard and a donation authorized for the Hancock County Centennial Committee.

Mrs. Mary Stoneburner conducted games. Prizes went to Mrs. Arnott and Mrs. Martin. Lunch was served by the hostess and a valentine theme was used in the appointments.

Next meeting is March 5 with Mrs. Leak of Cleveland Ave., East Liverpool. Mrs. Gertrude Stephens will be program chairman.

20 At Grandview PTA Observance

Twenty attended a Founder's Day meeting of the Grandview Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night at the school near Chester at which gifts were presented past presidents.

Recipients were Mrs. Charles Wagner, Russell Smith and Mrs. Vernon Whittington, incumbent president. Gifts were sent to William Schladen and Albert Shroades, who were absent.

Robert Rine of Weirton spoke on the West Virginia Centennial and screened slides. Devotions were led by Mrs. Robert Bryan.

Plans were made for the sale of candy with Mrs. Donald Brown as chairman and for a homecoming banquet to be held at the end of the school term for all former students.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Cheuvront and Mrs. Robert Bryan. The group will meet March 5.

Shred cabbage just before you use it if at all possible so the vegetable retains its maximum amount of vitamin C.

Motorist Gets Fine, Lecture

An East End man who, police said, was found slumped over the wheel of his parked car Tuesday night on Dresden Ave. was given a stern lecture today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the hazards of drinking and driving, then fined on an ordinary intoxication charge.

The defendant was Sylvester Havens, 1089 Mapletree St., taken into custody at 8:10 p. m. yesterday by Patrolman David Mumaw.

The officer reported he investigated after noting Havens was slumped over the wheel of his auto, thinking the man might be ill. He said the motor of the car was not running, the lights were out and the ignition keys were on the floor.

Officer Mumaw said he roused Havens "and found he was intoxicated to the extent he could not pronounce his name."

"For his own safety and the public's safety, I charged him with intoxication," the officer said.

Judge Chertoff expressed disbelief when Havens denied he had been driving the car.

"You're fortunate," he said. "If the officer had arrived five minutes earlier you might have been charged with driving while intoxicated. You should give up either drinking or driving."

He fined Havens $10 and costs on the intoxication charge, but warned he will be jailed if he is arrested in the future for a similar offense involving an auto.

Ministers Enroll New Member In Salineville Unit

The Rev. Monte May of the Monroeville Assembly of God Church was welcomed as a new member at a meeting of the Salineville Ministerial Association Friday at the Calvary United Presbyterian Church. The Rev. James McCollam, host pastor, president, presided.

The group discussed plans for ministers to take turns as chaplains at the local rest home. A schedule was set up for a minister to be present at each Council session for the invocation.

The group agreed that at the next union service a designated portion of the offering would be used for the chaplaincy program at City Hospital.

A community emergency plan was discussed and final plans will be made at the meeting March 1 at the Monroeville church.

Chester Sea Scouts To Collect Pop Bottles

The entire town will be canvassed. Residents will be aksed to donate soft drink bottles that can be returned for deposit.

The ship met Tuesday night at the American Legion home, according to Jeddie Spencer, skipper. Ten members and two visitors attended.

Dear friends,

Do not fail to investigate Social Security benefits. For example, if the deceased is covered by Social Security, a lump sum death benefit, varying from $120 to $255 is payable to the surviving husband or wife, if a member of the same household. Otherwise this death benefit can be applied to the funeral expense.

Respectfully,

Richard C. Martin

East Liverpool, Ohio

Dear friends,

Do not fail to investigate Social Security benefits. For example, if the deceased is covered by Social Security, a lump sum death benefit, varying from $120 to $255 is payable to the surviving husband or wife, if a member of the same household. Otherwise this death benefit can be applied to the funeral expense.

Respectfully,

Richard C. Martin

Car Hits Wall, Hurts Woman

A 36-year-old LaCroft woman was in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered Tuesday night when her auto skidded out of control on ice on the Lisbon St. Hill and crashed into a concrete wall and a flight of steps.

Police said the 1956 two - door sedan driven by Mrs. Sally Bailey of 6th Ave. was bound upgrade about 25 miles an hour at 9:45 p. m. yesterday when it hit a patch of ice on the pavement, throwing it out of control.

The car struck the wall and steps about 200 feet upgrade from W. 8th St., damaging the right front of the auto, officers said.

Police said Mrs. Bailey suffered bruises. She was taken to the hospital in an ambulance. The woman was driving a car registered in the name of her husband, Carl Bailey, officers said.

Patrolman Leonard Richard investigated. He listed two Chester men as witnesses — Leo Dales of Railroad St. and Clarence Shenton of Carolina Ave. It was the only traffic mishap reported overnight by local police.

Two more crashes this morning also were blamed on slippery streets.

A collision at 8:53 a. m. on McKinnon Ave. near St. Clair Ave. involved a 1962 four - door sedan driven by Russell E. Dray, 43, of 201 Charles St. and a club coupe operated by Kenneth A. Cochran, 20, of 403 McKinnon Ave., officers said.

Dray told police he was halted for a stop sign when his car was hit from the rear. Cochran said he could not halt in time because of icy pavement.

A 1952 sedan driven by O. S. Cooper, 72, of Saxonburg, Pa., skidded on icy pavement on the Lisbon St. Hill at 8:15 a. m. and slammed into two metal gate posts at the entrance to Spring Grove Cemetery, officers said. Cooper escaped injury, but his car was damaged heavily on the right side, police said.

RIVERHEAD, N. Y. (AP) — When Joseph K. Corey of nearby Southampton failed to show up before the judge on a charge of violating the weapons law, his attorney went looking for him. He found Corey in another courtroom in the same building — serving as foreman of a jury hearing a negligence case.

British Gallery Gets Early Noted Painting

LONDON (AP) — The British National Gallery has acquired one of the earliest of European landscape paintings. It is by the German Albrecht Altdorfer and dates about 1518.

The painting comes from the collection of Dr. L. D. Koerfer of Berne. The National Gallery has not revealed the purchase price but art critics estimate that the gallery must have paid at least 50,000 pounds $140,000) for the picture.

Guest Of PTA Gives Mental Health Topic

William Weir of Salem, representative of the Columbiana County Mental Health Association, spoke on "Mental Health" at the meeting of the Highlandtown Home and School Association Monday night in the Yellow Creek Township school.

He stressed the complete lack of facilities to care for mental patients, and said that 10 per cent of the population will spend some time in a mental institution. He said the mental health group is seeking funds to establish a clinic at Lisbon. Weir was introduced by Wayne Wallace, program chairman.

Mrs. Alice Faloon's first grade led devotions, singing "Jesus Loves Me," giving Ps. 100 and the Lord's Prayer and leading the singing of "America."

Business was conducted by Hugh Smith, president. It was reported that school zone flashers had been installed and that volunteer workers have completed a project for more classroom space, an instrumental room and storage room from the stage area.

Jerry Russell, principal, reported the possibility of operating a kindergarten this summer in the Southern Local School District depending upon interest. He also hopes to have a special therapist in the district in the near future. A school basketball tournament will begin Monday in the Salineville gym. Mrs. Wanda Pisarsky, ways and means chairman, announced a fund -raising project at the meeting March 4.

The group gave $5 to the March of Dimes. Mrs. Catherine Leatherberry's seventh and eighth grades won the attendance banner and the homeroom mothers of fifth and sixth grades of William Chrifield served refreshments.

Sargus Offers Plan To Aid Coal Industry

COLUMBUS — In a bid to aid Ohio's coal industry, Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville, offered a resolution in the General Assembly Tuesday, urging President Kennedy to curtail imports of residual fuel oil.

Sargus said he wrote to Kennedy last November, seeking action on the residual fuel imports which he says are endangering an industry which already has had its employment cut drastically by automation.

"Air competition, is impossible under the pricing practices of exporters and importers of cheap waste oil," said Sargus. He said that unless the imports are curtailed, the coal industry may not be able to meet emergency demands, thus endangering state and national security.

Sargus said the resolution has strong backing from the United Mine Workers, coal companies and coal - carrying railroads.

The Woman's International Bowling Congress was first organized in 1916 with a membership of 40.

3 From City To Appear In Music Fete

Three East Liverpool High School seniors will participate in the 16th annual Ohio Wesleyan University High School Music Festival Saturday at Delaware.

Joe Judge, Darrel Locke and Gary Wynn will join over 1,000 high school musicians and their instructors from all over the state.

During the one - day program, the students will be divided into two bands, an orchestra and a chorus 800 voices. Each band and the orchestra will have 80 musicians.

Guest conductors of the two bands will be Vincent Maola Jr., supervisor of instrumental music at the high school, and Howard Pardee, music supervisor at Salem High School. Maola is a 1956 graduate of Ohio Wesleyan and Pardee has a son attending OWU.

One TV Hillbilly May Lose His Job

If you can tear yourself away from the Cartwright boys or the latest old movie next Sunday night, turn the channel knob to "The Real McCoys" on CBS-Television (Channel 9 at 9 p.m.).

Hal Humphrey

It is strictly Dick Crenna's show. He does not play his Luke McCoy character with as big a pitchfork as his far-out cousins on "Beverly Hillbillies," but Dick's is a purer brand of corn and easier to swallow (or should we say "swaller"?). In the upcoming Sunday adventure, Luke is tending the McCoys' roadside vegetable-and-cider stand.

A slicker of an advertising agency man stops off to quench his thirst and discovers that Luke seems to converse in terse, beautiful epigrams which to an ad man are like money in the bank.

"THOSE ARE nice - looking green peas," prompts the ad man as a sort of final test to make sure Luke really has it.

"Pod to the pot, they stay good!" snaps out Luke.

In spite of Grandpa McCoy's admonition — "Boy, you just don't talk $100 worth" — Luke agrees to join the agency for two weeks of sloganeering at $100 a week.

Except for a few soapy scenes toward the end of the half hour, Dick and that always-solid performer, Jerome Cowan (he plays the ad man), have themselves a ball with a clever script.

IT'S A KIND of cruel twist of fate for Dick Crenna that at the moment "Real McCoys" isn't yet included in the CBS schedule for next season. "McCoys'" 9 o'clock Sunday time already is reserved for Judy Garland's new weekly show.

For five years on the ABC network "McCoys" was a top-rated show with TV audiences. During that period, the two other networks tried 19 other shows against it and still lost points.

CBS purchased "McCoys" for the current season, chiefly to get the backlog episodes for daytime reruns. The network then made the new "McCoys" walk the plank against the popular "Bonanza" series on NBC.

WALTER BRENNAN, whose Grandpa character always has been the show's Gibraltar, has been wanting to cut down his chore on the series. So, except for his financial interest, Brennan has no big career stake in "McCoys'" future.

Dick says he wouldn't be too disappointed for himself, if "McCoys" isn't renewed for next year, but he hates to see the series go down this way — as if it hadn't been a big success.

"I really have no complaints," he says. "Do you know that I'm appearing on that TV screen 11 times a week now? The 'McCoys' reruns and the 'Our Miss Brooks' reruns are on five days a week. I'm 36, and I think it may be about time I hang a different kind of picture of Dick Crenna up there on that screen."

DICK BEGAN his acting career at age 11 in a daytime radio show called "Boy Scout Jamboree." He was with it 11 years. His Walter Denton character on "Our Miss Brooks" (radio and TV) lasted nine years.

All of that experience as a perpetual juvenile has turned him into one of the fine light comedians of the day, a fact he proves on "Luke in the Ivy League," the aforementioned segment of "McCoys."

There isn't much doubt that Dick can carry his own TV series now, and he has had several offers. Unhappily, he may become available (if "McCoys" folds this season) at a time when hillbillies seem to be the hottest thing on TV.

Need Of Cleanliness Seen For Missile Guidance Unit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Since a tiny error at the starting point of a missile's flight can amount to many miles by the time the flight ends, the place where missile guidance systems are repaired—such as the Air Force facility at Newark—must be literally spotless.

The rooms where disassembled parts are checked and repaired would make a modern surgery room look like a pig-pen, an officer of the 2802nd Inertial Guidance and Calibration Group at Newark told the Society of American Military Engineers Tuesday night.

Maj. James D. Chatfield said the Newark unit is the only one in the Air Force which can test and repair the guidance systems that can put a missile down on a target 6,000 miles away. The station was dedicated last December and already is working on the "brains" of the Minuteman and Titan missiles.

Describing the work areas at Newark, Chatfield said the air going into the room where men work on disassembled parts of the guidance systems must pass through some 500 filters. The filters exclude dust particles larger than three-tenths of a micron—which would be about 100 times smaller than the smallest mote that can be seen in a sunbeam.

"So precise and sensitive are these instruments that the smallest imperfection, or what we would normally consider insignificant contamination, would render the guidance system useless," Chatfield said.

"The smallest speck of dandruff that you could see, for example, or a thumb print on the ball of a typically floated precision gyro would create an unbalanced mass sufficient to cause error or several miles at flight termination."

Republic Steel Bares Decrease In Earnings

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. has reported a drop in earnings last year of $16.9 million despite an 8.7 per cent rise in sales.

The nation's third biggest steel producer announced Tuesday it earned $40,042,270, or $2.54 a share, compared with $56,954,253, or $3.62 a share, in 1961. Sales $965,902,980 in 1961.

The company said a higher outlay for depreciation, depletion and amortization helped reduce 1962 net profit. The company also blamed the earnings decline on new U.S. Treasury Department guidelines and rules applied to property added since Jan. 1, 1954.

Claimed In Canada

MONTREAL (AP)—George Cecil Bateman, 80, World War II metals controller for Canada and a former member of the Atomic Energy Control Board, died Monday at Ocho Rios, Jamaica. He had worked as a mining engineer in Canada, the United States and Mexico.

DICK BEGAN his acting career at age 11 in a daytime radio show called "Boy Scout Jamboree." He was with it 11 years. His Walter Denton character on "Our Miss Brooks" (radio and TV) lasted nine years.

All of that experience as a perpetual juvenile has turned him into one of the fine light comedians of the day, a fact he proves on "Luke in the Ivy League," the aforementioned segment of "McCoys."

There isn't much doubt that Dick can carry his own TV series now, and he has had several offers. Unhappily, he may become available (if "McCoys" folds this season) at a time when hillbillies seem to be the hottest thing on TV.

Need Of Cleanliness Seen For Missile Guidance Unit

CINCINNATI (AP) — Since a tiny error at the starting point of a missile's flight can amount to many miles by the time the flight ends, the place where missile guidance systems are repaired—such as the Air Force facility at Newark—must be literally spotless.

The rooms where disassembled parts are checked and repaired would make a modern surgery room look like a pig-pen, an officer of the 2802nd Inertial Guidance and Calibration Group at Newark told the Society of American Military Engineers Tuesday night.

Maj. James D. Chatfield said the Newark unit is the only one in the Air Force which can test and repair the guidance systems that can put a missile down on a target 6,000 miles away. The station was dedicated last December and already is working on the "brains" of the Minuteman and Titan missiles.

Describing the work areas at Newark, Chatfield said the air going into the room where men work on disassembled parts of the guidance systems must pass through some 500 filters. The filters exclude dust particles larger than three-tenths of a micron—which would be about 100 times smaller than the smallest mote that can be seen in a sunbeam.

"So precise and sensitive are these instruments that the smallest imperfection, or what we would normally consider insignificant contamination, would render the guidance system useless," Chatfield said.

"The smallest speck of dandruff that you could see, for example, or a thumb print on the ball of a typically floated precision gyro would create an unbalanced mass sufficient to cause error or several miles at flight termination."

Republic Steel Bares Decrease In Earnings

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republic Steel Corp. has reported a drop in earnings last year of $16.9 million despite an 8.7 per cent rise in sales.

The nation's third biggest steel producer announced Tuesday it earned $40,042,270, or $2.54 a share, compared with $56,954,253, or $3.62 a share, in 1961. Sales $965,902,989 in 1961.

The company said a higher outlay for depreciation, depletion and amortization helped reduce 1962 net profit. The company also blamed the earnings decline on new U.S. Treasury Department guidelines and rules applied to property added since Jan. 1, 1954.

Claimed In Canada

MONTREAL (AP)—George Cecil Bateman, 80, World War II metals controller for Canada and a former member of the Atomic Energy Control Board, died Monday at Ocho Rios, Jamaica. He had worked as a mining engineer in Canada, the United States and Mexico.

Keating Offers 'New' Cuban Data

Since last August, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating has been making charges about Soviet military strength in Cuba. In the following exclusive AP interview, he offers the White House some previously undisclosed Cuban information.

By JACK BELL
FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., offered today to give President Kennedy previously undisclosed information he has gathered about Soviet military activities in Cuba.

The New York senator, who has been involved in several disputes with the administration over his charges that the government had not told all of the facts about Cuba, made the offer in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press.

Keating said he would be willing to tell the President about reports he has received but on which he has made no public statements because he could not confirm their authenticity to his own satisfaction.

But Keating said he doesn't want to reveal even to Kennedy the sources of information the administration has often challenged in the past but which proved to be basically right.

Keating clarified one issue of conflict with the Pentagon. He conceded he was not talking about hard bases for intermediate range missiles when he said last week he had evidence offensive bases were being maintained by the Soviets.

As far as he knows, Keating said these concrete bases have been broken up. He said he was talking about gravel-based medium range missile sites. He conceded he has no information that launchers which could be used on the sites remain in Cuba. "I don't think they are poising any weapons or they're going to launch an invasion against the U.S.A.," he said.

Q. The matter of the Soviet build-up in Cuba appears to be rushing toward an investigative crisis in Congress. Sen. Humphrey has suggested open hearings. Would you favor such hearings and would you be willing to appear before some investigating committee?

A. I would certainly favor open hearings but I think it should be left to the discretion of the Senate committee.

Q. Would you give such a committee any information you have as well as the sources of that information if the sources were held confidential?

A. They will call as witnesses, I am told, officials in the Defense Department and the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) and the State Department and they will have all of the information I have and a good deal more. I would be glad to confer with the members of that committee any time they wanted me to but I don't think it would be in the interest of anyone to have me as a witness because what I know is comparatively little compared to what they can get from these other witnesses.

Q. Sen. Humphrey said that any senator or any House member who had information about the Cuban situation ought to give it first to the CIA and then make a speech about it. Have you done that?

A. All of the information which I have had has come from government officials or if it's come from other sources, it has been cleared by government officials before I have spoken.

Q. What kind of government officials?

A. Not the top. Lower level officials.

Q. Are you suggesting what may be known at a lower level may not be known at a higher level? And, if this is known at a higher level, are you suggesting there is some dereliction in the government in not acting on that information?

A. Well, first I don't know to what level particular information is known. I am not charging dereliction against anyone. I have every reason to think that those who have the information I have are just as good patriotic Americans as I am. I think probably the same may be true which was apparently true last October. They place a different interpretation on the information than I do. I don't charge them with any insincerity or anything else, but I think that the situation in Cuba is very serious.

Q. There are some direct conflicts between a number of critical points in a speech you made last week and the Defense Department position, for example, on the status of the medium range and the intermediate missile sites. The Defense Department contends that those sites, those bases were dismantled and broken up in the case of the IRBM's, that the missile erectors and the oxidizers and all the equipment needed to activate the missiles had been removed and had been seen on outgoing ships—

A. I never mentioned IRBM's at any time. There are three kinds of missiles and three kinds of missile bases that should be differentiated in this connection. One is what are called the ground-to-air missile bases; one medium range bases; one intermediate range missile bases. The intermediate range missile bases have a concrete base. I was at no time talking about that, no reference to that whatever. When the Defense Department replied, they got that into the picture. Now a great many of those have been bulldozed and broken up and perhaps all of them have, as far as I know. The antiaircraft missile sites are there and there is no dispute about that. What I was talking about was the medium range misile sites, which do not have a concrete base at all. They are gravel or hard-top in character. The hard-top and gravel has not been ripped up, has not been removed, and is in the same condition and is being kept there right today ready for use if they so desired to use it.

Q. Is that significant really, unless there is evidence, and you may have evidence, that the missile erectors, the oxidizing equipment, the preparation buildings are also there?

A. As far as I know, the buildings and the so-called launchers are not on those sites. We don't know where they are. I don't think anyone knows.

Q. Let's get this straight. Is this a base which could be used offensively against us?

A. Yes. It could be.

Q. About how long range a missile is it?

A. Oh, people differ on that but in the neighborhood of 1,000 miles.

Q. Your sources have no reports of very important missile equipment like the erectors and the oxidizers still being in Cuba?

A. No, I have no knowledge either that they still are in Cuba or that they are not. They can easily be transported and hidden but I have no positive evidence that they are.

Q. Do you have any suggestive evidence, put it that way?

A. I have been very careful not to make statements—until I felt I had the confirmed knowledge, and I do not have that as to these.

Q. How would you say that this knowledge has been confirmed?

A. It has been confirmed by government officials in all cases where I have made a statement.

Q. You said that before the October quarantine action was taken you thought the administration officials had the facts but concealed them because they didn't know what to do. Do you suggest that they now have information similar to yours but are concealing it for the same reason?

A. Well, I don't like your use of the word conceal, because that implies something sinister. I did not mean it then as sinister, and I do not now.

Q. I believe you used the word "conceal."

A. Perhaps I did. I did not think I did, but if I did I'll stand on the word, but I want to preface it by saying that I do not consider there is anything sinister in that. It is difficult to know what to do. I think very possibly that that may account for the reluctance on the part of the officials to give Americans all of the facts with regard to the Russian buildup there.

Q. If we concede there is the buildup which you contend there is there, and it's dangerous, what is your suggestion on what we ought to do about it?

A. First, I think the American people should be given all of the facts, regarding this buildup. I can see no problem of security involved. Second, we should put into effect this executive order to prevent free world ships carrying goods to Cuba for their economic buildup then coming to American ports and picking up goods here to go back across the Atlantic. Going beyond that, I have some ideas as to what should be done but I think the responsible way to handle that is to present those ideas, and I would be delighted to do it if I'm invited, either to the President or to those in authority.

Q. On the question of the threat which you have referred to, are you suggesting that this is a military threat to the U.S. in the absence of weapons of the nature of the medium range missiles or the bombers?

A. I think that tanks and trucks and missiles and torpedo boats and amphibious craft and MIG fighters and items of that kind present a threat when they are there in great numbers, together with 20,000 soldiers, Russian soldiers. I think that they present a serious threat to the safety and security of the Western Hemisphere. Number one, I think there is a danger that they are building this base in order to form the base of operations in other Latin American countries. Secondly, I think they would like to have a strong base here so that in all diplomatic relations they can always point to this in an effort to put us in a defensive position. I don't think that they're poising any weapons or they're going to launch an invasion against the U.S.A.

Q. How would they translate the tanks and the Russain troops and the other modern gear they have in Cuba into a threat to other Latin American countries? Do you seriously believe that any of this could be exported in the form of an invasion expedition or in any other form to say Guatamala or Venezuela with the U.S. fleet in the area?

A. Well, I think it's possible to get personnel from Cuba to other Latin American countries, in some numbers, not in a great invasion fleet—that's not the way they operate. But, it is possible to get personnel from Cuba to other Latin American countries without our knowledge.

Q. You said recently that the time will come when the U. S. would have to make the hard choice to get rid of the Communists arsenal "no matter how." What is the hard choice? What do you mean?

A. The hard choice is either to get rid of it or let it stay there. I think it's intolerable to have a force of this kind there because Cuba is fast becoming, building up to, if it is not already arrived at it, the second strongest military power in the Western Hemisphere.

Q. Is it intolerable enough for us to take military action against Cuba?

A. I am not at this moment advocating a specific course of action. When I said, however, that we must get rid of them, I meant exactly that, with whatever method is determined by those in authority to be the proper and most effective method. There are many alternatives to military action—many, and I would hope that no military action would ever become necessary.

Q. About how long range a missile is it?

A. Oh, people differ on that but in the neighborhood of 1,000 miles.

Q. Your sources have no reports of very important missile equipment like the erectors and the oxidizers still being in Cuba?

A. No, I have no knowledge either that they still are in Cuba or that they are not. They can easily be transported and hidden but I have no positive evidence that they are.

Q. Do you have any suggestive evidence, put it that way?

A. I have been very careful not to make statements—until I felt I had the confirmed knowledge, and I do not have that as to these.

Q. How would you say that this knowledge has been confirmed?

A. It has been confirmed by government officials in all cases where I have made a statement.

Q. You said that before the October quarantine action was taken you thought the administration officials had the facts but concealed them because they didn't know what to do. Do you suggest that they now have information similar to yours but are concealing it for the same reason?

A. Well, I don't like your use of the word conceal, because that implies something sinister. I did not mean it then as sinister, and I do not now.

Q. I believe you used the word "conceal."

A. Perhaps I did. I did not think I did, but if I did I'll stand on the word, but I want to preface it by saying that I do not consider there is anything sinister in that. It is difficult to know what to do. I think very possibly that that may account for the reluctance on the part of the officials to give Americans all of the facts with regard to the Russian buildup there.

Q. If we concede there is the buildup which you contend there is there, and it's dangerous, what is your suggestion on what we ought to do about it?

A. First, I think the American people should be given all of the facts, regarding this buildup. I can see no problem of security involved. Second, we should put into effect this executive order to prevent free world ships carrying goods to Cuba for their economic buildup then coming to American ports and picking up goods here to go back across the Atlantic. Going beyond that, I have some ideas as to what should be done but I think the responsible way to handle that is to present those ideas, and I would be delighted to do it if I'm invited, either to the President or to those in authority.

Q. On the question of the threat which you have referred to, are you suggesting that this is a military threat to the U.S. in the absence of weapons of the nature of the medium range missiles or the bombers?

A. I think that tanks and trucks and missiles and torpedo boats and amphibious craft and MIG fighters and items of that kind present a threat when they are there in great numbers, together with 20,000 soldiers, Russian soldiers. I think that they present a serious threat to the safety and security of the Western Hemisphere. Number one, I think there is a danger that they are building this base in order to form the base of operations in other Latin American countries. Secondly, I think they would like to have a strong base here so that in all diplomatic relations they can always point to this in an effort to put us in a defensive position. I don't think that they're poising any weapons or they're going to launch an invasion against the U.S.A.

Q. How would they translate the tanks and the Russain troops and the other modern gear they have in Cuba into a threat to other Latin American countries? Do you seriously believe that any of this could be exported in the form of an invasion expedition or in any other form to say Guatamala or Venezuela with the U.S. fleet in the area?

A. Well, I think it's possible to get personnel from Cuba to other Latin American countries, in some numbers, not in a great invasion fleet—that's not the way they operate. But, it is possible to get personnel from Cuba to other Latin American countries without our knowledge.

Q. You said recently that the time will come when the U. S. would have to make the hard choice to get rid of the Communists arsenal "no matter how." What is the hard choice? What do you mean?

A. The hard choice is either to get rid of it or let it stay there. I think it's intolerable to have a force of this kind there because Cuba is fast becoming, building up to, if it is not already arrived at it, the second strongest military power in the Western Hemisphere.

Q. Is it intolerable enough for us to take military action against Cuba?

A. I am not at this moment advocating a specific course of action. When I said, however, that we must get rid of them, I meant exactly that, with whatever method is determined by those in authority to be the proper and most effective method. There are many alternatives to military action—many, and I would hope that no military action would ever become necessary.

Debate Slated In Cleveland Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—An editor and a newsman of the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild were set today to debate Guild issues in the 69-day-old strike against the city's two daily newspapers.

The public debate between Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Press and News, and Noel Wical, an editorial employe of that paper, is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. in the City Club.

The hour-long program will be carried live by all seven local radio stations. Carrying it on a delayed basis will be three television stations: WEWS (Channel 5) at 8:30 p.m., KYW (3) at 9 p.m., and WJW (8) at 11:25 p.m.

Seltzer requested the debate Tuesday. The Guild, one of five striking unions, accepted the challenge and named Wical to represent it. He was Guild president when the strike began.

Thomas Vail, vice president of the Plain Dealer, declined a Guild invitation to participate in the debate.

"I feel we are making substantial progress with the Guild through our regular negotiating committee, and I am looking toward an early solution satisfactory to both sides," Vail said. "I don't honestly feel that further public debate is going to bring that solution any closer.",

Steubenville Family Files $30,000 Suit

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—A Steubenville, Ohio, family has filed suit in Federal Court for more than $30,000 damages against a Pennsylvania truck driver involved in a collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

William J. Di Filippo; his wife, Laura, and their daughter, Julia, of Steubenville were hurt seriously last Aug. 8 when their car collided with a Turnpike Commission truck driven by William Rozell of Mount Pleasant.

Ohio Jobless Claims Up For Feb. 2 Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Both new and continuing claims for unemployment compensation showed increases in the week ended Feb. 2, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

New claims increased from 20,229 in the week ended Jan. 26 to 21,849, and continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more increased from 140,767 to 147,172.

Led Bloody Riff Revolt

Abd El Krim, Legendary Warrior Of 1920s, Dies

CAIRO (AP)—Abd El Krim, 78, the Berber chieftain who astonished the world with his victories against Spain and France in the bloody Riff revolt of the 1920s, died suddenly early today.

The legendary warrior, whose exploits inspired the light opera "The Desert Song," had not set foot in his native Morocco since he was exiled in 1926.

Although age had mellowed him, he continued to be violently anti-French and warned the United States in 1957 that it should not rely on France to help defend Europe.

Declaring that the Germans swept the French aside in 20 days in World War II, Abd El Krim told an interviewer: "The United States should not forget that now and not rely on France in any defense of Europe. The French broke faith with the British in the last war."

"I don't know why the world doesn't get on to those French, they're stupid, weak, stubborn and selfish," he declared.

Last year he threatened fresh war in Morocco "unless King Hassan abandons his alliance with imperialism"—a reference to what he called the kings' "dependence on France in all fields as well as secret military agreements." But he also was saying that the time had come for him to go home.

Abd El Krim, also known as Emir Abdel Krim, had lived in Cairo since 1947. He claimed he still held sway over 400,000 armed tribesmen in Morocco.

His war in the Riff Mountains against Spain inspired light operas, including "The Desert Song," picturing the emir as a romantic sheik galloping over the sand dunes. Actually, it was a bitter, bloody struggle.

By 1924, Abd El Krim had proclaimed a Riff republic. Then the French attacked him from the south and received a staggering defeat.

He and his family were exiled to Reunion Island in the Indian Ocean. In 1947, the French put him aboard a ship to France. During a ceremony at Port Said, he slipped ashore and escaped to Cairo where he had lived ever since.

Tremendously Busy At 75

Stokowski Still Carries Music Banner For Youth

NEW YORK (AP)—At 75, Maestro Leopold Stokowski still carries a musical banner for youth and its future hopes.

Still tremendously busy—building another orchestra, making guest appearances with the Philadelphia Orchestra and others, reading manuscript scores that pour into his studio overlooking Central Park—the man who once formed an All American Youth Orchestra manages to find time to give encouragement to young musicians.

Friday, he will be back in Philadelphia for an anniversary concert, commemorating the 50th season since he made his debut there.

But in answering an interviewer's questions about the anniversary, he soon turned the subject aside.

"I would rather talk about the future," he said. "The past is something we no longer can do anything about."

He began talking about the American Symphony, which under his leadership began giving concerts last fall.

"One-third of our players are the most talented youth from the great music schools of New York, Boston, Rochester, Philadelphia and Baltimore—young people with tremendous talent," he said.

"For the remaining two-thirds we have the great, experienced free-lance players of New York, whom I know personally from making records for years.

"The young players learn from the experienced players, and the latter gain from the enthusiasm and vitality of the young people."

In connection with this project, he continually auditions young singers, young players and young conductors. Nor are young composers neglected.

Secretary Group Tours City Post Office With Postmaster

Samuel Brown, postmaster, conducted 18 members of the East Liverpool Area Chapter of the National Secretaries Association through a tour of the Post Office following a business meeting Tuesday night in the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

He demonstrated the cancellation of an out-of-town letter. He also spoke on insured and other type mail. Members received folders on addressing, preparation and mailing and kits containing rate sheets, stickers and labels, which the public may obtain free at any time.

The program was held in conjunction with the national division of NSA as an educational project declaring February as "Post Office Month." The theme is "Know your postal services better so they can help you more."

Miss Susan Graff, president, presided for business at the annex. Mrs. Ruth Pearson, secretary, offered opening prayer and read the minutes. Mrs. Ruby Coleman gave the financial report.

Mrs. June Roberts gave the report of the bylaws committee and Mrs. Coleman, one on membership.

In a report of the mock bake sale now in progress, Mrs. Wilma Bryan, chairman, listed proceeds realized. She also gave the report of the hospitality committee.

Mrs. Faye Wright, Mrs. Angie DeSarro and Mrs. Ruth Ann Coleman were named to the nominating committee.

Mrs. Charlotte Cole won a prize.

Miss Helen Gaylord of Akron, state recording secretary, who is board contact for the local chapter, will speak at the meeting March 5 at the annex. Mrs. Angie Frank is program chairman.

Hancock Man Fined On 2 Traffic Charges

NEW CUMBERLAND — Homer Fisher, 23, of Route 66 was fined $50 and costs on two traffic charges at a hearing Tuesday before Municipal Judge John D. Herron.

Police Chief William Webster cited Fisher Monday night for hazardous driving and driving without an operator's license after his car hit a parked vehicle on Commerce St.

Fisher was fined $25 and costs on each and was committed to County Jail when unable to pay.

Debate Slated In Cleveland Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—An editor and a newsman of the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild were set today to debate Guild issues in the 69-day-old strike against the city's two daily newspapers.

The public debate between Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Press and News, and Noel Wical, an editorial employe of that paper, is scheduled to start at 7 p.m. in the City Club.

The hour-long program will be carried live by all seven local radio stations. Carrying it on a delayed basis will be three television stations: WEWS (Channel 5) at 8:30 p.m., KYW (3) at 9 p.m., and WJW (8) at 11:25 p.m.

Seltzer requested the debate Tuesday. The Guild, one of five striking unions, accepted the challenge and named Wical to represent it. He was Guild president when the strike began.

Thomas Vail, vice president of the Plain Dealer, declined a Guild invitation to participate in the debate.

"I feel we are making substantial progress with the Guild through our regular negotiating committee, and I am looking toward an early solution satisfactory to both sides," Vail said. "I don't honestly feel that further public debate is going to bring that solution any closer.",

Steubenville Family Files $30,000 Suit

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—A Steubenville, Ohio, family has filed suit in Federal Court for more than $30,000 damages against a Pennsylvania truck driver involved in a collision on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

William J. Di Filippo; his wife, Laura, and their daughter, Julia, of Steubenville were hurt seriously last Aug. 8 when their car collided with a Turnpike Commission truck driven by William Rozell of Mount Pleasant.

Viet Nam Bomber Piloted By Two Yanks Crashes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) —A Vietnamese air force fighter-bomber piloted by two U.S. Air Force captains crashed and exploded in jungle-covered mountains today while on a strike mission.

There was no immediate indication whether either of the two Americans or the Vietnamese observer with them survived.

It was the second crash of an American-piloted B26 fighter bomber in four days. Sunday, a B26 crashed or was shot down on a strafing mission 110 miles southwest of here, killing both American pilots and the Vietnamese observer.

Today's crash, about 260 miles northeast of here, occurred while the B26 reportedly was strafing a suspected Viet Cong target. It was not known whether the plane had been hit by ground fire.

All B26 fighters in Viet Nam carry Vietnamese air force markings but are flown by American pilots.

Ferry Hits Ice, Sinks Off Korea With 140 Aboard

INCHON, South Korea (AP)—A crowded ferry struck floating ice and sank 15 miles northwest of Inchon today. National police said the ferry's passenger list carried 140 names and that an initial head count of the survivors showed four persons missing.

Earlier a U.S. Army spokesman said there were about 200 persons aboard the ferry and it was believed four were lost in the icy waters.

Police said the accident occurred about 500 yards off Moodo, a tiny islet, and that the ship stayed afloat in a calm sea for several hours. Two tugs, U.S. landing craft and two U.S. helicopters went out from Inchon for the rescue.

The survivors were reported en route to Inchon aboard a U.S. vessel.

Steel Stockpiling Expected To Develop

NEW YORK (AP) — By March 31, steel users will have added about one-half million tons of steel to inventories, Iron Age Predicted today.

The metalworking weekly said the bulk of the stockpiling, as compared with Jan. 1 levels, will develop next month.

It said the rate of inventory buildup is lagging behind the normal rate of a "steel labor contract year," a reference to the possibility of reopening of wage talks in late spring.

Under the 1962 contract, either party may demand renewal of bargaining on wages after May 1. The United Steel Workers Union has not indicated what its decision will be.

Jury Convicts Driver On Drunk Indictment

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury Tuesday returned a verdict of guilty against Jerry Molner, 51, of Columbiana R. D. 2, charged with driving while intoxicated.

Sentencing was deferred by Judge Joel H. Sharp in case Molner decides to file a motion for a new trial.

1 Killed, 1 Injured When 2 Rigs Collide

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—A collision of two tractor-trailer rigs Tuesday at the intersection of U. S. 224 and U.S. 250 about 15 miles northwest of here killed one driver and injured the other.

Killed was Vester D. Hayworth, 35, of Council Bluffs, Iowa. Harry L. Wagner, 29, of Toledo was admitted to Ashland Samaritan Hospital.

Hocking County OK'd For Public Works Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)— Hocking County, Ohio, is eligible for assistance under the Public Works Acceleration Act.

The Labor Department announced the designation of the Ohio county and 18 other additional areas Tuesday. Designated areas are those with substantial unemployment.

Steel Firm Appoints

WEIRTON — The appointment of John J. Kraina as assistant to the general manager of sales of Weirton Steel Co. was announced today by R. S. Meighen, vice president of sales. Kraina began his employment with Weirton Steel in 1958 and is a graduate of Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland. He attended Weir High School.

Pike Revenue Hits Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Income from operation of the Ohio Turnpike, down slightly in 1961, rebounded to a record total of $26,281,409 during the past year, the Turnpike Commission says.

And the commission's chairman, James W. Shocknessy of Columbus, says it appears that turnpike revenue of the past month will be a January record. Preliminary figures indicate the total will be about $1,530,000, Shocknessy said at a commission meeting Tuesday.

Announcement of "the best safety and revenue records of any year since the turnpike was opened" was made in the commission's annual report, covering the past year. Some of its highlights are:

Besides the highest income since the toll road was opened, expenses dipped to $5,040,792 in 1962, lowest since 1958.

Thirteen persons, fewer than ever before, were killed on the turnpike in the past year. This compares with a previous low of 16 in 1956, when there were 3.4 million fewer vehicles and 270 million fewer miles of travel on the turnpike.

Highway patrolmen arrested 19,804 travelers and issued warnings to 30,818 others. Fines and forfeitures amounted to $226,338.

Bonds in the amount of $10,746,000 were retired in 1962, bringing the total retired since inauguration of the redemption program late in 1961 to $15,433,000.

Boy's 'Curiosity' Cited In Episode Of Drunkenness

It was boyish curiosity about the taste and effect of whisky that led a 13-year-old East Liverpool youngster to become intoxicated Saturday night, Juvenile Officer James Miller learned Tuesday when he interviewed the boy at City Hall about the escapade.

The boy was referred to the juvenile officer after he was found intoxicated at the North Side fire station. Perplexed police had the youngster examined by a physician and then sent him home in his mother's care.

The boy told Miller yesterday he and two other boys saw a drunken man lying on the street, with a partially - filled bottle nearby. Out of curiosity, they sampled the whisky. The 13-year-old took two or three drinks, enough to cause him to become intoxicated.

Miller placed the boy on a 6 p. m. daily curfew and ordered him to report to the juvenile officer each Saturday. It was the boy's first offense, Miller said.

Injunction Puts Limit On Pickets At Plant

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — United Rubber Workers Local 3 was under court order today to place no more than 20 pickets at one time at the strikebound Ohio Rubber Co. plant in nearby Willoughby.

Judge Winfield Scott Slocum of Lake County Common Pleas Court issued the temporary injunction against the union Tuesday. It was requested by officials of Eagle-Picher, the parent firm of the rubber company.

The company complained that as many as 100 pickets have appeared at the gates leading to the plant. It said incidents arose when police attempted to escort non-striking production workers in to the plant Monday.

The order also limits pickets to either two or four at plant entrances and warns those involved in the dispute to refrain from annoying or intimidating any workers either personally or by telephone.

Three Are Wounded In Domestic Quarrel

CINCINNATI (AP)—Three men were wounded slightly by shotgun pellets Tuesday night in a fight that arose from a domestic quarrel.

Police said the quarrel began when Carl David Baker, 21, went to his father-in-law's house to see his daughter who had been taken there a few days earlier. Two other men went with Baker.

The trio had taken along a shotgun and a scuffle ensued with Ray Asbury, the father-in-law. Police said that during the fight another shotgun, held by Mrs. Asbury, discharged and wounded her husband's assailants.

Baker and Fred Adams, 23, each were charged with two counts of assault and battery, and two additional charges of pointing a gun were filed against Adams. No charges were filed immediately against the third man, Robert Loge, 17.

Pike Revenue Hits Record

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Income from operation of the Ohio Turnpike, down slightly in 1961, rebounded to a record total of $26,281,409 during the past year, the Turnpike Commission says.

And the commission's chairman, James W. Shocknessy of Columbus, says it appears that turnpike revenue of the past month will be a January record. Preliminary figures indicate the total will be about $1,530,000, Shocknessy said at a commission meeting Tuesday.

Announcement of "the best safety and revenue records of any year since the turnpike was opened" was made in the commission's annual report, covering the past year. Some of its highlights are:

Besides the highest income since the toll road was opened, expenses dipped to $5,040,792 in 1962, lowest since 1958.

Thirteen persons, fewer than ever before, were killed on the turnpike in the past year. This compares with a previous low of 16 in 1956, when there were 3.4 million fewer vehicles and 270 million fewer miles of travel on the turnpike.

Highway patrolmen arrested 19,804 travelers and issued warnings to 30,818 others. Fines and forfeitures amounted to $226,338.

Bonds in the amount of $10,746,000 were retired in 1962, bringing the total retired since inauguration of the redemption program late in 1961 to $15,433,000.

Boy's 'Curiosity' Cited In Episode Of Drunkenness

It was boyish curiosity about the taste and effect of whisky that led a 13-year-old East Liverpool youngster to become intoxicated Saturday night, Juvenile Officer James Miller learned Tuesday when he interviewed the boy at City Hall about the escapade.

The boy was referred to the juvenile officer after he was found intoxicated at the North Side fire station. Perplexed police had the youngster examined by a physician and then sent him home in his mother's care.

The boy told Miller yesterday he and two other boys saw a drunken man lying on the street, with a partially - filled bottle nearby. Out of curiosity, they sampled the whisky. The 13-year-old took two or three drinks, enough to cause him to become intoxicated.

Miller placed the boy on a 6 p. m. daily curfew and ordered him to report to the juvenile officer each Saturday. It was the boy's first offense, Miller said.

Wellsville Ends Losing Streak, Trips Crusaders, 57-51

Flesch Hits For 20 In First Start

Returning to the winner's circle after three losses in a row, Wellsville High's Tigers turned back Steubenville Central Catholic, 57-51, Tuesday night at the spacious Community Arena in Steubenville.

It was the ninth victory against four defeats for Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers, who had trimmed Central earlier this season at Wellsville, 48-38.

THE TIGERS went ahead 16-3 with 2:48 left in the first quarter. Center Steve Baldwin, 6-5 senior, entered the game in the second quarter and immediately scored to give Wellsville its biggest lead of the game, 25-8, with only 10 seconds gone in the period.

Then Central began whittling away Wellsville's 17 point lead, and reeled off 15 straight points to trail by only two, 25-23.

The Crusaders tied the score at 27-27 but Baldwin connected on a free throw to give Wellsville a one point advantage, 28-27. Central went ahead at the halftime buzzer on a push shot by Don Duco, 29-28.

THE SECOND half went scoreless for three minutes and 27 seconds before Flesch tallied on a jump shot for Wellsville to give the Tigers a 30-29 lead. The third quarter ended with Central on top again, 39-36.

Wellsville wiped out Central's lead early in the fourth quarter on a pair of free throws by Baldwin and a push shot by Alvin Thompson.

Dave Kocal retrieved the lead for Central on a set shot, but Baldwin bagged a drive-in for Wellsville, providing the Tigers with a 42-41 lead.

THEN DUCO and Thompson exchanged field goals, and Flesch scored a layup to give Wellsville a 46-43 lead with 4:39 left in the game. The Tigers stayed in front the rest of the way.

The Crusaders outrebounded Wellsville, 33-28, and managed to get off six more shots. But Wellsville hit 21 of 55 from the floor for 38 per cent, compared to 22 of 61 for 36 per cent by Central.

FLESCH delivered eight field goals and four of six free throws to top Wellsville's attack. The Tigers made up a deficit of one in total field goals by pouring in 15 of 18 foul shots to swing the verdict.

Jim Ricci led Central with 12 points.

In the preliminary, the Wellsville Reserves were beaten by Central, 42-34, as Ralph Carapellotti scored 18 points for the winners. Lester Bennett bagged 15 for Coach Chick McMillan's Tigers, now 10-3.

Vikings Tally 33 In 2nd Period

Simmons Scores 25, Newell Fires 51% To Defeat Salineville, 87-50

The Newell Vikings came up with one of their hottest nights of the season by shooting 51 per cent to turn back Salineville, 87-50, Tuesday night at the Wells High gym.

The Vikings, who posted their 14th win against three setbacks, scored a blistering 33 points in the second quarter to completely break the game wide open.

Sam Simmons, who rates as one of the leading scorers in the district, pushed in 25 points on nine field goals and seven of eight fouls.

Newell's 51 per cent shooting mark came on 35 of 69 attempts while Salineville hit 26 per cent.

Tom McGuire, Salineville's 6-foot-3 junior led the Indians with 16 points. Coach Al Girone's team now stands at 1-13 for the season.

Westgaters Even Score With Tigers

Westgate's ninth graders exacted revenge on Wellsville for a defeat earlier this year but had to repell a strong second half rally by the Tigers to win, 38-37, Tuesday at Westgate.

Coach Dan Fisher's charges rolled up a 23-9 halftime lead, then saw Wellsville explode to trail by only two points at the end of three quarters.

Mike McFarland led Westgate with 11 points, while Walker had 10. Wright had 13 and Comparetta 12 for Wellsville.

Westgate's Wildcats meet rival East Junior High Thursday at 4:15 p. m. on the Westgate boards.

Balanced Attack Pays Off

Cumberland Posts 12th Win At Sherrard, 63-57

Receiving good all-around scoring from four starters, New Cumberland pulled away in the closing minutes to register a 63-57 victory at Sherrard Tuesday night.

The victory pushed New Cumberland's record to 12-5 for the season.

A tight battle all the way, Coach John Kuzio's club was locked in a 9-9 first period tie and fell behind 26-25 at halftime only to take a 44-43 edge at the end of three quarters.

The overall balance paid off for the Raiders as Ken Freshwater led the way into the double figures with 19. 6-foot-3 Dennis Carnes tallied 14, Bill Manley 13 and Jim Bruskey 10.

Freshwater and Carnes led the fourth quarter action with seven and six points respectively.

Russell 25 Rebounds Off NBA Record

By The Associated Press

Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics now is only 25 rebounds behind the veteran Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals in his bid to become the all-time leader in the National Basketball Association.

Russell made 29 grabs Tuesday night as the Celtics beat the Cincinnati Royals 106-96 at Cincinnati. Schayes, now only a part-time player, got six as the Nats drubbed the New York Knicks 120-100 in the second game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. The St. Louis Hawks defeated the Detroit Pistons 120-105 in the opener. The other teams were idle.

Russell, who now has a career total of 10,962 rebounds to Schayes 10,987 conceivably could oust Dolph from the top tonight as the Celtics and Nats clash at Syracuse.

Karl B. Michael, former AAU and NCAA diving champion, has coached Dartmouth's swimmers since 1939.

Wellsville Ends Losing Streak, Trips Crusaders, 57-51

Flesch Hits For 20 In First Start

Returning to the winner's circle after three losses in a row, Wellsville High's Tigers turned back Steubenville Central Catholic, 57-51, Tuesday night at the spacious Community Arena in Steubenville.

It was the ninth victory against four defeats for Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers, who had trimmed Central earlier this season at Wellsville, 48-38.

THE TIGERS went ahead 16-3 with 2:48 left in the first quarter. Center Steve Baldwin, 6-5 senior, entered the game in the second quarter and immediately scored to give Wellsville its biggest lead of the game, 25-8, with only 10 seconds gone in the period.

Then Central began whittling away Wellsville's 17 point lead, and reeled off 15 straight points to trail by only two, 25-23.

The Crusaders tied the score at 27-27 but Baldwin connected on a free throw to give Wellsville a one point advantage, 28-27. Central went ahead at the halftime buzzer on a push shot by Don Duco, 29-28.

THE SECOND half went scoreless for three minutes and 27 seconds before Flesch tallied on a jump shot for Wellsville to give the Tigers a 30-29 lead. The third quarter ended with Central on top again, 39-36.

Wellsville wiped out Central's lead early in the fourth quarter on a pair of free throws by Baldwin and a push shot by Alvin Thompson.

Dave Kocal retrieved the lead for Central on a set shot, but Baldwin bagged a drive-in for Wellsville, providing the Tigers with a 42-41 lead.

THEN DUCO and Thompson exchanged field goals, and Flesch scored a layup to give Wellsville a 46-43 lead with 4:39 left in the game. The Tigers stayed in front the rest of the way.

The Crusaders outrebounded Wellsville, 33-28, and managed to get off six more shots. But Wellsville hit 21 of 55 from the floor for 38 per cent, compared to 22 of 61 for 36 per cent by Central.

FLESCH delivered eight field goals and four of six free throws to top Wellsville's attack. The Tigers made up a deficit of one in total field goals by pouring in 15 of 18 foul shots to swing the verdict.

Jim Ricci led Central with 12 points.

In the preliminary, the Wellsville Reserves were beaten by Central, 42-34, as Ralph Carapellotti scored 18 points for the winners. Lester Bennett bagged 15 for Coach Chick McMillan's Tigers, now 10-3.

Vikings Tally 33 In 2nd Period

The Review Sports
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1963 PAGE 29

The Newell Vikings came up with one of their hottest nights of the season by shooting 51 per cent to turn back Salineville, 87-50, Tuesday night at the Wells High gym.

The Vikings, who posted their 14th win against three setbacks, scored a blistering 33 points in the second quarter to completely break the game wide open.

Sam Simmons, who rates as one of the leading scorers in the district, pushed in 25 points on nine field goals and seven of eight fouls.

Newell's 51 per cent shooting mark came on 35 of 69 attempts while Salineville hit 26 per cent.

The Newell reserves captured the preliminary battle with a 50-45 victory over Salineville. Smith scored 17 and Neil Rayle 12 to pace the young Vikings while Marvin Jones had 10 markers for the Indians.

Balanced Attack Pays Off

Cumberland Posts 12th Win At Sherrard, 63-57

Receiving good all-around scoring from four starters, New Cumberland pulled away in the closing minutes to register a 63-57 victory at Sherrard Tuesday night.

The victory pushed New Cumberland's record to 12-5 for the season.

A tight battle all the way, Coach John Kuzio's club was locked in a 9-9 first period tie and fell behind 26-25 at halftime only to take a 44-43 edge at the end of three quarters.

The overall balance paid off for the Raiders as Ken Freshwater led the way into the double figures with 19. 6-foot-3 Dennis Carnes tallied 14, Bill Manley 13 and Jim Bruskey 10.

Freshwater and Carnes led the fourth quarter action with seven and six points respectively.

The New Cumberland reserves won, 37-23.

Westgaters Even Score With Tigers

Westgate's ninth graders exacted revenge on Wellsville for a defeat earlier this year but had to repell a strong second half rally by the Tigers to win, 38-37, Tuesday at Westgate.

Coach Dan Fisher's charges rolled up a 23-9 halftime lead, then saw Wellsville explode to trail by only two points at the end of three quarters.

Kuzma's Leopards Gain 9th In Row

By ANDY NUZZO

Tuesday night belonged to Bill Sallis. The 6-2 senior put on a brilliant display of scoring and rebounding to lead the Midland Leopards to a 76-45 romp over the Beaver Bobcats at Midland.

Some 1,100 fans were on hand to see Hank Kuzma's quint run up their ninth straight win in Section 8 and their 26th straight over a three-year period.

THE LOSS dropped Jim Cutri's 'Cats into a third place tie with the Monaca Indians.

The game was marred by fouls. Officials called 44 personal fouls, 29 on Beaver and 15 on Midland. The Leopards attempted a season high of 43 free throws and made a season high of 28. Both teams shot a total of 66 free throws.

SALLIS played the finest game of his high school career, meshing nine field goals and 12 of 16 free throws for 30 points. He did another yeoman job on the boards, pulling down 21 rebounds.

In the opening period he garnered 13 of Midland's 20 points and by halftime had piled up 21 markers.

In the third period he was forced to ride the bench because of three personal fouls he picked up in the first two quarters.

HE PLAYED less than eight minutes of the final two periods but still managed to toss nine markers through the hoop.

Sophomore Sim Hill followed Sallis in the scoring department. He swished two fielders and six of seven free throws for 10 points. He backed up Sallis on the boards, collecting 14 stray shots.

JUNIOR center Ned Russell led the Beaver scoring attack with nine points, all coming from the foul line. He also led the Bobcat rebounders, pulling in 10.

The Leopards hit 35 per cent of their shots from the field, canning 24 of 69 field goal attempts. Beaver had a dismal shooting performance. The Bobcats hit on only 15 of 74 attempts for a cool 20 per cent.

—:—

BEAVER held the lead only once in the entire game. In the first quarter Stilley threw in a free throw to put the Bobcats ahead, 7-6, with some five minutes left.

Gary Perkins came back with a jumper from the side and Sallis threw in three baskets to get the Leopards off and running. Beaver never came any closer than seven points the rest of the night.

In the preliminary, Ed Olkowski's Midland reserves ended the 11-game winning skein of Pete Kane's Beaver subs by a 39-30 count. The win was sweet revenge for an earlier season loss dealt the Leopard Jayvees, in overtime, at Beaver.

Leading the way for the Leopards were Ted Vaughn and Bill Haggerty, who scored nine and eight points respectively. Rick Trent and Bob Mateer scored 25 of the 30 Beaver Jayvee points. Trent swished 13 and Mateer 12.

On Friday the Leopards will entertain the Freedom Bulldogs.

Post-Season Tourneys Eye Possible Candidates Now

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the time of the year the men who run the big post-season basketball tournaments are sorting out potential candidates for the classics. And the potential candidates are out to make sure they are included in tourney plans.

It will be a couple of weeks before NCAA and National Invitation tournament officials start naming names for the March affairs. The NCAA will have room for 10 independent teams in its coast-to-coast extravaganza, to go with the 15 conference entries. The NIT will have 12 spots for independent squads and conference clubs.

Three independents kept in the tournament running Monday night. Providence rapped Massachusetts 80-61, Marquette romped against Tampa 82-60 and Miami of Florida outscored Jacksonville of Florida 112-105.

On the conference front: Texas maintained its perfect Southwest record, drubbing Texas A&M 70-59; West Virginia took firmer control of the Southern Conference lead with a comeback 79-76 victory at Virginia Tech; Morehead pushed further ahead in the Ohio Valley by beating Western Kentucky 81-71; and Temple stayed alive in the Middle Atlantice race, walloping Muhlenberg 98-64.

Rice took sole possession of second place at 4-2, trimming Baylor 62-54; Southern Methodist beat Texas Christian 92-80; and Texas Tech downed Arkansas 80-75 in other Southwest games.

Elsewhere—Kansas blitzed Oklahoma 86-55 in the Big Eight as Jayhawk sophomore George Unseld netted 31 points; Joe Adamitis collected 21 points and 24 rebounds in George Washington's 81-69 Southern Conference victory over VMI; Clemson won its fifth in a row, clouting South Carolina 80-61 in the Atlantic Coast Conference; and Richmond ended a losing streak at six games by knocking off Loyola of New Orleans 64-56.

New AAU-NCAA Tiff Seen Over Sanctions

By The Associated Press

The crack in the true agreement among the rival U.S. track and field bodies seemed to be widening into a chasm today with an apparent showdown developing over sanctioning privileges.

It appeared that nothing short of another head-to-head session under arbiter Gen. Douglas MacArthur could get the warring parties back toward a settlement, thought to have been reached over the negotiation table in New York less than three weeks ago.

The signs of a forced showdown turned up Tuesday when the college - backed United States Track and Field Federation disclosed that it had offered its official sanction to the Los Angeles Times indoor meet Saturday night and said it would consider similar overtures one at a time as the season progresses. The move came in the wake of the Big Six Conference's announcement that it would not allow its athletes to compete in the meet, already sanctioned by the AAU, unless it was sanctioned by the federation.

In Washington, Col. Don Hull, executive director of the AAU, said if federation sanction was accepted by the director of the Los Angeles meet, the AAU would be forced to withdraw its own sanction. Although any moves on actions that would jeopardize full competition are forbidden by the MacArthur agreement of Jan. 19, AAU withdrawal could lead again to widespread suspensions — ordered by the AAU against athletes who competed in three federation-sanctioned meets last fall.

Except for the Big Six, the nation's other college conferences have permitted their athletes to compete in the AAU indoor meets since the MacArthur agreement was announced. A general NCAA boycott was lifted after the agreement was reached. 2 South Side Matmen Gain Falls In Loss

Decisions were picked up by the Rams' Bob Rice who scored a 13-6 win in the 120-pound match; John W. McLaughlin, 8-6 in the 127-pound bout and Joe Tellish (154) with a 11-2 victory.

South Side will play host to Trinity High Friday night.

2 Xavier U. Cagers Are Cited For Grades

They were identified Tuesday as Mike McMahon, a senior forward from Waterloo, Iowa, and Fred Foster, a sophomore guard from Fort Thomas, Ky. Foster said he would withdraw from Xavier.

West Virginia's basketball team has won 20 or more games in the last seven seasons.

2 South Side Matmen Gain Falls In Loss

South Side's wrestling team dropped its sixth decision in nine outings this season, 26-21, at Avella Tuesday night.

In defeat two South Side wrestlers — Bob Tellish and Wilbert King recorded two first period falls. Tellish threw his opponent in 1:16 of the 138-pound match and King (180) polished off his foe in 1:41.

Decisions were picked up by the Rams' Bob Rice who scored a 13-6 win in the 120-pound match; John W. McLaughlin, 8-6 in the 127-pound bout and Joe Tellish (154) with a 11-2 victory.

South Side will play host to Trinity High Friday night.

2 Xavier U. Cagers Are Cited For Grades

They were identified Tuesday as Mike McMahon, a senior forward from Waterloo, Iowa, and Fred Foster, a sophomore guard from Fort Thomas, Ky. Foster said he would withdraw from Xavier.

West Virginia's basketball team has won 20 or more games in the last seven seasons.

Injury Puts ? On Tigers Frank Lary

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lary, a 23-game winner in 1961 when the Tigers finished second, was hampered by the sore arm last year. The injury limited him to 14 starts and his won-lost record was a dismal 2-6 as Detroit dropped to fourth place.

Lary, who will be 32 in April, will report to Lakeland Monday and attempt to work his arm back into shape.

The Yankee nemesis—he boasts a 28-11 lifetime record against them—will be allowed to get into condition without the formality of signing a contract.

The popular Hodges, who will be 39 opening day, hit .252 in 54 games in 1962 after an illustrious National League career with the Dodgers. He said that the knee feels pretty good and he has been fastening weights to the leg.

Nicklaus Big Favorite In Phoenix Golf

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus will be one of the big favorites in the $35,000 Open golf tournament, starting Thursday, and therein lies proof of what a great change one short year can make in a young man's life.

When the blond youngster hauled his massive 200-pound frame into the Arizona desert country for this tourney 12 months ago, he was a neophyte pro of only three months.

He had averaged $250 a week in his first five tournaments, pretty fair wages for most folks, but he had yet to collect a really large check.

He cashed his first big one—$2,300—by finishing in a four-way tie for second at Phoenix and in a few fast months was named with veterans Arnold Palmer and Gary Player as golf's "big three."

Jack the giant's official winnings last year totaled $61,868, topped only by Palmer and Gene Littler. By adding $51,064 in unofficial but very cashable checks —including $50,000 for beating Palmer and Player in the world series of golf—Nicklaus topped them all in over-all dough for play with $112,933.59.

Nicklaus also whipped Palmer in a playoff for the U.S. Open championship and just two days ago routed Player in an extra round for $9,000 top money at Palm Springs.

The Arizona Country Club's flat fairly wide open course, which plays to a par of 72 over 6,697 yards, should be made to order for the long-hitting Ohioan, just turned 23.

Cleveland Areas Get Warning On Clogged Waters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State health officials have warned eight Cleveland suburbs that they should show interest in plans to help clear the clogged waters of the Cuyahoga River.

If the communities don't show by local council resolutions that they will help finance the program they may find themselves explaining why not to the State Water Pollution Control Board.

The board's secretary, G. A. Hall, so advised the communities in a letter made public Tuesday. Cuyahoga County officials have recommended—and the state has endorsed—a $3 million valley interceptor project to help clear the Cuyahoga. The project would collect pollution from the water and channel it to disposal facilities.

The communities, which would be required to help finance the project, are Independence, Maple Heights, Broadview Heights, Walton Hills, Valley View, Brecksville, Brooklyn Heights and Garfield Heights.

Ohio Cancer Fund Chairman Appointed

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Charles A. Doan, director of medical research at Ohio State University, was named today to head the $2 million fund-raising drive in April of the American Cancer Society in Ohio.

Dr. Doan's appointment was announced by Dr. Wilford D. Nusbaum of Lancaster, American Cancer Society Ohio Division president.

Swimming Contest Set For 'Y' Pool

Pittsburgh to East Liverpool down river swim. That heading is somewhat misleading, however, the idea is basically sound.

While swimmers aren't expected to really swim from Pittsburgh to East Liverpool via the Ohio River, they will be required to swim the same distance.

The total length of the swim will be 48 miles, which will be 4,244 lengths in the East Liverpool YMCA pool. Every member of the "Y" who can swim at least one length of the pool will be eligible to take part in this event, which is set-up to promote swimming.

Ten to fifteen minutes will be set up in each class session for this purpose. During the period allotted, each swimmer will swim as many lengths as he or she can.

Adults may swim toward this goal each time they wish to participate. Each swimmer will receive credit for the total number of lengths they swim.

In the class competition the total number of lengths completed by all swimmers will be added to promote competition between the classes.

Bethany Eyes Upset Trail At Duquesne

PITTSBURGH — Bethany College, the first basketball competitor faced by Duquesne University in its first season in 1914, and the Dukes will meet here tonight after a 33-year absence of games between the two teams.

Duquesne leads the Bisons in the series, 13 games to 6. The two teams have not met since 1930. The first inter - collegiate basketball game of Duquesne was against Bethany on Jan. 15, 1914.

Bethany, with a 9 and 1 record this season and a 17 and 1 mark last season, is 4th in the nation among the nation's small colleges in the winning margin column, according to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Bisons rank 18th in team field goal shooting, 24th in team offense and 32nd in team defense, the NAIA reported. The Bisons are led by their big center, Phil Harrison, a junior from Pomeroy, Ohio, and their mite guard, Rick Cipullo, of Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Forty - three players saw action with the Houston Colt .45's in their first season in the National League.

Swimming Contest Set For 'Y' Pool

Pittsburgh to East Liverpool down river swim. That heading is somewhat misleading, however, the idea is basically sound.

While swimmers aren't expected to really swim from Pittsburgh to East Liverpool via the Ohio River, they will be required to swim the same distance.

The total length of the swim will be 48 miles, which will be 4,244 lengths in the East Liverpool YMCA pool. Every member of the "Y" who can swim at least one length of the pool will be eligible to take part in this event, which is set-up to promote swimming.

Ten to fifteen minutes will be set up in each class session for this purpose. During the period allotted, each swimmer will swim as many lengths as he or she can.

Adults may swim toward this goal each time they wish to participate. Each swimmer will receive credit for the total number of lengths they swim.

In the class competition the total number of lengths completed by all swimmers will be added to promote competition between the classes.

Every swimmer who completed a total of 88 lengths (one mile) during the swim will receive a ribbon for their efforts. The swim will be conducted only during the months of February and March.

Bethany Eyes Upset Trail At Duquesne

PITTSBURGH — Bethany College, the first basketball competitor faced by Duquesne University in its first season in 1914, and the Dukes will meet here tonight after a 33-year absence of games between the two teams.

Duquesne leads the Bisons in the series, 13 games to 6. The two teams have not met since 1930. The first inter - collegiate basketball game of Duquesne was against Bethany on Jan. 15, 1914.

Bethany, with a 9 and 1 record this season and a 17 and 1 mark last season, is 4th in the nation among the nation's small colleges in the winning margin column, according to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The Bisons rank 18th in team field goal shooting, 24th in team offense and 32nd in team defense, the NAIA reported. The Bisons are led by their big center, Phil Harrison, a junior from Pomeroy, Ohio, and their mite guard, Rick Cipullo, of Wilkinsburg, Pa.

Forty - three players saw action with the Houston Colt .45's in their first season in the National League.

New Sheriff Named For Cuyahoga County

CLEVELAND (AP)—James J. McGettrick, a Rocky River attorney elected to his eighth term in the Ohio House of Representatives last November, is the new sheriff of Cuyahoga County.

He was named to the $12,800-a-year job Tuesday night by the County Democratic Central Committee and Executive Board to succeed Joseph M. Sweeney, who died Jan. 25. McGettrick, 44, said he will resign his house seat.

Stroke Fatal At 89

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: We dry cleaners associations have had to contend with the "fish" odor problems in cottons for the past five years. This question has appeared in your column before.

As of this writing, not one of the dry cleaning research laboratories has been able to come up with a solution as to how it can be removed.

I am enclosing the answer from a fabric news bulletin which gives a more complete explanation of this problem.

DEAR FOLKS: Here is the news on fabrics from the professional dry cleaners on removing those offensive odors from fabrics.

"A large portion of today's modern fabrics are given some finishing treatment during manufacturing. This is done so that they will have some special property, such as dimensional stability, resistance to spots, stains, wrinkle resistance and so forth.

"Under conditions of heat, (body temperature and heat involved in dry cleaning) and moisture (perspiration and steam in finishing), fabrics finished with carbamide resins of urea or melamine type may tend to give off an offensive odor described as being "fishy."

"The development of this odor can be traced to an inefficient 'curing' of the resin on the fabrics or to a breakdown of the components of the resin.

"When the odor develops as described above, it usually cannot be removed.

"It is strongly recommended that garments affected in this manner be returned to the manufacturer since the odor is inherent in the fabric.

Novel Pillows

DEAR HELOISE: A few years back a friend of mine gave me an old fur coat (as she knew I loved to make something out of nothing). It happened to be a black seal-dyed fur. I ripped out the lining.

Then I measured and cut pieces to make squares for sofa cushions and pillows.

I overcast the seams on the cushions by handstitching very carefully — even doubling the thread and doubling the stitching by going back over it the second time from the opposite direction.

I cleaned the fur well and it looked as good as new.

I put these on my sofa and they look real nice and are so cozy!

At rummage sales and thrift shops it is sometimes possible to find old fur coats that would be ideal for this purpose. These pillows can be covered with fur on one side and any kind of material you prefer on the other.

One might have to do a little piecing on an old fur depending on the size and condition of the fur coat used. But it seldom ever shows if the pieces are carefully and securely sewn. After they are made up, one can carefully brush them occasionally.

Sincerely,
FIRN STATION.

P.S.: Those who don't have any old fur coats to rip up could use imitation furs bought at remnant counters!

HELOISE.

Tasty Fish Sticks

DEAR HELOISE: It finally dawned on me, while reading the paper today, that I should share a little novelty which our family thoroughly enjoys.

It's fish sticks! But not the plain old fish sticks that we usually serve to our family . . . regulation style.

I buy a box of fish sticks, and while they are still frozen, I take my sharpest knife and cut them into little squares. I then lay these on a cookie sheet which has been lined with foil and put it in my oven. My family likes fish sticks cooked a little bit longer than the directions on the package state. We find that this makes them crisp.

For variations some nights, I slice stuffed olives into thin slivers which I lay on top of each little square bite. It's quick, it's easy to eat, it's cheap and it's different!

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Can Slim Down Heavy Spots

Pounds are so contrary. Excess fat invariably settles in the most conspicuous spots. If you think of fat as parking on the muscle lazy areas, you'll get the general picture. Sitting upholsters the hips, if you sit too many hours a day.

Ida Jean Kain

Can exercise shift the fat that pads hips and waist to some more flattering place? Well, not exactly. Walking and specific exercises can keep the fat from settling. Exercise is toning. Fat and muscle cannot occupy the same spot. By restoring tone to the figure controlling muscles, you look slimmer and measure slimmer.

On the reducing score: Exercise is no match for excess calories. The most direct way to reduce is to cut daily food intake. You don't have to "diet" in the strict sense of the word. Diets are apt to be so temporary!

JUST DECIDE in your own mind to leave off second helpings and make it a point to finish a meal with fruit in place of a fattening dessert.

It is well to make this decision before you sit down to the table, and before you are faced with the dessert.

It's fairly easy to trim off 500 calories a day. If this calorie trimming establishes a calorie deficit, nature is forced to draw on stored fat to make up for needed fuel. This small, but regular calorie subtraction can amount to one pound a week weight loss.

Ah yes, but will the fat come off the hips and waist? Nature uses calories generally, not from specific spots. However, with exercise the weight has a better chance of coming off those places because of improved ciruclation in those areas.

Tone the muscles of the hips, stretch and bend to slim the waist, and those spots will be measurably slimmer. And since toned muscles rebuff fat, with exercise you are more likely to keep your slimmer lines.

To restore tone to a particular muscle group, the action must be directed through the muscles which control the measurement. To reach the big hip muscles, for example, a leg swinging exercise must carry the swing past a 45 degree angle.

THE FOLLOWING exercise puts the principle into practice...

TV Set Removed In Entry At Store

The 19-inch Olympic table model was taken from Adkins Discount House, 1910 Harvey Ave., sometime between 10:30 p. m. Monday and 9 a. m. yesterday, officers said.

The intruder gained entrance by using a large stone to smash a 60-x-30-inch plate glass in a rear door adjoining the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks, police said. The burglar carried the TV set and a brass - colored stand outside, then apparently changed his mind and left the stand near the door, officers said.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, who investigated, filed a report at 11:07 a.m. yesterday. He said the stone used to break the glass in the door was found on the ground at the rear of the building.

20 Attend Meetings On County Planning

LISBON — About 20 attended two committee meetings on the proposed regional Planning Commission Monday evening in the County Extension Service offices.

One committee discussed problems the commission might work on and reasons for establishing a commission and the other on recommendations to be made to county commissioners and the general plan for work of the commission.

The two committees will meet Feb. 11 to go over their reports and will then complete its work as a study committee. This meeting will also be held in the County Extension service office at 8 p. m.

YOU BOSS THIS MILL

You are a consumer.

You buy automobiles, pots and pans, toasters, kitchen sinks, flatware, washers, dryers, lawnmowers, golf clubs and thousands of other items made of or by steel.

Some of that steel is made in this mill — Midland Works — by your friends and neighbors — Crucible employes who produce steel which their customers make into the products you buy. These customers demand quality steel, because you insist on a quality product when you buy. That's why, to a great extent, you determine our business. You help keep our steel mill running and provide 6,000 jobs in the process.

Ah yes, but will the fat come off the hips and waist? Nature uses calories generally, not from specific spots. However, with exercise the weight has a better chance of coming off those places because of improved ciruclation in those areas.

Tone the muscles of the hips, stretch and bend to slim the waist, and those spots will be measurably slimmer. And since toned muscles rebuff fat, with exercise you are more likely to keep your slimmer lines.

To restore tone to a particular muscle group, the action must be directed through the muscles which control the measurement. To reach the big hip muscles, for example, a leg swinging exercise must carry the swing past a 45 degree angle.

Or, the principle of isometric contraction can be used. This means in effect, to pit one set of muscles against another...call it tug-of-muscle.

THE FOLLOWING exercise puts the principle into practice...

TV Set Removed In Entry At Store

The 19-inch Olympic table model was taken from Adkins Discount House, 1910 Harvey Ave., sometime between 10:30 p. m. Monday and 9 a. m. yesterday, officers said.

The intruder gained entrance by using a large stone to smash a 60-x-30-inch plate glass in a rear door adjoining the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks, police said. The burglar carried the TV set and a brass - colored stand outside, then apparently changed his mind and left the stand near the door, officers said.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith, who investigated, filed a report at 11:07 a.m. yesterday. He said the stone used to break the glass in the door was found on the ground at the rear of the building.

20 Attend Meetings On County Planning

LISBON — About 20 attended two committee meetings on the proposed regional Planning Commission Monday evening in the County Extension Service offices.

One committee discussed problems the commission might work on and reasons for establishing a commission and the other on recommendations to be made to county commissioners and the general plan for work of the commission.

The two committees will meet Feb. 11 to go over their reports and will then complete its work as a study committee. This meeting will also be held in the County Extension service office at 8 p. m.

Parks Group Meeting Set

LISBON — The annual meeting of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council will be held March 28, according to Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, chairman. The place will be announced later.

The group, formed at a public meeting held in November 1960, has been active in promoting the park areas in the county.

It consists of 25 residents elected at the annual meeting. Representatives of all interested organizations and individuals were urged to attend the meeting.

The purpose of the council is to co-ordinate the efforts, plans and programs of groups and individuals interested in the state forest, parks and wildlife areas in the county and to promote public interest and action in their development.

Cash contributions for support of the work of the council have been made by a number of individuals, the Salem Hunting Club, Inc., and the County Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs. Envelopes and letterheads were donated by the Wilson Printing Co. of East Liverpool. Contributions are also being received for restoration of Gaston's Mill in Beaver Creek State Park, including the East Liverpool Historical Society and the New Waterford Fish and Game Club auxiliary.

Organizations and individuals may send contributions to the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council, Lisbon, for either restoration of the mill, or to meet expenses of the council, but the intended use should be indicated.

Other officers of the group are Steve Barborak of West Point, vice chairman, and Floyd Lower of Lisbon, secretary-treasurer.

Judge's Ruling Due In Conspiracy Trial

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—U.S. District Court Judge Frank L. Kloeb was expected to rule today on motions to dismiss the charges against a top United Auto Workers official and two others on trial for conspiracy.

Attorneys for the defendants filed the motions Tuesday after the government concluded its case against Richard T. Gosser, 62, UAW vice president; Don Pinciotti, 40, his administrative assistant, and Ted Maison, 44, described by authorities as a numbers racket figure. The three are accused of tampering with files in the Toledo office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Dismissal of the charges was sought on grounds of insufficient evidence and entrapment.

Quartet Group Launches Sale Of Tickets To Annual Parade

The advance ticket sale for the 14th annual parade was announced at the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Elks Club ballroom.

Dick Smith, chairman, said members may be reached for tickets with the deadline Feb. 25. The remaining tickets will then be placed at the stores.

Glenn Hart, president, conducted business. Don Schussler, parade chairman, announced the performances are slated for 8 p. m. March 30 and 2:30 March 31 at Westgate School. The afterglow will follow the first show.

He said Joe McMullen, athletic director of Akron University, will be master of ceremonies. The Sta-Laters, 1961 district champions, were added to the program.

Bill Thomas read the minutes and Sam Wolfe, the financial report.

Bill Brooks reported on the first session of the novice quartet contest to be held next Monday. The champions will be selected March 4 and their registration fee and expenses will be paid for the regional contest of the Johnny Appleseed District April 5-7 at Charleston.

The group adopted the recommended international resolution to divide the 1963 chorus competition when four regions will be named. The local chorus will participate in the South Central Region, with the contest slated Sept. 28 at Newark, Ohio. The two top chapters will compete at Columbus in November.

A letter of thanks was read from the music department of the high school for the recent assembly the chapter presented.

Sen. Young Proposes Pay Hike For GI's

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mr. Average G.I.—who's moaned for years that he is underpaid—has a vocal supporter in Congress.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D — Ohio, took the floor of the Senate Tuesday to complain that rookie truck drivers and policemen often get more pay than 20-year veterans in the armed forces.

Young spoke in favor of an administration bill which would raise military pay an average of 14 per cent. It would be the first military pay raise in five years.

Young noted that civilian government workers have had two raises since 1958.

Road Survey Halts In GOP Examination

Work on preliminary surveys of highway projects at Wellsville and Toronto were stopped Monday by State Highway Director P. E. Masheter, who issued a far-reaching order halting all highway construction projects contracted during the latter part of the DiSalle administration.

Earl W. Nelson, Division 11 deputy director at New Philadelphia, said Tuesday the area projects involved were a preliminary survey of the bypass of Route 7 through Wellsville, which has been under consideration for years, and the relocation of Route 7 through Toronto.

The administration expects to take a "new look" at the construction program and probably re-schedule some of the projects, Nelson commented.

Masheter had announced at Columbus the firms were asked to delay work so they wouldn't run up any costs. Involved over the state were some $150 million worth of highway contracts.

Nelson also commented that 22 persons have been released from highway jobs in Division 11.

Ed Elgin, administrative assistant to Nelson, said no changes have been made in personnel in Columbiana County, but pointed out "no doubt there will be."

He said no "wholesale" changes will be made, but cuts are in order for economy purposes.

Those that have been let out were in administrative and maintenance departments.

Pennsylvania Truck Driver's Life Saved

Adams tried to arouse Henry Ridnour, 43, of Ambridge, Pa., and called firemen when he failed. Ridnour was taken to Middletown hospital and released after treatment for carbon monoxide poisoning. Firemen said the fumes apparently came from a cab heater.

Family Visits At Salineville

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Strabley and daughter, Betty Lou, of Lisbon were weekend guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Strabley and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Davis of W. Main St., Salineville.

Salineville visitors at East Liverpool Saturday were Mrs. Erma Sweeney, Miss Marilyn Sweeney, Mrs. Helen James, Miss Ann Johnson, Mrs. Louise Johnson, Miss Marilyn Siegler, Miss Marguerite Burns, Miss Edna Kirk, Miss Ada Kirk and Mrs. Mary Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fidoe of Canton were Sunday guests of his mother, Mrs. Maude Fidoe of W. Main St.

Mrs. Carl Devitt and children of Summitville visited here Saturday.

Paper Publishes Fiancee's Letter To Dr. Sheppard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A German divorcee who says she is Dr. Sam Sheppard's fiancee isn't supposed to write to the former Bay Village osteopath, who is in jail for killing his wife. But where there's a will, there's a way—especially if a newspaper cooperates.

Mrs. Ariane Tebbenjohanns asked the Columbus Dispatch to publish a letter to Sheppard, and the newspaper complied—on the front page.

The three-paragraph letter appeared in full in Tuesday's Dispatch, closing with, "And you be a good boy, darling, as always—I am always at your side. All my love—yours, Ariane."

Mrs. Tebbenjohanns said she asked the Dispatch to print the letter as the only way she could get in touch with Sheppard. Maury C. Koblentz, state correction commissioner, has barred her at least temporarily from corresponding with the convicted wife - slayer, who is now in Marion Correctional Institution.

Koblentz, however, announced Tuesday that he has written Dr. Steve Sheppard, brother of Dr. Sam, asking for a conference here Friday to discuss some of the recent aspects of the case.

Ohio Economist Urges Tax Slash, Cut In Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio economist has urged a joint Senate-House Economic Committee to adopt President Kennedy's tax reduction proposals. But he also has suggested a cut in federal spending.

William F. Hellmuth, professor of economics at Oberlin College, was one of three university economists appearing Tuesday before the congressional group.

Hellmuth questioned whether President Kennedy's tax cut proposal "is not too little and too late or too slow." He recommended the first and second stage of the President's three-year tax cut proposal be combined into a single big first step effective this year.

The New York Mets have 13 infielders on their roster and seven of them play second base.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: My letter will sound like a soap opera but every word is true.

I'm a widow, 27, with an 8-year-old son. I have no relatives that I know of, having been raised in an orphanage.

My husband was killed in a hunting accident three years. His parents, who are well-to-do and socially prominent, live in another city.

The last time I saw them was at my husband's funeral. They have shown no interest in me or their grandchild, not even a letter to inquire how we are getting along. I'm sure they wish to ignore us because Danny is retarded.

I attend night school and work part time as a stenographer. I'm unable to hold a regular job because of Danny. My pastor and doctor are aware of the physical strain and the financial struggle. They have suggested I put Danny in an institution. I don't want to do it. Danny needs my love and, besides, he's all I have.

Shall I write my father-in-law (whom I haven't seen or heard from in three years) and ask for financial help? I don't want to beg for charity but what can I do?—ELLEN.

Dear Ellen: You can do as your pastor and doctor advise. I suspect you are hanging on to your child for your sake, rather than his. It may well be that Danny would be happier in an institution.

Your in-laws have demonstrated they have no interest in you or your son. This is about as low as people can get and I would not demean myself by asking such heartless clods for help.

Day Dreamer

Dear Ann: I'm a wife and mother, married 10 years and approaching 34. Maybe if I see this letter in print the pure disgust of it will cure me.

I've been day dreaming about a former sweetheart whom I have not seen in 11 years. The day dreaming started about six months ago when I heard "our" song on the radio. I just sat there like a ninny and all the warm memories washed over me like a glorious wave. Now I can't seem to get the guy out of my mind.

The old boy friend was a heel. Morally he isn't fit to shine my husband's shoes and nobody knows this better than I do. How can I shake this shameful, adolescent habit? — LOOSE BOLT.

Dear Bolt: The one who got away always looks better. In fact they look better "away" than they ever did when they were there.

Double Check

Dear Ann: I'm making this easy for you because I know you have a lot of letters to read. Just put a check mark in either one of the boxes below. One is marked YOU PAY. The other is marked SHE PAYS.

My cleaning lady is the dumbest cluck who ever lived. She has worked for me six years, which entitles me to a medal for patience.

Yesterday she overloaded my washing machine. (She said she was trying to save soap.) The motor is now burned out and the repair bill is going to be a lulu.

Is she responsible and should I insist that she pay? Or do I pay? —Thank you. — CRAZY CATHERINE.

Dear Catherine: If it's legal advice you want, see a lawyer. If it's my opinion you want, I am checking, YOU PAY.

Everyone who employs help expects broken glassware, knickknacks and appliances over a period of time. (And, would you believe it, some women actually break things themselves!)

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Talkative Child Should Be Restrained

Many children do not talk enough. But a mother writes from Illinois about her daughter, six, an only child, who talks excessively: "Pam was about two years old before she really started talking. But when she did, she talked like an adult, using a good vocabulary, full sentences and would talk to anyone. She never knew a stranger, and people thoroughly enjoyed her as she was so cheerful and enthusiastic. As she grew older, her talking increased more and more until, at the age of five, she seemed to talk constantly and still does.

Dr. Garry Meyers

"SHE DEMANDS the floor at all times and raves and rants if she doesn't get her way. Her kindergarten and first grade teachers have had an endless problem with her talking.

"Shortly after starting to kindergarten she fought about having her face washed; it was war to brush her hair and she doesn't give a hoot about her clothes. She refuses to take care of her toys. She is always coaxing for new toys and if she gets them she refuses to play with them. Her table manners are a disgrace.

"Her teacher says she ignores supervision and fights when she is corrected. She will argue endlessly, always taking the negative side of the question, even when she knows it's wrong.

"She is very eager to go to school. Her first grade teacher is very pleasant but very firm. However, Pam didn't like her kindergarten teacher who was very lenient and did not have control of her class. Our family physician advises us that Pam is disgustingly healthy and is very bright."

My reply in part:

IN THE FIRST place you need to train that child at home to respect the little word No, which you should rarely say, but, when you do, say just once. If she doesn't obey this word, make her sit for 25 minutes, unamused, doing nothing, where you can see her.

If she leaves the chair too soon, paddle her soundly. See also that she conforms to a few family regulations and routines.

Work on her excessive talking at home.

At mealtime, for example, let her talk a minute or so, when you parents should be gracious, attentive listeners. Then require her to keep quiet until each of the rest of the family has an equal time to talk. If she continues talking, send her away from the family to finish her meal.

Follow the clock if necessary. While you won't want her talking always to be clocked, this may be necessary till she gets a relative sense of time and consideration of the rights of others.

WHILE YOU ARE working about the house, try to listen to her talking and converse companionably with her. Also answer her questions kindly and explain things to her.

But make sure she does not rudely interrupt you while you are talking to your husband or another person.

If she is unduly ugly when so restrained, assign her to a siege of sitting unamused, even in another room.

Don't give her nearly all the things she wants. Let her learn to curb her selfish ways. Don't let her tyrannize over you or anybody else in your presence. When all is well, try to have good times with her, you and Dad.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint", "The Very Selfish Child" and "The Nervous Child", may be secured by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Midland K. Of C. Social Planned

Plans for a pre-Lent social were outlined at the meeting of Midland Council 2006, Knights of Columbus, Monday night at the Kaycee home.

Dr. J. A. Helfrich will be chairman for the event to be held Feb. 26 in the lyceum of the Presentation Catholic Church.

Albert Barrasso, 52nd District deputy, and Herman Boyer, district warden, both of Beaver, paid an official visit at the meeting.

The lodge renewed its membership in the Chamber of Commerce and received a report on a dinner honoring Fr. Francis Paul held last week.

Angelo Cellini, grand knight, announced the Columbian Home Association, which governs the operation of the building, will meet Monday at 8 p. m.

Sheriff Reports 62 Jailed During January

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said a total of 62 prisoners were received at the County Jail during January, in addition to 29 already confined as of Jan. 1. During the month 58 prisoners were released and three were conveyed to state institutions. Four mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 166 visitors at the jail.

A total of 2,711 meals were served for a cost of $915.82, making the average daily expense per prisoner $1.

A total of 234 papers were served and 5,078 radio transmissions were handled, along with 1,192 phone calls at the jail. The sheriff's office at the Courthouse accepted nine sets of fox feet and ears for bounty and fees totaling $600.48 were collected.

Clevelander Fined

LISBON — Clyde Thorne, 34, of Cleveland was fined $5 and costs Monday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for driving without a muffler. His driver's license was suspended for 60 days for driving with plates issued to another vehicle. He was confined to the County Jail when unable to pay fine and costs.

Palestine Board Sets Specifications On Bus

EAST PALESTINE—The Board of Education of the East Palestine School District Monday night drew up specifications for a new 60-passenger bus for which offers will be received at the next meeting March 4.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: My letter will sound like a soap opera but every word is true.

I'm a widow, 27, with an 8-year-old son. I have no relatives that I know of, having been raised in an orphanage.

My husband was killed in a hunting accident three years. His parents, who are well-to-do and socially prominent, live in another city.

The last time I saw them was at my husband's funeral. They have shown no interest in me or their grandchild, not even a letter to inquire how we are getting along. I'm sure they wish to ignore us because Danny is retarded.

I attend night school and work part time as a stenographer. I'm unable to hold a regular job because of Danny. My pastor and doctor are aware of the physical strain and the financial struggle. They have suggested I put Danny in an institution. I don't want to do it. Danny needs my love and, besides, he's all I have.

Shall I write my father-in-law (whom I haven't seen or heard from in three years) and ask for financial help? I don't want to beg for charity but what can I do?—ELLEN.

Dear Ellen: You can do as your pastor and doctor advise. I suspect you are hanging on to your child for your sake, rather than his. It may well be that Danny would be happier in an institution.

Your in-laws have demonstrated they have no interest in you or your son. This is about as low as people can get and I would not demean myself by asking such heartless clods for help.

Day Dreamer

Dear Ann: I'm a wife and mother, married 10 years and approaching 34. Maybe if I see this letter in print the pure disgust of it will cure me.

I've been day dreaming about a former sweetheart whom I have not seen in 11 years. The day dreaming started about six months ago when I heard "our" song on the radio. I just sat there like a ninny and all the warm memories washed over me like a glorious wave. Now I can't seem to get the guy out of my mind.

The old boy friend was a heel. Morally he isn't fit to shine my husband's shoes and nobody knows this better than I do. How can I shake this shameful, adolescent habit? — LOOSE BOLT.

Dear Bolt: The one who got away always looks better. In fact they look better "away" than they ever did when they were there.

Double Check

Advertising is News

The many pages of this newspaper are full of news of many things. News of people and their doings in nearby places and to the far corners of the earth. And most recently in the upper reaches of outer space.

But there is another kind of news that you hold in your hands as you read a newspaper. Not the news of people but of products and services . . . the news in the advertisements.

It has often been said that the function of advertising is to improve the standard of living. It does have such a function. But it must start, necessarily, with the manufacturers who make the products.

What advertising does is to tell people about new and better things–and new features of established favorites and where they can be bought. In a very real sense, to increase demand and lead the way to lower prices. It is literally and actually true that practically everything you buy would cost you more if there were no advertising.

Without advertising to inform the public, there couldn't be mass production as we know it today, with all its economies and advantages. People can't buy things –or want things–unless they know they exist.

The big problem in this country at this moment, and likely to be a big problem for some time to come, is not so much over-production as under-consumption.

Advertising is the ideal technique for mass communication because it is the cheapest, quickest–and most responsible–way to reach the people.

An entire full-page advertisement, with a daily circulation of 17,170, costs a small fraction of the postage alone on a 4c postcard. Just think of the cost of addressing 17,170 postcards! And the time it would take!

It is a fact that advertising will speed up sales and create valuable good will for a brand or store. Witness the actual money value of any well-advertised, well-regarded name.

It is equally certain that back of that name, or that product, must be honesty, fair dealing and full value for the price.

There is a built-in penalty for every misrepresentation. Advertising an unworthy product or service simply means that a larger number of people will discover its disadvantages all the sooner.

This day, the advertisements will bring you important news of something you want or need and where to buy it . . . news, very often, that you could get in no other way or at the same low cost.

Problem Arose In Cuban Crisis

U.S. Hopes To Improve Communication To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whenever Dean Rusk, the secretary of state, has something urgent to tell to David Bruce, the U.S. ambassador to Britain, he can pick up the telephone and talk to the diplomat in London in seconds.

When the White House or the State Department has a message, coded or uncoded, for the embassy in London, it can send it by direct teletype.

Presently Rusk can do two things if he wants to send word to Foy D. Kohler, ambassador to Moscow. He may put through a long distance call—just as anyone else does who has some business in the Soviet capital, or he can send a coded cable through commercial channels. Once in Moscow, it may or may not be delivered promptly.

The problem of better communications with U.S. diplomatic missions around the world, and especially with Moscow, became an urgent issue during last fall's Cuban crisis when so much depended on fast and accurate exchanges with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

President Kennedy said at a recent news conference "speed is very desirable, so we are hoping we can get instantaneous communication" with Moscow.

There was immediate speculation that Kennedy had in mind a special telephone, a direct line between the White House and the Kremlin.

Nothing so dramatic was considered. Khrushchev does not speak English, and Kennedy does not speak Russian.

What Kennedy had in mind was much simpler: to send a message to Khrushchev—or, for that matter, to any other head of government—through normal diplomatic channels, but with a speed worthy of the nuclear age.

After the Cuban crisis Kennedy and Rusk gave orders that the State Department, together with other agencies, study what should be done to improve the situation.

The study—a hush-hush operation—is still going on. William H. Orrick Jr., deputy undersecretary of state for administration, is in charge. A group of communications experts from government agencies and private industry meets regularly behind doors guarded by Marines.

The United States made two suggestions to the Soviet Union. It proposed that the State Department be permitted to have a direct commercial leased wire to its Moscow embassy, and secondly, that the embassy be permitted to operate a radio transmitter.

Moscow has given no answer yet.

Problem Arose In Cuban Crisis

U.S. Hopes To Improve Communication To Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whenever Dean Rusk, the secretary of state, has something urgent to tell to David Bruce, the U.S. ambassador to Britain, he can pick up the telephone and talk to the diplomat in London in seconds.

When the White House or the State Department has a message, coded or uncoded, for the embassy in London, it can send it by direct teletype.

Presently Rusk can do two things if he wants to send word to Foy D. Kohler, ambassador to Moscow. He may put through a long distance call—just as anyone else does who has some business in the Soviet capital, or he can send a coded cable through commercial channels. Once in Moscow, it may or may not be delivered promptly.

The problem of better communications with U.S. diplomatic missions around the world, and especially with Moscow, became an urgent issue during last fall's Cuban crisis when so much depended on fast and accurate exchanges with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

President Kennedy said at a recent news conference "speed is very desirable, so we are hoping we can get instantaneous communication" with Moscow.

There was immediate speculation that Kennedy had in mind a special telephone, a direct line between the White House and the Kremlin.

Nothing so dramatic was considered. Khrushchev does not speak English, and Kennedy does not speak Russian.

What Kennedy had in mind was much simpler: to send a message to Khrushchev—or, for that matter, to any other head of government—through normal diplomatic channels, but with a speed worthy of the nuclear age.

After the Cuban crisis Kennedy and Rusk gave orders that the State Department, together with other agencies, study what should be done to improve the situation.

The study—a hush-hush operation—is still going on. William H. Orrick Jr., deputy undersecretary of state for administration, is in charge. A group of communications experts from government agencies and private industry meets regularly behind doors guarded by Marines.

The United States made two suggestions to the Soviet Union. It proposed that the State Department be permitted to have a direct commercial leased wire to its Moscow embassy, and secondly, that the embassy be permitted to operate a radio transmitter.

Moscow has given no answer yet.

In George's Corner

MAPLE DRIVE, CALCUTTA—You won't find anything nicer for $19,800 then this ranch type, 3 bedroom home. It is only 6 years old and like new condition. Lot is 100x169 ft., finished basement with completely tiled floor, all hardwood floors upstairs, separate dining room, custom kitchen, aluminum storm windows and screens, gas furnace and attached garage. One block from Calcutta school, and shopping. Don't just dream, lets go look.

If you inspect the house first you will put the value at close to $15,000, but our price is only $10,500 on this 2 story, frame home at 746 MINERVA STREET. New modern birch kitchen, all new wiring, completely remodeled inside, new gas furnace, refinished hardwood floors, tiled bath, and many other extras. Would even consider land contract with $1,000 down but better yet, pay $3,500 down and assume 4½% G.I. Loan with $57 payments including taxes and insurance.

Practically new 2 bedroom, 5 room and bath, 1 story home on 4th AVENUE in LACROFT, that costs over $13,000, for sale for just $10,000. Oil furnace, large lot, hardwood floors, excellent condition, like new, all storm windows and just 2 years old.

In George's Corner

MAPLE DRIVE, CALCUTTA—You won't find anything nicer for $19,800 then this ranch type, 3 bedroom home. It is only 6 years old and like new condition. Lot is 100x169 ft., finished basement with completely tiled floor, all hardwood floors upstairs, separate dining room, custom kitchen, aluminum storm windows and screens, gas furnace and attached garage. One block from Calcutta school, and shopping. Don't just dream, lets go look.

If you inspect the house first you will put the value at close to $15,000, but our price is only $10,500 on this 2 story, frame home at 746 MINERVA STREET. New modern birch kitchen, all new wiring, completely remodeled inside, new gas furnace, refinished hardwood floors, tiled bath, and many other extras. Would even consider land contract with $1,000 down but better yet, pay $3,500 down and assume 4½% G.I. Loan with $57 payments including taxes and insurance.

Practically new 2 bedroom, 5 room and bath, 1 story home on 4th AVENUE in LACROFT, that costs over $13,000, for sale for just $10,000. Oil furnace, large lot, hardwood floors, excellent condition, like new, all storm windows and just 2 years old.

Junior Editors Quiz on WIND

QUESTION: Where and why do the trade winds blow?

ANSWER: It's so hot at the equator that warm air is always rising up. As it does so, cold air blows down from the north to replace it. Wouldn't you think, then, that above the equator the prevailing winds would be from north to south, and below, from south to north? They would be, if it were not for the rotation of the earth, which (with north up) turns from west to east. The closer to the equator a point on earth is, the faster it spins around, a point on the equator itself moving eastward at more than 1000 miles an hour. Now look at the world 1, bottom. A wind starts to blow from north to south (arrow). But the earth is spinning so fast that by the time the wind gets to the equator it has blown in a path which starts from the northeast (world 2). Below the equator the effect is reversed; the wind's blow from these northeast and southeast directions to about 30 degrees north and south of the equator. Once the word "trade" meant track, or course. Early explorers called winds shown on the map "trade winds" because they blew so steadily in one direction. Trade winds were a great help to sailing ships.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a good job of cleaning my piano keys?

A. You can clean these very nicely with a soft cloth dipped in alcohol, or with a paste made by combining fine whiting with lemon juice. Wipe the keys clean with a damp cloth after each application.

Q. How can I add more life to my nylons?

A. By giving the hose a freezing treatment. Wet them, put them into a plastic bag, and place in a deep freeze or in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator. Take them out after they have frozen, and let them thaw. Then squeeze out, and hang up to dry.

Q. What is a good way to store the dough for my refrigerator rolls?

A. Try using an empty three-pound shortening can to store this dough. Unwashed, the can has just the right amount of shortening left in it to keep the dough from sticking, has its own cover, and does not take up nearly as much space in the refrigerator as would a mixing bowl of equal capacity.

Q. How can I stiffen the bristles of a hairbrush after washing it?

A. Dip the bristles into milk and water, using equal parts of each, then dry, preferably before a fire. Dipping the bristles into a strong solution of alum water is also effective.

Q. How can I keep cheese moist and free from mold for several days?

A. By wrapping the cheese in a cloth thoroughly saturated with vinegar.

Q. How can I keep meringue pie from falling?

A. The meringue will not fall if ¼-teaspoonful of baking soda is added to it.

Q. How can I remove crayon marks from a parchment - type lampshade?

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1900, Theodore Roosevelt, who was being mentioned as a possible vice presidential running mate with William McKinley on the Republican ticket, issued a statement in which he declared that he neither would, nor could, accept the nomination for the No. 2 spot. Four months later, however, Roosevelt accepted the nomination, and one year later he became president when McKinley died of wounds inflicted by an assassin.

On this day:

In 1867, the French evacuated Mexico.

In 1933, the 20th, or Lame Duck, Amendment to the Constitution took effect, setting forth that Congress meet every year on Jan. 3 and that the President take office every fourth year on Jan. 20.

In 1954, The Netherlands became the first country to ratify the European Defense Community Treaty.
